Dist. 21 incumbents Crise, Lane retain board seats

Dist. 21 school board incumbents Jeremiah Crise and Jack Lane will retain their seats for another three years, after soundly defeating their opponents in last Saturday's election.

Crise and Lane, both of Arlington Heights, each received more than twice as many votes as their nearest competitor. Carol Karzen, 430 Regent Dr., Buffalo Grove, Mrs. Karzen was the only candidate endorsed by the Dist. 21 General Caucus.

The final tally showed Crise with 577 votes, Lane with 575, Karzen with 269 and Alberts Viganis, also of Buffalo Grove, with 100 votes.

About 819 residents participated in the election, compared to 1,000 who cast ballots last year. Voting was heaviest at Alcott School in Buffalo Grove.

DIST. 21 Business Mgr. Jim Gochis said the Easter holiday probably was the reason for the relatively low turnout. Many persons were thought to have left town for the weekend.

Three write-in ballots were cast with David Templer, Mary Claire Noonan and Stanford Solomon each receiving one vote.

Crise will be embarking on his third term on the Dist. 21 board. Lane is beginning his second term.

The school board will conduct an organizational meeting at 8:15 p.m. tonight at the administration building, 999 W.

Incumbents Lace, Battaglia retain Dist. 23 board seats

Dist. 23 residents Saturday voted to retain incumbents Melvin Lace and Vincent Battaglia on the school board.

Unofficial totals showed Lace the leader in the race with 132 votes, Battaglia with 127 vote and challenger Robert Horna with 32 votes. One write-in vote was cast for Jo Elyn Claves.

Lace, 3 Garden Ct., Prospect Heights, was elected to his third three-year term while Battaglia, 2402 Northwood, Arlington Heights, will be serving his first full three-year term. Battaglia was elected to a one-year term last April.

Election officials said the voter turnout was light. Three ballots were found spoiled.

No heated issues marked the campaign. Lace and Battaglia said they were running on their records and wanted to see taxes remain low and communication between the board and the community increase.

HORNA, A TEACHER at Maine South High School, said he wanted to find out where the district was spending its money and lower the amount of tax anticipation warrants sold in the district.

Although the district encompasses Prospect Heights and parts of Wheeling, Mount Prospect and Arlington Heights, only one polling place, Anne Sullivan School in Prospect Heights, was designated for voting.

The board will conduct the official canvass of returns at its meeting next Monday, April 22, at 7:30 p.m. in the board offices, Schoenbeck and Palatine roads, Prospect Heights.

The board also will reorganize its leadership at the meeting by electing a president and secretary for the upcoming year. Lace is the current board president and has served in that post for five years. Lace and Battaglia will be sworn in at next Monday's meeting.

A Herald Staff report

High school and college students in search of summer jobs are apparently in for another rough year.

Employment prospects this summer are not expected to be good, according to a number of employment directors. Some business experts predict the increase in the minimum wage law authorized this week will make it more difficult for students to obtain temporary summer work. And if an increase occurs in the general unemployment rate as the summer approaches, it will mean an even greater deterioration in the temporary job market, a spokesman for the Illinois State Employment Service says.

"I doubt it will be very good," the spokesman said. "I'm not very optimistic about what the prospects might be. We still have a good many people looking for permanent jobs and they would be the ones who would probably be hired first."

Some summer openings are expected in most companies and early application is being urged, even though in many cases job inquiries have already far surpassed the number of positions likely to be available.

LOCALLY, FOR example, the summer application deadline at Northwest Community Hospital was March 1. "We have already had several hundred applications," public relations spokesman Ann Finney said.

Although summer positions at the hospital are available each year, she said most are filled by students who have worked for the hospital in the past.

The Schaumburg Park District's summer swimming pool jobs were all filled last month. Students began coming in as early as November for the openings. "Kids are coming in 'til they're coming out of our ears," a park district spokesman said.

The same problem exists in many villages and cities where too many applicants have already applied for summer jobs.

THE SITUATION is not quite so bleak in the manufacturing and retail areas, according to several local company personnel directors. They add, though, that the summer job market this year is not expected to improve greatly over last year.

"Our managers don't make their commitments until the end of May, but the picture is not encouraging, I'm afraid," according to Western Electric employment interviewer Irene MacLean. "It looks pretty grim. I have been accepting some applications from the first of the year, but I definitely tell the students when they come in that I can't promise them anything."

At Spotnails Inc. in Rolling Meadows, only about 10 to 20 openings are expected, according to Mildred Kobus, personnel director.

"We have traditionally hired a number of high school and college students each summer and we anticipate this year will be no different," she said. Applicants are usually encouraged to apply early since those who apply first are those considered first, she said.

THE MAJOR retail employer in the area, the Woodfield Shopping Center in Schaumburg is expected to have sales openings for the summer. Sears, Roebuck and Company, for example, sends a list of job openings to the Elk Grove Township YES service, which aids students in finding jobs. Many

Will new wage law cut teen jobs?

by KAREN BLECHA

Higher prices and teenage unemployment could be results of the new federal wage law that will raise the minimum wage to $2 an hour May 1 and to $2.30 an hour by 1976.

Business officials predict many summer jobs for teens will be eliminated, especially in restaurants that rely on young, cheap labor to make a profit. Labor leaders, however, say the wage hike will not create an increase in unemployment.

"This is going to ruin drive-in restaurants in my opinion," said Larry Buckmaster, director of the Chicago and Illinois Restaurant Assn. "Other restaurants will raise their prices. The increase will have to be passed on to the consumer because so many restaurants are just holding on now because of high food costs. The bad part is that they can raise prices only so high or the public will say it is cheaper to stay home. So we are caught in the squeeze."

U.S. REP. Philip Crane, R-12th, called the new law "a piece of well-intentioned legislation that would have the impact of throwing people out of work."

Chief judge expected to approve village hall site

Circuit Court branch to locate here

by TONI GINETTI

A second courtroom for the 2nd Cook County Circuit District Court is expected to be established in Wheeling.

Chief Judge of the 2nd District Harold Sullivan told The Herald Friday he would recommend to Circuit Court Chief Judge John Boyle that the second courtroom be established in the Wheeling Village Hall. Boyle is expected to approve the new court. Permission to use the village hall must also be confirmed by village officials, but because Wheeling has requested the courtroom facility before village approval is expected.

Parking facilities at the village hall would have to be increased to allow the courtroom, but Wheeling officials have indicated the parking could be provided if confirmation of the courtroom was received.

"We all think it would be well if we had more courtroom space and the space that we think would be most beneficial is the village hall in Wheeling," Sullivan said. "We feel that we might well be able to set up one there."

SULLIVAN SAID Wheeling court would hear traffic cases on Fridays from Wheeling and Buffalo Grove police. He added the selection of the site was needed because "there is no question that we need more court facilities."

Sullivan confirmed the selection decision hours after meeting with local chiefs of police to discuss overcrowded courtroom conditions in the area and presumably to decide on the second courtroom location.

Speculation had indicated that either Wheeling or the City of Rolling Meadows would be selected as the second courtroom location. Sullivan said Friday Wheeling was a more suitable location.

"We felt that the location of the Wheeling courtroom would be better because the problem of Wheeling and Buffalo Grove getting to Arlington Heights is much greater than Rolling Meadows getting to Arlington Heights," Sullivan said.

"Considered from that angle, it seems rather logical (to select Wheeling)."

ROLLING MEADOWS Police Chief Lewis R. Case said Friday he was pleased that the second facility would be established and said the Wheeling site would benefit the city even though Rolling Meadows was not selected for the court site.

"It will reduce the court time for us," Case said. Currently Wheeling, Buffalo Grove and Rolling Meadows traffic cases are all heard on the same day in court. "I'm happy," Case added.

Local police officials have of late become more vocal in their criticism of the overcrowded courtroom conditions at the Arlington Heights facility. The criticism reached a peak two weeks ago when more than 320 cases were scheduled in one day at the court.

THE SITUATION prompted Case, an officer in the local chapter of the Illinois Assn. of Chiefs of Police, to ask Sullivan's appearance at the Friday meeting.

Wheeling Village Pres. Ted C. Scanlon said Friday the second courtroom is "very essential to the area," adding "I thank Judge Sullivan from the bottom of my heart."

"It's something I've been long fighting for," Scanlon said. "We invited them out and showed them our facilities. I am a firm believer that if you are a resident of Wheeling and you get a ticket in Wheeling you should be heard in Wheeling. They shouldn't have to go driving all over creation to be heard."

Scanlon said the village police department would benefit in the reduction of overtime pay for policemen on court time and by permitting police to spend more time on patrol.

He added the paving required for additional parking facilities have been anticipated "for a long time." He said the village had intended to pave the area for additional parking and that the courtroom decision will merely bring about the work faster.

Hospital to open by mid-'76?

by LYNN ASINOF

The Franklin Boulevard Community Hospital is hoping to have its proposed Wheeling area satellite branch open for business by mid-1976.

"I'm hoping that 24-25 months from today we can say to the community 'Come in, we're ready to serve you,'" said Franklin Boulevard executive director Patrick DeMoon.

DeMoon said he expects the project to move quickly as soon as final approval is granted by the state. Last week the Illinois Hospital Licensing Board recommended approval of the proposed 228-bed facility.

The recommendations are now being reviewed by Dr. Joyce Lashoff, Director of the Illinois Department of Public Health. DeMoon said he expects to receive final approval of the project in about two weeks.

THE PROPOSED hospital is to be located on the east side of Schoenbeck Road just south of the village and across from Carl Sandburg School.

DeMoon said the hospital now has two options to purchase 20 acres of land at a cost of about $500,000. The second option approved last week, is for 10 acres owned by Roy Lichter immediately south of a proposed Wheeling Park District community park. The hospital previously obtained an option for the 10 acres south of the Lichter property.

Although Franklin Boulevard had been negotiating for a third 10-acre parcel, DeMoon said he thinks the 20-acre site "will be sufficient for us."

As soon as final approval is granted by the state, DeMoon said the hospital will begin arranging its financing. "We've already spoken to some finance people and they have assured us there will be no problem," he said.

At the hearing before the state licensing board, hospital representatives testified that Franklin Boulevard will provide $2.5 million for the $11.3 million facility. An additional $2 million would come from fund-raising.

FRANKLIN BOULEVARD is also planning to make use of a new state law that allows the hospital to finance part of the construction with general obligation bonds that are purchased through use of either Wheeling's or Cook County's name to lower interest rates.

Norman Davis, hospital consultant, said the arrangement will not affect taxes since the hospital will redeem the bonds. He said the arrangement will allow Wheeling to take over the hospital when the bonds are redeemed in about 20 years.

"At the end of 20 years or whatever the time period is, it goes to the community if they want it," he said. Davis said that since the hospital debt will already be paid off, this also will not affect local taxes.

DeMOON SAID the hospital plans to exercise its option on the two parcels "the moment we sign the contract with the money people." He said annexation to Wheeling and zoning procedures will be initiated as soon as the property is purchased.

Franklin Boulevard also expects to begin designing the new facility as soon as the final approval is granted. "I would imagine in the next month and a half we will have engaged an architectural firm to start working," DeMoon said.

The hospital is being designed to serve Wheeling-Buffalo Grove as a primary area. Areas of Mount Prospect, Prospect Heights, Arlington Heights, Northbrook and Lake County have been designated as a secondary service area.

DeMOON SAID the hospital is presently planning to provide a base for local paramedic operations. While the hospital is being designed as a full-service facility, pediatrics and maternity wards are not being planned.

Davis said pediatrics patients will be handled in private rooms unless there is a need for a full children's ward. Maternity care will be provided in the prenatal stages, but delivery facilities will only be used for emergency cases.

The first announcement of the proposed satellite facility was made by Wheeling Village Pres. Ted C. Scanlon last September. Since that time, Franklin Boulevard has been conducting surveys and negotiating for land for the new branch operation.

Suburban digest

Today last chance to file returns

Yes, there is still time to get your federal and state income taxes mailed before the deadline. Today's the last day, and some suburban post offices will also give you a break by staying open this evening.

All mail deposited in collection boxes in front of the Arlington Heights, Elk Grove Village and Rolling Meadows post offices will be collected at midnight tonight and postmarked April 15.

Try not to cry when you deposit your return.

Hospital branch by 1976?

The Franklin Boulevard Community Hospital is hoping to have its proposed Wheeling twp. satellite branch open for patients by mid-1976. The proposed 228-bed facility is to be located on the east side of Schoenbeck Road just south of Wheeling and across from Carl Sandburg School. The hospital's administration received preliminary approval from the Illinois Hospital Licensing Board last week.

New Prospect chief from force

A new chief for the Mount Prospect police force will apparently come from within the department. Mount Prospect Village Mgr. Robert Eppley said the village will probably select a replacement for retiring chief Bert Giddens from within the department's three lieutenants and six sergeants.

Arlington policeman charged

A 12-year veteran of the Arlington Heights police department has been charged with conduct unbecoming an officer and remains on suspension from the force until a hearing is conducted. Sgt. Jack Weber reportedly was involved in an incident involving theft from a store. Weber was charged following a 2 1/2-hour meeting between the chief of police and members of the Arlington Heights Police and Fire Commission Saturday. A hearing for the officer before the commission has been tentatively set for May 9. Weber faces possible dismissal from the department or reinstatement if the charges are considered unfounded.

Indian Grove principal fired

In a surprise move, the Dist. 26 school board Saturday voted to fire the principal of Indian Grove school. The board voted unanimously to terminate the contract held by principal Martin Rupe, although the board gave no reason for the action. Rupe also refused comment, saying "there are many things that could be said but I'm not free to say." The board and parents were involved in a controversy over another principal, Thomkins Barnhardt of Park View school, but the board decided to retain Barnhardt.

Sentence cut for Jenkins denied

A petition to reduce the two-year federal prison sentence of former Hoffman Estates mayor Roy L. Jenkins was denied Friday by a federal judge. Despite family difficulties, the judge refused to allow Jenkins a reduced term.

Light turnout marks election

Suburban voters turned out in typically low numbers to elect candidates to various school boards Saturday. Although polls were open from noon until 7 p.m., many board members found themselves elected to their posts by as little as several hundred votes.

One incumbent, three newcomers elected to Harper College seats

William Kelly

Shirley Munson

Robert Rausch

Stanley Carrier

One incumbent and three newcomers appear to have been elected to the Harper College Board of trustees in an election marked by a low turnout and a tight race for one three-year term.

Incumbent William Kelly of Arlington Heights and Robert Rausch of Hoffman Estates were the two high vote-getters for two of three-year terms on the board. However, in Saturday's unofficial tally, only 32 votes separated Stanley Carrier of Hoffman Estates and Judith Troehler of Mount Prospect in the race for a third three-year term.

Former Palatine village trustee Shirley Munson ran nearly 400 votes ahead of her nearest opposition in a four-way race for a two-year term on the board.

UNOFFICIAL VOTE totals for candidates for the three-year terms were Kelly, 1,889; Rausch, 1,709; Carrier, 1,339; Troehler, 1,307; Ross Miller, 1,182; and Robert Bromley, 1,161.

Unofficial totals for the two-year term are: Munson, 1,033; Ralph Walberg, 637; Ray Blakeman, 630; and Donald Payton, 600.

Kelly, an attorney who has served on the board since January of last year, said he was pleased with his election, but is not sure what effect the presence of three newcomers will have on the board. "None of these (the apparent winners) seem to be problem people," he said.

Rausch, director of standards and controls for the Zurich-American Insurance Co., said, "I didn't really expect to be elected, but I'm very pleased. I'll have a lot to learn."

MRS. MUNSON said she too was happy with the outcome and added, "I think I'm going to have to start immediately on a tremendous amount of homework." In winning, Mrs. Munson defeated Donald Payton, a member of the regular Republican party which ousted her from the Palatine village board.

The vote tally between Carrier and Mrs. Troehler saw-sawed back and forth all night, with never more than a few votes separating them. In response to his apparent win, Carrier, a salesman for Kimberly-Clark, said he was happy to have been elected for his views. "I just tried to give my views," he said. "I like the whole idea of being able to say what I think."

Mrs. Troehler could not be reached for comment Sunday about whether she might ask for a recount because of the slim margin between herself and Carrier. Mrs. Troehler is a student in business administration at Harper.

The official canvass of the election results will be conducted by the Harper board at a meeting April 23 at 8 p.m. at the college.

Summer job prospects lean again this year

of the jobs will be available only to those 18 years old and older.

OTHER SOURCES of summer jobs are the local village and city governments. Individually, the area employment picture looks like this:

Palatine

The village public works department hires approximately 10 students each summer, but because many students return each year for their jobs, only three or four openings are expected this summer. Palatine residents are given preference in selection and students should apply now at the public works building, 148 W. Illinois Ave.

The Palatine Park District has positions in park maintenance, golf course maintenance, playground program leaders, swimming pool guards and recreation program assistants. Students should apply at the administration office, 262 E. Palatine Rd. Salaries vary with experience and job.

The Community Child Care Center of Palatine Township may hire some teenagers for summer positions in preschool day-care. For information, students should contact Arlene Alvis at 991-1070.

The Palatine Township Highway Department will have one or two openings for summer mowing and clearing. Applicants should have experience with farm and truck equipment. Apply at the office, 530 N. Smith St., or by phoning 358-6336.

The Palatine Jaycees are also exploring the possibility of setting up a program to help teens find summer work.

Rolling Meadows

The Rolling Meadows Park District will hire about 25 teenagers this summer for pool and recreation programs. There is also a junior program in which junior high and high school students under 16 can work several hours for pool privileges and other activities. These students will have preference in later hiring, according to facility coordinator Rudy Nelson.

Some jobs are also available each year with the city public works department. Applications can be placed at the city hall, 3600 Kirsch Rd.

Arlington Heights

James E. Monroe, director of buildings, grounds and auxiliary services for school Dist. 25 said there is already a list of 35 applicants for eight available summer positions. Chances for jobs here are "not too good," he said.

He added, however, that the district is looking into the possibility of a joint program with the village and park district to hire students for the Ecology Corps. The district would share the salary costs in hiring, with each governing body expected to contribute about $5,000. The program would allow 14 and 15 year olds to work in maintenance and clean-up projects as a type of "learning experience." They would be paid about 90 cents per hour and work several hours per day.

Schaumburg Township

The township YES program, a student job referral service, is currently distributing brochures and cards to employers in the area as well as residential areas to find house and yard work that might be available.

YES will also set up outposts in the high schools soon to sign up students who are interested in summer jobs. The service reports some good news for students in that it currently has more jobs than students to fill them.

Buffalo Grove

Village Clerk Verna Clayton said the village participated last year in the federally funded Neighborhood Youth Corps but is unsure yet if it will participate again this summer.

There is a possibility the village public works department will again be hiring about 10 college students for the summer if the village board approves the hiring. Applications, however, have already exceeded the number of jobs.

The Buffalo Grove Park District plans to hire about 60 students this summer, 30 of whom will be counselors at playgrounds and the rest to maintain swimming pools, work as life guards and operate concession stands. An additional seven or eight students will work on the park maintenance staff.

Des Plaines

The city will hire only about a dozen students, most of whom have had the jobs in past summers. The city park district will hire about 300 students for summer work but many of these positions will also be filled by returning students. Park district officials said students may still apply.

Wheeling

Village Mgr. George Passolt said interested students should be applying now for about seven openings that may be available in the public works department. However, most students hired are returning workers.

The Wheeling Park District will have positions for playground leaders, cashier and pool attendants. Pay varies from $1 to $3 per hour.

The district will also hire a tennis instructor, although all other specialized instructors have been hired.

For students 12 to 15 the district will offer an Ecology Corps. About 10 students will be hired to maintain playgrounds and parks. All applicants should apply now, advises Rich Haddock, recreation director.

Elk Grove Village

All 150 summer positions in the village park district have been filled. Pays will range from $1.25 to $3.50 per hour depending on the job and experience.

The Elk Grove Village Youth Employment Service will be placing students. Elk Grove Village is considering a student employment program to operate throughout the year. Boys are being hired in the streets and water department at $2.50 an hour.

Elk Grove Township also has an employment service. Persons interested in working through the agency can call 437-0300.

Mount Prospect

Rick Pyle of the village park district staff said the district will hire 70 to 80 high school and college students for recreation positions. The jobs are expected to be filled by April 26. spots are filled; some 10 to 15 openings remain in the recreation position. The jobs are expected to be filled by April 26. Minimum pay is $2 an hour for general recreation, $1.75 an hour for swimming pool. Students work 30 to 35 hours a week.

THE HUNT WAS ON Saturday as local youngsters filled at the annual Wheeling Jaycees Easter egg hunt. Children ages 2 to 10 participated in the festivities.

Village planning special census 'in near future'

The Wheeling Village Board tonight is expected to approve an agreement that would start preparatory work on a special census.

Village Mgr. George Passolt said the U.S. Census Bureau will begin work on the population count as soon as the agreement is approved and a check is received. He said after the census is organized, the census bureau will notify the village of the dates it will be conducted.

The last Wheeling census was taken in 1970, when the population was 14,799. These figures are still being used to determine the village's portion of state income tax and motor fuel tax funds, although about 7,000 more persons now live in Wheeling.

The board is also scheduled to review an ordinance that would revise village board procedure to encourage more citizen participation. The ordinance would establish an open period under verbal communication when residents can address the board on any matter.

In addition, the revision would require two readings for every ordinance, with the ordinance being placed on public inspection for at least one week between readings. The ordinance would further change the board committee structure by placing all six trustees on each of the committees.

A contract for the construction of an addition to the Wheeling Fire Department will be awarded to the low-bidder on the project.

The meeting will begin at 8 p.m. at the village hall, 255 W. Dundee Rd.

PHIA planting trees as part of beauty plan

Sycamore trees are being planted along Hillside Avenue in Prospect Heights and willows and dogwoods will be planted later in other areas. It is part of the current project of the Prospect Heights Improvement Assn. beautification committee.

Five hundred trees and 1,000 shrubs recently arrived from the U.S. Department of Conservation. Patricia Kerwin, of the beautification group, said the cost was minimal — about $11 per 500.

The group is seeking permission from Wheeling Township to plant willows along Willow Road. The Prospect Heights Park District last week gave its approval to the planting of shrubs around the Lions Park hockey rink and hockey hut.

Most of the planting will be done in the next two weeks. Then any leftover trees or shrubs will be temporarily planted in the garden plots on the High School Dist. 214 land being leased by the park district.

In the past, the committee has planted tulip bulbs and flowers at Lions Park and has cleaned up parts of the Hillcrest Slough.

Dist. 21 wrapup

State grant will lower tax bills

Dist. 21 residents will see a reduction in their 1975 tax bills because the district has received $261,952 from the Illinois Capital Assistance Board in the form of a debt service grant.

The state funds will reduce the 1975 tax levy for the district bond and interest fund by that amount, resulting in tax bills that will show a decrease of about 10 to 12 cents per one hundred dollars of assessed valuation.

A state law recently enacted allowed the district to apply for partial reimbursement for the cost of retiring bonds issued between 1969 and 1972 for the construction of new schools.

Bond sale authorized

School Dist. 21 is preparing to sell the remaining $1,900,000 of a $4.5 million bond sale authorized by residents in a 1971 referendum.

The school board last Thursday authorized the district's attorneys to solicit bids on the bonds on a 10-year retirement schedule.

Proceeds from the bond sale will be used to partially finance the construction of additions to the three Dist. 21 junior high schools. The additions will accommodate a new vocational education program to be implemented next fall.

Bilingual program an example

The Dist. 21 bilingual program has been selected as an exemplary program to be studied by other school districts throughout the state.

Designed primarily for the large number of Spanish-speaking persons who attend local schools, the program also includes a special course for Spanish-speaking custodians who work in the district.

The program was adopted district-wide last year.

Paper bid awarded

Paper bids for supplies to be used next year were awarded by the Dist. 21 school board last Thursday.

Contracts were given to the Inlander Supply Co. in the amount of 1739.04, Itex Co. in the amount of $13,163.02 and Bell and Howell Co. in the amount of $15,252.67.

Will new wage law cut teen jobs?

Crane opposed the minimum wage increase and voted against the bill.

"The majority of those who will be out of work are young people and most of those are blacks," he said. "The minimum wage laws also have an overall effect of artificially raising the salary scale and putting pressure on to raise prices."

These dire predictions won't come true, according to Stanley Johnson, president of the state AFL-CIO.

"It has not happened in the past. In fact, it has helped local communities because residents have a little more money to spend. That actually helps to create jobs," Johnson said.

HE SAID the new minimum wage is welcome but not enough to meet inflation. "We have striven a long time to upgrade these totally low paid people who are unorganized and subject to the whims of their employers," Johnson said. "We thought the increase would be equitable before inflation, but inflation has wiped out the increase."

According to the new law, signed reluctantly by President Nixon last week, the minimum wage will rise from $1.60 an hour to $2 an hour May 1, to $2.10 Jan. 1, 1975 and to $2.30 on Jan. 1, 1976 for most workers. The raise to $2.30 an hour will take longer for some workers, including farm laborers who will reach the maximum on Jan. 1, 1978.

More than 7 million workers will be covered for the first time by the new law, including 5 million federal, state and local employees, one million domestics and additional retail store, service industry and farm workers. Payment of overtime provisions will be extended to 6 million workers, including employees in hotels, restaurants, nursing homes and bowling alleys.

The federal law covers employees of businesses grossing more than $250,000 a year. Employees of businesses grossing less than $250,000 will also get a higher minimum wage thanks to a state law passed last year. The bill has not gone into effect because of a provision that the state minimum could not exceed the federal minimum.

UNDER THE state law, the minimum will go from $1.60 an hour to $1.75 an hour May 1, to $1.90 an hour on Jan. 1, 1975 and to $2.10 an hour on Jan. 1, 1976. State Rep. Thomas Hanahan, D-McHenry, sponsor of the wage bill, said he will draft a new bill that would bring the state minimum wage up to the federal level. He hopes the bill will be passed and effective by next January.

John Coulter, director of manpower development for the Chicago Association of Commerce and Industry, said documentation has shown that regulations like minimum wages are "not usually very intelligent and usually produce shortages."

"Prices will go up and employment will go down. It will have an effect on summer employees and employees in theaters, outdoor restaurants, dry-cleaning and laundries, and other small businesses. Employers will just try to get along with less people," Coulter said.

BUT ROBERT Genetski, economist for the Harris Trust and Savings Bank in Chicago, said he does not think prices will go up. Employers will mechanize instead.

"The businessman will hire only one worker instead of five and pay him the $2 to run the machine," he said, adding that teens will be affected the most by the wage hike. "If you look back in history you find that every time they raise the minimum wage the unemployment rate for teens goes up about 1 per cent."

"More significant is the loss of freedom," Genetski said. "You may have an individual who wants to work for $1.90 an hour and an employer who would hire him for $1.90 an hour but the government steps in and says no."

Most restaurants will be affected by the federal wage levels, Buckmaster said, because they gross more than $250,000 a year. There is no youth differential in the bill, which would provide a lower minimum wage for teenagers. Attempts to include such a differential in the bill had been

BUT A McDonald's official said he dubbed the "McDonald's amendments."

The increase in the wage will not affect the hamburger chain. "The wage increase will have no effect because our average wage is now in excess of $2 an hour," said Matt Lambert, McDonald's corporate relations director. "In fact, McDonald's has favored increases in minimum wages all along."

Prices at Jack in the Box, another drive-in restaurant chain, are expected to go up.

"I don't see the wage hike as a bad thing, but I think prices will go up," said Bill Maddox, Chicago area coordinator for Jack-In-The-Box. "We have to make a profit." He added that his company now starts people with no experience at $1.65 an hour.

Girl Scouts plan beauty projects

Local Girl Scouts are planning several activities in conjunction with "Keep America Beautiful Day" Saturday, April 27.

Cadette Troop 481 will postpone its project until May when it plans to plant flowers at Adolorata Villa in Wheeling. Several other girl scouts from Frost School in Mount Prospect will assist them.

Brownie Troop 350 intends to clean up the schoolyard and playground at Twaan School in Wheeling. They also plan to plant flowers and paint playground equipment.

Junior Troop 891 will clean up the grounds of Tarkington School, also in Wheeling. Members of the troop plan to place a flagstone in front of the flagpole and the school and plant flowers.

Named to honor roll

Two Wheeling residents have been named to the fall honor roll at Northeast Missouri State University. Both Ronald Allen and John Graziano received all A's for the fall term.

Harper College board wrapup

Faculty evaluation system for merit raises a failure

by WANDALYN RICE

The year-old faculty evaluation system at Harper College has failed.

The Harper College Board Thursday agreed to require revision of the system by September so that a new system can be used next year. In addition, the board said no merit bonuses for outstanding faculty members will be granted this year because the evaluation system, which was to be used to select those eligible for bonuses, is invalid.

The system, adopted last spring, provided for evaluations of faculty members by their division heads, fellow faculty members and by students. Since then, faculty leaders have expressed their concern that the student evaluations would result in popularity contests and a grievance has been filed charging that the dean of academic affairs violated the system by filing his own evaluations in addition to the evaluations by the three groups.

In addition, as a result of the evaluations, 83 faculty members received ratings high enough to qualify them for merit bonuses. The number represents half the full-time faculty. Board policy calls for merit bonuses to the top 10 per cent of the faculty.

Faculty member Robert Boeke, former chairman of the faculty committee which helped develop the system last year, strongly protested the board's setting of a September deadline for changes in system.

Boeke said the time schedule would make it impossible to ensure that the new system will provide better evaluations than the old system. He does not believe the board should plan to use any revised system to make decisions on faculty promotion or raises next year.

"We are in agreement that the results of the present system should not be used for decision-making," Boeke said. "We told the board that it should not be used in that way last year and it is curious that the administration only became concerned with the validity of the system when it resulted in 83 faculty members getting high ratings."

In addition, Boeke said agreement on the evaluation committee last year was reached "under extreme pressure" and that imposing time pressure again "will put the committee in an untenable position." Boeke added that he believes the evaluation system needs a full year of work and testing before it will be ready for use in board decision making.

Board member Marilyn Marier protested that without an evaluation system the board will be unable to grant merit bonuses. "I'm committed to a merit system," she said. "If we are going to have any kind of merit system we have to have a measuring stick and that means we have to have a deadline."

Boeke replied, "What you're telling me is you don't care if you have a system that can actually pick out people who are good."

The board voted 5-2 to impose the deadline for revision of the system, with board members Larry Moats and Milt Hansen voting against it. Following the vote, board chairman Jessalyn Nicklas said, "We have parts of this system which we have found to be useful and worthwhile and we have learned from it. The system should be a constructive one and should help with instruction and training for those on our staff."

Faculty pay hikes

The average Harper College faculty member will receive a $1,375 pay raise for the 1974-75 school year.

The college board Thursday approved a negotiated agreement with the faculty senate which calls for all teachers to receive a $1,000 across the board raise and an additional 2.5 per cent increase in this year's salary.

Eighty per cent of the faculty had earlier voted to approve the settlement. Board spokesmen said the settlement will raise the college's total faculty salary costs by 10.3 per cent.

The board also approved increased salary ranges for the various academic ranks at the college. The ranges are used for hiring new teachers and as guidelines for increases granted to new teachers.

The range for instructor is $10,000 to $15,800, increased from $9,300 to $15,800. The range for assistant professor is $10,820 to $19,000, up from $10,000 to $17,900; for associate professor it is now $12,500 to $22,300, up from $11,350 to $21,030; for professor it is now $14,000 to $24,400, compared to $13,200 to $23,000.

DEAF STUDENTS at Harper College got a chance to "hear" the speech last week by anthropologist Margaret Mead through the efforts of interpreter Linda Andrews, who used deaf sign language to translate.

Elections board studies RTA recount jurisdiction

The Illinois Board of Elections has taken under advisement a challenge by foes of the Regional Transportation Authority to assume jurisdiction in the RTA discovery recount dispute.

The member board accepted a petition Friday from the anti-RTA forces similar to petitions given to the Clerk of the Circuit Court of Cook County and Cook County Clerk Stanley Kasper Jr.

State Rep. Cal Skinner, R-Crystal Lake, one of the leaders of the anti-RTA group, said election board chairman Michael LaVelle first indicated the petition might not be considered because of wording of state election laws and because there is pending litigation on the issue.

Election laws specifically allow a discovery recount for candidates, but not for referenda, and LaVelle said he thought that was a deliberate action by the legislature. The pending litigation is a request for Cook County Circuit Court Judge Harry Comerford to order the discovery recount.

Skinner said the board asked if the RTA opponents would like a quick written decision, and he said it was desired.

"It's obviously a discretionary matter," Skinner said. "They can rule in our favor. I hope the board has the guts to take jurisdiction."

SKINNER AND other anti-RTA leaders want the election board to take jurisdiction because of conflicting opinions in the six-county area that makes up the RTA.

In Cook County, Judge Comerford and State's Atty. Bernard Carey have given opinions that the law does not provide for a discovery recount in referenda. But judges in Kane and DuPage counties have ordered the recount petitions accepted and the designated precincts recounted.

Anti-RTA attorney Paul Wisner told the election board that the number of spoiled ballots in the RTA referendum is suspect. He said 8 per cent of the ballots were ruled spoiled in the March 19 election, while only 2 per cent of the ballots were spoiled in the more complicated Constitutional referendum of 1970.

Skinner said one precinct in Chicago reported about 80 "yes" votes, no "no" votes, and about 60 spoiled ballots. Another had about 500 "yes" votes and no "no" votes.

In the meantime, Skinner said he is drawing up a bill that would allow discovery recounts in future propositions. He said this is the first test of a referendum since the discovery recount law was written in 1961.

'World parley' on 'ancient astronauts'

The first annual world conference on "ancient astronauts" will be held April 28-29 at the Arlington Park Towers Hotel, Arlington Heights.

The conference, sponsored by the Ancient Astronaut Society, will feature lectures, panel discussions, workshops and movies.

Among the guests at the conference will be Erich von Daniken, author of "Chariots of the Gods?" and "Gods from Outer Space"; Brad Steiger, author of "Atlantis Rising"; Peter Tompkins, author of "Secret Life of Plants," and Tom Valentine, editor of the National Tatler.

The Society of Ancient Astronauts, headquartered in Park Ridge, was organized to study the possibility of intelligent beings from other planets making contact with Earth thousands of years ago.

The conference is open to the public.

All-electric homes face rate hike by summer

Owners of all-electric homes will be paying proportionately higher rates beginning this summer as a result of increases granted Commonwealth Edison Co. last week by the Illinois Commerce Commission.

According to Marvin Lieberman, commission chairman, the decision to allow an average 10.69 per cent over-all boost in electric service rates includes provisions to flatten the difference between the two rates. "The rationale for a lower space heating rate is that there is lower cost in providing the service," he said. "The argument breaks down in the summer when capacity is utilized to its fullest extent."

All-electric residential customers previously paid 1.2 cents per kilowatt hour year-round for each unit of 325 kilowatt hours or more. Now the all electric customer will pay 1.3 cents from June 1 to Sept. 30, and 1.33 cents the rest of the year. The rates compare with other residential customer rates, up to 2.79 cents from 2.35 cents per kilowatt hour.

FOR SOME 65,000 customers who use less than 100 kilowatts of power a month, no rate increase is effected. Lieberman added that users of more than 1,000 kilowatts will experience a rate increase averaging 13 per cent.

Industrial, commercial and government electric service customers will experience rate increases averaging 12.9 per cent, according to ICC engineer Frank Verenski in Springfield.

Edison had requested a 12.23 per cent rate hike boost in May, 1973. The ICC disallowed $575,000 in Edison advertising expenses, and $700,000 in contributions. The utility was also directed by the ICC to investigate pollution complaints.

The rate boost should generate an added $134.7 million in revenues. Edison spokesmen said there are no immediate plans to request another rate hike.

The ICC decision was hailed by Chicago attorney James Lattner of the Legal Assistance Foundation as a boon to small users. Philip Miller, of Citizens for a Better Government, said the decision failed to consider a "rate design consistent with efficient allocation of resources." CBE will ask the ICC for a rehearing on the case.

B'nai B'rith boys' group slates reunion

Aleph Zadik Aleph, the boys' component of the B'nai B'rith Youth Organization, will hold its first international alumni reunion at the Arlington Park Towers Hotel, May 3-5.

Philip M. Klutznick, honorary president of B'nai B'rith and former U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, will be the principal speaker in a dinner-tribute to Sam Beber, founder of AZA.

Other guests will include Leo M. Cherne, executive director of the Research Institute of America; Rabbi Stanley Rabinowitz, vice chairman of the B'nai B'rith Youth Commission and Leon H. Ginsberg, dean of the School of Social Work, University of West Virginia.

Speaking about Real Estate

Robert L. Nelson
President
Robert L. Nelson, Real Estate

A look at the present Real Estate Buying and Selling Market by Robert L. Nelson, President, Robert L. Nelson, Real Estate.

Much has been written about the current national Real Estate Sales Market... most of it points a rather dismal picture especially to those who would like to buy a home but have been scared off by the "TIGHT MONEY" situation.

Although we cannot speak specifically about conditions in other parts of the country, business here in the greater Northwest Chicago Suburban area is alive, healthy and continuing to remain active.

As a matter of fact, we have been busier than usual because more and more people now realize the advantages of dealing direct with an established, professional Real Estate Company that can exert the knowledge and influence necessary to consummate a satisfying Real Estate sale.

Lending institutions have opened their doors to negotiations with the leading area Real Estate offices so that mortgage money is available. We have been able to develop this availability because of our long standing trust and reputation in the Real Estate business.

WE CAN OFFER OUR CUSTOMERS UP TO 80% FINANCING TO QUALIFIED BUYERS. Don't be scared off from buying or selling your home... if you're in the market, we're in the business. Let us show you how much help we can be in satisfying your Real Estate requirements. DON'T BE THE LOSER... DON'T WAIT. Inflation and rising costs are bound to make the home you buy today much more valuable in the next few years.

We back bike paths

Imagine it, especially if you're a bicyclist (as more and more persons will be this spring in the Northwest suburbs):

A lush, tree-shaded, winding path for bicyclists, a path which snakes from Palatine to Elgin, from Elmhurst to Aurora, or from just about anywhere in the six county Chicago metropolitan area.

Parts of this path already exist, but only in scattered segments in various Northwest suburbs, such as Elk Grove Village and Palatine. But what's needed — and what may be coming — is a comprehensive bike path network that links suburb with suburb, county with county.

That's what a committee of the Northeastern Illinois Planning Commission (NIPC) has in mind. It's studying existing trails and available land to see where new trails would be feasible.

The committee is going to coordinate efforts between communities to establish those bike paths. NIPC can provide technical assistance, if communities want it, but it'll be up to individual villages and cities to actually construct the bike trails.

Roger Bjorvik, the moving force behind the bike trails plan, has been working on the project for several years. Under the auspices of the Cook County Council of Governments, he's encouraged local park districts to develop bike trails on their own in the suburbs.

The Herald editorially supported Bjorvik's efforts three years ago — and today, we strongly encourage NIPC to continue towards offering as much support as possible to local communities to develop interconnecting bike trails.

Local communities can now take advantage of NIPC's help — and that's where the impetus is going to come for a coordinated and comprehensive bike trail system.

Anyone who doubts the popularity of bicycling today should look at bike racks at local railroad stations this spring. Adults, as well as children, are increasingly riding bicycles, not only as a replacement for the gas-guzzling family car, but as a recreational outlet, too.

Put simply, if we plan, along with the help of NIPC, to create bike trails which will provide us with family recreation, we can have this expanded recreational opportunity. For the good of all of our local communities, it's an opportunity that shouldn't be ignored.

Backs pregnancy choice

Julia Martoccio's column, "Women and Children First," is a fine one and has provoked discussions among several of my friends and acquaintances.

The compulsory pregnancy people are spending a lot of energy and money in an attempt to nullify the Supreme Court decision on abortion laws. Several amendments have been introduced under the sugar-coated titles of "States Rights Amendment" and "Human Life Amendment."

In the German Weimar Republic, birth control information was widely disseminated, and abortions were performed an estimated 800,000 to 1 million times yearly. In June of 1933, the National Socialists under Adolph Hitler eliminated all of this by closing birth control centers, enacting strict anti-abortion laws which were tightly enforced and imposed a ban on contraceptive advertisements. At the same time the National Socialists created a policy to kill the unhealthy and sterilize all those with genetic defects. In terms of past history, the Supreme Court has made a wise decision indeed.

As for those who cannot find a baby to adopt, there are black, mixed race, handicapped, and older children available. People and organizations who are truly concerned about life have broadened the scope of their support to parents who feel overwhelmed by the birth of a child. As a result, the pool of adoptable babies has dwindled. However, there are other ways to utilize a talent for parenthood.

A new amendment has been proposed which could be called the "Parents' Rights Amendment": "The freedom of an individual to make a conscious choice of whether or not to beget and bear a child shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or any state."

One up with 'colonel'

In the Dist. 54 board of education search for titles to strengthen the administrative staff, I feel one source may have been overlooked.

I suggest the board write the state of Kentucky and find out what is needed to get a member of the staff named as a "colonel."

There are many "doctors" in the Northwest area schools, but I don't know of any "colonels." This would really put us one up.

Blood donor help thanked

As president of the Cooperative Blood Replacement Plan, I want to express the sincerest thanks for everyone in our organization for the support you and your fine newspaper have given our program during January Blood Donor Month, and throughout the entire year of 1973.

While blood and blood banking is receiving increased attention in the public press, it still requires strong persuasive efforts to encourage the first time donor to give blood. The responsible work of you people in this area has been highly commendable. They have made a solid contribution to the overall persuasive effort, and they have effectively explained the advantages of joining CBRP. The result of their work is that CBRP now has the largest computerized file of blood donors in Illinois — over 102,000 blood donors.

I feel that we can both be justly proud of this achievement. Together in total we have accomplished much more than the sum of our separate parts. We have built a program and proven an idea. Because of our achievement, the way to a lasting 100 per cent volunteer blood donor system is immediately before us!

It has been extremely gratifying to receive your support during 1973 and January Blood Donor Month. We owe your newspaper a growing debt of gratitude for helping us in our community work of public education.

I hope that we will continue to merit your help in 1974 as we urge people to help others with their blood donation, and help themselves by joining the Cooperative Blood Replacement Plan.

'Nixon encourages worst in us'

by TOM WELLMAN
Chief Editorial Writer

President Richard Nixon's greatest problem — indeed, the problem which may lead to his impeachment — has nothing to do with Watergate or his other official misdeeds.

It is simply that he is too much one of us. It is his greatest fault.

Today, you and I and almost everyone else in the Northwest suburbs will be dropping envelopes addressed to the "Internal Revenue Service" into mail boxes.

You and I know we could have beaten the rush, but we didn't. We sweated long hours to complete the form, and we either cursed or smiled when we compared what we owed to what our employer had deducted.

Tax forms, in themselves, represent a hateful process. Armed with visions of deductions and exemptions, we enter the labyrinth of 1040. By the time most of us leave it, we find we're paying just about as much as we paid last year.

But why not hedge a little bit? Why not push for the extra deduction, the business trip you can't quite justify, the expense you can't quite support? After all, they don't audit everyone, do they?

Richard M. Nixon

And, after all, didn't Nixon get away with it for four years? It's unfair for him to get away with it for so long. If he can do it, why can't I?

The temptation is tremendous, and, when the millions of forms have piled into regional IRS offices, the totals should indicate that millions of Americans did just that kind of reasoning.

Our angry reaction, however, doesn't seem to come entirely from the announcement ten days ago, that Nixon was going to get nailed for back taxes. If anything, the rumors that have gone on for months and months were more critical about the way we viewed our tax forms this year.

It's just that the picture we receive of Richard Nixon, through the allegations of the IRS, is that he nicked through each tax form, and cheated. Whether he was guilty of fraud is a moot point; he cheated, in the sense of taking each and every little deduction and exemption.

We cheat, too. We play every angle, but most of us feel slightly dirty after the entire process. Most of us feel an allegiance to our government (or perhaps we did a few years ago), and, as good citizens, we are willing (albeit grudgingly) to pay for its maintenance.

Richard Nixon represents the worst in us at tax time. But Nixon could have been a different kind of taxpayer; the man who, discarding the possibility of the fringe deductions, took advantage of NO loopholes, NO deductions.

We might have laughed at his "naïveté," but we might have secretly respected him, too, as a national leader who was not manipulating his tax form for all it was worth.

Watergate's scandals alone cannot impeach President Nixon, for without a groundswell of public opinion behind them, no Congressman is going to vote a President out of office.

But if we view Nixon as a cheap chisel who is only out to feather his nest — that he reflects only our baser, darker sides, and does not speak with the kind of basic honesty and dignity befitting a President — he is doomed.

Perhaps, this is partially due to Nixon's inability to charm away our insecurities. Realistically, though, Nixon's tax returns, and the scandal in their wake, have taught us what kind of man he is — a kind of man, on a gut, personal, patriotic level, that we cannot respect. From our joust with the 1040, and our perspective on him, impeachment could follow.

'Kennedy wonders if country ready'

by GRANT DILLMAN

WASHINGTON — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy keeps insisting he will not decide until late 1975 whether to seek the presidency — and most people keep saying his decision will hinge on his family and the specter of assassination that hangs over the Kennedys.

There is more to it than that. The Massachusetts senator may hold off a formal announcement of his presidential plans that long. But if Kennedy does decide to seek the Democratic nomination, the fact will surface first in the states — and long before his deadline.

Anyone bidding seriously for the White House needs money in massive amounts and delegates in substantial numbers. The money should come fairly easily for Kennedy, given his family's wealth and the appeal to party fatcats to get on the bandwagon early.

It is more difficult to disguise a quest for delegates. They must be won either in the primaries or at state conventions. That is no spur-of-the-moment thing. It means sending lieutenants into the states months ahead to do political missionary work. And the word inevitably leaks out.

If Kennedy does decide to make the race, the scenario probably will have him continuing to profess uncertainty about his intentions right up until the end of 1975, even though everyone knows his operatives are busy trying to sew up the nomination.

There are tactical arguments for such a strategy. The moment he announced his candidacy, Kennedy would become the frontrunner and the target of rivals for the Democratic nomination. It is more difficult to cut down a frontrunner who insists he isn't running.

If Kennedy decides not to run, he almost certainly will attribute his decision to family concern over the possibility that a Kennedy in the White House would be an invitation to another assassination attempt.

The Senator discussed his dilemma last week in Bonn in an interview with a German newspaper. Asked if his family wanted him to become president, Kennedy replied: "My God, no. After what happened to my brothers, they are very frightened."

But Kennedy has conceded there is more to it than that. Back in January, appearing on NBC's Today show, he mentioned family considerations but went on to say there also was a question as to whether the country was ready for what he called his kind of liberalism.

"I've been identified with certain courses and approaches toward issues," he explained. "I think a great deal of the problem is whether the country is ready for the kind of challenge that I think it really ought to have. I think there's a timeliness about the political decisions..."

Kennedy's "approaches" earned him a 90 per cent rating in 1972 from the liberal Americans for Democratic Action (ADA) and a 5 per cent rating from the conservative Americans for Constitutional Action (ACA), a precarious political position in a society that has been searching for the center in recent years.

Kennedy seems to be saying it wouldn't be worth exposing his family to the turbulence and anxieties of a presidential campaign if the country isn't ready for his ideas. (UPI)

Doctorate deplored

I am writing in response to your editorial on Dist. 54's superintendent receiving his degree from the so-called Walden University.

I totally agree that Mr. Schaible has done an excellent job here in the district. We've lived here for six and a half years and have seen a great many improvements.

I feel very strongly that our board must be social climbers to feel we need the prestige of our superintendent having his Ph.D., which is exactly what you said, "a piece of paper."

I, as a taxpayer, oppose footing the bill for this "degree" as I am somewhat familiar with Walden and its practices. I don't approve at all. Perhaps what Schaumburg really needs is a new school board.

What other things could we have done with the $3,000? Was this really a gain for our school system or a loss for our children?

Is tax system fair

Emphasis now is on the system's reform

by JAMES S. BYRNE Tax Analysts and Advocates
(First of two parts)

Now that you have (hopefully) paid your income taxes — and most of your fellow citizens, from the highest to the lowest (hopefully) have paid theirs, you might be wondering what you are really getting for your money? Or what someone else is getting for your money? Or how fair our tax system is? Or how high should taxes really be?

Taxes in the United States — state, local, federal, corporate and personal — totaled $361 billion in 1972. This sounds like a lot, but it is really not a very high rate compared with other industrialized countries. The total tax burden here was 27.8 per cent of our total output. In Sweden, the total was 41 per cent; in West Germany, 34.5 per cent; in France, 35.6 per cent, and in the United Kingdom 35.6 per cent.

Since the U.S. spends by far the most on defense, the national outlay for welfare services is even lower than the percentages would indicate.

THE LESSON seems clear: Higher taxes are something that a country can have if it wants more of the public goods that taxes buy. Higher taxes in countries like Sweden and West Germany haven't killed economic growth.

But these days, the question of how high taxes should be is secondary to questions of fairness about the system. The emphasis in many minds is on tax reform, rather than revenue increase. And, in order for the Congress to take on reforms, it must first cut taxes to appease (or neutralize) opposition from those who would suffer from the effects of real reform.

So, the first order of business would seem to be not a tax increase but a tax cut.

The odds-on favorite for reducing taxes is to increase personal exemptions and the minimum standards deduction, otherwise known as the low-income allowance.

In 1969 and 1971, with much fanfare, Congress and the President claimed credit for arranging things so that families with income below the poverty line would pay no federal income tax. This was done by raising the personal exemption from $600 to $750 and providing a minimum standard deduction of $1,300. (A taxpayer can deduct at least $1,300 in lieu of itemizing his deductions for contributions, taxes, interest, etc.)

CUTTING INCOME taxes for low-income people sounds like the government is doing something about poverty. But PAYING INCOME TAX can be quite an ordeal and the not rich — will be up to the U.S. Congress. More whether the burden can be lessened for the poor — or persons are calling for reform of the tax system.

But money still talks for the nation's rich

The movement for tax reform has been around for a long time, because for a long time people have perceived our tax system as being unfair. Now, because Congress seems likely to move on a tax cut, it seems that 1974-75 will be a good year for tax reform. The question is how thoroughly will the system be reformed.

The popular demand for tax reform arises from the fact that some rich people and rich corporations pay income taxes at very low rates — if at all.

While the basic federal tax system does generally impose a heavier burden on rich than on poor or middle-income people, many rich people do not pay high taxes because of special tax benefits for which they qualify.

THOSE BENEFITS were not originally intended to make life easier for rich people — but, rather, to get them to do some activity which the government wanted done. But the effect of those benefits is to lower some rich people's — and corporations' — taxes.

On the face of it, the incentive case is hard for a fair-minded Congressman to handle. How can one tell how much the government gets for its incentive money? Isn't it possible that reformers would throw out the baby with the bath water?

This year, Congress must deal with a significant test case that will tell a lot about the sincerity of its attitude. The case involves the percentage depletion allowance, probably the most controversial tax preference. It permits oil producers to subtract 22 per cent of their income from oil revenues before figuring taxes on the rest.

UP UNTIL 1973, the threat to the United States was that cheap foreign oil, if allowed to come in freely, would undercut the more expensive price of domestic oil and depress domestic industry. The defense against foreign imports was the since-abandoned quota system which severely limited the supply of the cheaper foreign oil. In addition, various tax incentives — particularly the percentage depletion allowance — were enacted to increase the after-tax profits of oil companies in the hope this would make them produce more domestic oil.

In 1973 the problem changed. The Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC) raised the price to more than double the U.S. price. This pushed up the price of domestic oil. Thus, the current average domestic price of oil is about $6.50 a barrel, about twice what it was about a year ago. The Treasury estimates that oil production will for the next few years be about the same with the high price as it would have been with the old low price.

The Administration's answer was to recommend a "windfall profits" tax, which really was an excise tax on the price per barrel of oil and not on profits from oil. The tax would be levied on the price per barrel over a base of $4.50 and the base would move up annually so that less and less of the price would be considered taxable as a windfall. Moreover, the "windfall" tax was designed to self-destruct in six years.

THE HOUSE Ways and Means Committee has adopted the windfall profits tax but added an immediate self-destruct feature. The committee provided that the windfall tax would be rebated if the companies reinvest in the oil business (which happens to be very profitable right now).

Ways and Means also adopted a phaseout of the percentage depletion allowance but under extremely generous terms. Thus, oil companies won't pay much tax at all on the windfall arising from the more than 100 per cent increase in prices.

Clearly, the oil depletion allowance is hostage to politics — not economics. People interested in special tax benefits have a lot of money and, thus far, money talks.

It is intriguing that much of the Watergate mess is about exactly this: How loud does money talk in politics? One gathers that as a result of Watergate some rascals are going to be thrown out but what will be the alternative?

One hopes it will be a climate in which a large portion of the public will be demanding that Congress deal with the issues on the basis of a serious concern about the public interest.

The lesson is that to get better tax laws, we need better politics.

Hersey linksmen 'breeze' to Champaign triumph

Golf Editor

And the beat goes on.
Hersey's incredible 1973-74 sports program has produced another magnificent trophy — thanks to the varsity golfers, who journeyed downstate to whip 30 other teams in the 3rd Annual Champaign Invitational Golf Tournament on the University of Illinois campus.
In bettering their second-place finish last year, the Huskies of head coach Ken Carter shot brilliantly in the face of gale-like wind conditions, a handicap that frequently characterizes Savoy Golf Course.
A steady 35-mile per hour fan reached gusts of up to 50 on occasion to add an even more challenging factor for the prep linksmen.

Hersey teared the 18-hole Orange and Blue Course layouts in 434 strokes to nip Mid-Suburban League rival Forest View with 436. Conant took 476 strokes for 22nd, Buffalo Grove 479 for 23rd and Rolling Meadows 489 for 28th.
"That wind made playing conditions worse than I've seen them in a long time," Carter described of the piercing squall that added extra "English" to drives, iron shots and putts.
"We would have welcomed rain . . . anything but that wind. It was beating us into the ground. Our eyes and ears were actually ringing from the wind.
"We wore our winter caps, even though it was 70 degrees down there, just so we could pull the flaps down and take our minds off the wind. I'm amazed that the kids did as well as they did," Carter concluded.

Headlining the area's success on an individual level was Hersey's Ed Stubbs, who recorded the best round of the day from a field of over 150 golfers.
Stubbs birdied three of the long par fives, added six pars, seven bogeys and a double bogey in carding a resounding 39-40-79 over the par 36-37-73 Blue Course for meet medalist honors.
Other important Huskie contributors on the Blue were Scott Warnecke who registered a consistent 49-43-86 and Steve Hartman who notched 51-43-84.

On the more difficult Orange monster, Bruce Conroy collected 42-44-86 while teammate Cal Zimmerman notched 47-42-89.
In capturing prestigious runnerup honors, Forest View put another feather in the area's cap with Gary Willert solving the Blue Course in 43-40-83, Greg Martindale hitting 43-42-85 and Ron Romack 49-41-90. On the Orange, Rick Keyser fired 44-44-88 and John Appleton 45-45-90.
Conant's total was derived from Kevin Eakins' 10th lowest round of 45-42-87 on the Orange and Tim Davey's 49-52-101 while support on the Blue came from Dave Sidlin's 48-47-95, Joe Kuzik's 48-48-96 and Jim Martin's 47-50-97.

Rolling Meadows counted Tom Schramm's 48-52-100 and Scott Burkhardt's 54-47-101 on the Orange and Dave Munson's 44-49-93, Ken Hatfield's 44-50-94 and Mike Stroben's 52-49-101 on the Blue.
Buffalo Grove cashed Rick Groessl's 45-47-92 and Mike Schwerman's 47-45-92 over the Orange and Dan Krolack's 40-48-88, Greg Wolfe's 44-52-96 and Mike Saltzman's 52-59-111 on the Blue.

Each team was allowed to enter five players — two challenging the Orange and three the Blue. All five scores counted toward the final team totals.
These were the team totals:
1. Hersey 434; 2. Forest View 436; 3. Hinsdale South 442; 4. Edwardsville 444; 5. Belleville East 450; 6. (tie) Normal and Decatur Eisenhower, 453; 8. (tie) Robinson and Champaign Centennial, 457; 10. Glenbrook North 459; 11. Wheaton North 461; 12. (tie) Lake Park and Joliet Catholic 463; 14. DeKalb 465; 15. (tie) Urbana and Hillcrest 466; 17. St. Edwards 467; 18. Rantoul 471; 19. Sterling 473; 20. (tie) Champaign Central and Downers Grove South 474; 22. Conant 476; 23. Buffalo Grove 479; 24. North Chicago 480; 25. Carmel 484; 26. (tie) Bradley and Springfield Southeast 487; 28. Rolling Meadows 489; 29. Fenton 506; 30. Niles West 511; 31. Oak Lawn Richards 531.

Coaches, writers polled

Falcons, Wildcats top tabs

Wheeling will hook up with Forest View in this year's Mid-Suburban League baseball championship game.
But don't try to figure out how the rest of the conference will come out.
The Herald sports staff and the MSL coaches themselves tried to project the finish of this year's circuit chase, but they came up agreeing on very little other than the Falcons and Wildcats as the teams to beat.
The guesswork is just in fun, of course. No one — scribe or helmsman — has yet to come up with a successful formula for predicting the MSL pennant race.

Eighteen ballots do afford some early insight on where the power may and may not be. From an overall viewpoint, that potency sits squarely in the Wheeling and Forest View camps. Possibly Prospect may be the chief Falcon threat in the South Division with Fremd and Rolling Meadows affording the 'Cats their toughest opposition in the North.
But again, it all depends on who's viewpoint is being taken into consideration.

The six North coaches, for instance, should be best prepared to predict the outcome in their division. And they see Wheeling just squeaking past Meadows and Fremd with the other three teams trailing at a distance.

They also project pretty much of a two-horse race in the South, figuring Forest View and then the Knights leaving everyone else in their wake. The North Division coaches collectively view the final loop standings like this:

- SOUTH
1. Forest View
  2. Prospect
  3. Elk Grove
  4. Conant
  5. Schaumburg
  6. Buffalo Grove

- NORTH
1. Wheeling
  2. Rolling Meadows
  3. Fremd
  4. Palatine
  5. Hersey
  6. Arlington

The South mentors, on the other hand, see their own division as a four-team scramble with only Schaumburg and Buffalo Grove out of the picture. And they also look upon the North as pretty much of a foregone conclusion with the only tight competition being for third place between Fremd, Arlington and Hersey.

Here's how the South coaches stack things up:

- SOUTH
1. Forest View
  2. Prospect
  3. Conant
  4. Elk Grove
  5. Schaumburg
  6. Buffalo Grove

- NORTH
1. Wheeling
  2. Rolling Meadows
  3. Fremd
  4. Arlington
  5. Hersey
  6. Palatine

The Herald staffers meanwhile see things in a much different light . . . at least in the North Division. They have Hersey being a major threat to Wheeling with the Mustangs basement bound.

The writers do agree that the Knights are the ones Forest View must get by in the South. Here are their tabulations:

- SOUTH
1. Forest View
  2. Prospect
  3. Elk Grove
  4. Conant
  5. Schaumburg
  6. Buffalo Grove

- NORTH
1. Wheeling
  2. Hersey
  3. Fremd
  4. Arlington
  5. Palatine
  6. Rolling Meadows

How does that paint the overall picture? Well, it has Wheeling finishing first in the North and a five-team rush for second place led by Fremd.

And down South it will be the Falcons, pursued closely by the Knights with Elk Grove leading a three-team fight for third. Newcomer Buffalo Grove brings up the rear.

The coaches did not rate their own teams. Out of the 18 total ballots cast, Wheeling polled 15 first place votes in the North while Fremd, Hersey and Rolling Meadows collected one apiece. Forest View had 13 number one nods in the South with Prospect receiving four and Conant one.

The tabulations elsewhere on this page were made on a basis of six points for first place, five for second, et cetera.

DEFENDING CHAMPION Forest View will be led again this year by three-year letterman Larry Monroe. Behind his strong right arm, the Falcons won the Mid-Suburban League title last year. A poll of coaches and writers tabs Monroe & Co. to be on top of their division again.

SLAMMING SOPHOMORE Ed Stubbs of Hersey carded 39-40-79 for medalist honors in pacing the Huskies to the Champaign Invitational Golf title.

Baseball roundup

Wheeling belts Niles West, 17-3

Rain or muddy grounds almost completely called a halt to varsity baseball in the Herald area late last week. Of a whole host of prep games scheduled, only three locals saw action.

Playing on Saturday, Wheeling blasted hosting Niles West, 17-3. Proviso East edged visiting Maine West, 3-2; and Fremd lost to hosting Glenbrook South, 6-3.

WILDCATS HAMMER 16 HITS
Led by the heavy hitting of senior letterman Carl Pfister, Al Newman and George Kaage, Wheeling routed the per-went the first three shutout innings. The hard-throwing senior letterman struck out three, walked two, allowed one hit and two runs.

Gary Wennerstrom went the second three, also allowing just one hit and one run. This senior letterman experienced some wildness in walking five and fanning only one.

Mike Brzuszkiewicz allowed the last hit, fanned one and walked two. He is a junior.

"I expect those two (Kozel and Wennerstrom) to hold everybody down," said DeBolt. They did last year and there's no reason why they can't this year.

"We've got a lot of experienced kids. It doesn't surprise me that they hit well. I expect to win a lot of games."

Center fielder Ken Margalski and third baseman Howie Brauer round out the senior-laden letterman lineup.

VIKINGS VICTIMIZED

Glenbrook South manufactured a four-run outburst in the fourth inning to salt away a 6-3 decision and ruin Fremd's baseball opener.

The Vikings were trailing 2-1 when the hosting Titans chased starter Jeff Brisson with their big salvo. Later Fremd came back to threaten, getting the potential tying run on base, but were unable to produce a decisive blow.

Glenbrook drew first blood in the opening stanza but the guests snapped quickly back into a 1-1 standoff in the second on walks to Steve Dwyer, Scott Orbin and Randy Kraft loading the bases and Pat Gavigan's squeeze bunt single.

The Titans went back out in front in their half of the second and then broke things open two frames later. Jim Recher came on to pitch for the Vikes during the fourth and blanked the hosts the rest of the way, fanning five out of seven.

In the top of the seventh Gavigan drew a walk and Mark Ottman singled. Brisson then rapped out a single, scoring Gavigan, and Bob Burke reached first via a free pass to load up the bases.

A subsequent walk to Dwyer pushed another run across but GBS quelled the uprising after that to wrap up the verdict.

Fremd coach Terry Gellinger liked the relief stint turned in by Recher and saw some potential in his squad's seven-hit attack but showed some concern over their defensive play. "We haven't showed that we're ready to make the good plays consistently yet . . . I hope

Gary Olson approaches the long jump differently than his high school contemporaries. Quite literally.

The Rolling Meadows senior takes the normal run at the takeoff platform, he explodes into the air off one foot, and that's where the similarity ends.

Because Olson then does the darndest thing you've ever seen. He turns a somersault. Right there in the middle of his long jump he becomes a kind of human cannonball.

"He has to get a little more height and a bit more balance," said Olson's coach, Joe Vitton, who watched his long jumper go 18-2½ with the new-fangled method at Arlington Thursday.

Olson's effort was good enough for a second place finish and he also won the triple jump in the conventional manner at 36-10. Rolling Meadows topped Bruce Samore's Arlington squad, 78-61.

Vitton is enthusiastic about Olson's long jumping style, although the somersault method isn't original with the Mustang jumper. "It's hard to say whether this will revolutionize long jumping, but it's a lot like the Fosbury Flop in high jumping. We'll have to wait and see."

The Mustang coach pointed out the advantages of the somersault — a quicker acceleration and a tighter center of gravity. Plus, the feet are in constant motion and moving out for extra distance at the completion of the somersault.

"I think Olson might reach 20 feet by the end of the season," ventured Vitton. "He's a senior and he figured he's got nothing to lose, so he might as well try the somersault. But you've got to get your courage up just to try it."

Meanwhile, as the rain fell intermittently, John Sloan of Rolling Meadows and Arlington's John Lerchenfeld were the meet's only individual double winners. Sloan won the shot put (54-7½) and the discus (134-8), and Lerchenfeld took firsts in the mile and the two mile.

Lerchenfeld's victories and a couple wins for the Cardinals in the 440- and mile relays weren't enough to counter the Mustangs' depth. Rolling Meadows swept all three spots in the 100- and 220-dashes, with Rick Sutton and Pat Geegan the winners.

Mike Dolinajec, Ben Hathaway, Craig Bernhardt, and Steve Cripe combined to take the two relay races for Arlington, winning the 440 in :45.6 and taking the mile relay in a fine 3:35.6. In addition, Dolinajec notched a win in the 440-yard dash with an excellent clocking of :52 flat.

FOREST VIEW WON 13 of 17 events, including three relay races, in topping Prospect, 91-50. The Falcons of Bill Mohrmann boasted a pair of double winners — Craig Brinkman, who put the shot 52-9 3/4 and heaved the discus 135-11, and Steve Schellenberger, who ran a :23.7 in the 220-yard dash and a 2:06.8 in the 880.

Among the four individual wins for Joe Wanner's Knights were a pair of sterling performances by Mike Skelton. The Prospect hurdler ran the 120-yard highs in :15.4 and he blazed over the 330-yard lows in an excellent :39.9, topping his mark of Tuesday by nine-tenths of a second. The :39.9 ranks as one of the best marks in the state.

Right behind Skelton in the 330-lows, however, was the Falcons' Dave Matz, less than a tenth of a second in arrears.

Instrumental in the Forest View victory were Bill and Mike Mitsos, who ran one-two in the 440 and doubled in the Falcons' winning mile relay. Ed Ernst also helped out for Mohrmann's squad, taking a first in the long jump with an excellent 19-6 and running second in the 100-yard (Continued on Page 2) dash (10.7). Ernst was equally helpful in the 440 and 880 relay wins for the Falcons.

But Rick Mirro of Forest View made the biggest impression, perhaps, with a 10.4 in the 100 on a wet track. Mirro, too, did extra duty on a couple relay winners.

FOR THE THIRD straight time the Hersey track team ran right down to the meet's final event before a winner could be determined. Larry Travis' squad won the Mid-Suburban League indoor title with a victory in the mile relay two weeks ago, and last Tuesday the Huskies had to settle for a tie with Notre Dame.

But on Thursday at Wheeling, Travis again watched as his boys were winners in the mile relay, this time in an excellent 3:35.8, boosting the Huskies into a final 70-69 lead over Jim Nagel's Wildcats.

It was a nip-and-tuck affair with Hersey winning nine events and Wheeling taking eight, but the Huskies had just enough depth to win.

Freshman Tony Becker won the long jump for Hersey (18-11) and he came back to take a third in the triple jump (38-7-2). Jay McCarthy won the mile with a fine clocking of 4:38.6 and he also took a second in the 880 (2:04). Mark Zakula leaped an amazing 40-10 in a wet triple jump and he had enough left to run the 220-yard dash in :24.4, good for a third.

But Travis expected a better showing from his second level of distance runners. McCarthy's mile victory and Ron Stephani's win in the two-mile were the only points Hersey could manage in those races. Wheeling captured the second and third places in both events with Wildcat Rich Reese gaining points in each.

Wheeling's top performances came from Bill Frank in the 330-yard low hurdles (41.1) and Greg Benevento in the pole vault (12-6). The Wildcat 880 relay team of Mike Faba, Pete Piet, Frank, and Art Subria ran the race in a fine time of 1:34.6, the best time so far in the area.

Chris Cooney turned in a second straight 880 run under 2:03 (2:02.8) for the Huskies, and Hersey's Steve Zielke tossed the discus further than anyone in the MSL, 147-1.

Travis had to do without his versatile runner and jumper, Jim Dilenge, who reinjured a leg muscle Thursday. Dilenge, who long jumps, triple jumps, and runs relays, may be out of action for another week or two.

this improves as the season gets underway."

On the mound Gellinger has also developed a wait-see attitude since his entire staff is virtually unseasoned at the varsity level. His hopes for the future lie with juniors Reher and Mitch Gullet and to augment these youngsters he'll be able to move in vets Brisson from center, Jeff Hanisch from shortstop or Kraft from third base.

Brisson is the only southpaw among them.

His crew of returning lettermen consists of Brisson, Hanisch, Kraft, Burke and Otteman. Burke is being groomed for the catching job and Otteman is set for a utility role.

WEST FALLS IN 8TH

Unearned runs in the sixth and eighth innings enabled Proviso East to defeat Maine West, 3-2. West's record dropped to 1-2.

The visiting Warriors held a 2-1 lead heading into the home sixth. Ron Schroeder was on the mound. He fanned the first batter, then got the second on a pop fly before yielding a single.

Schroeder coaxed a fly ball to right out of the inning's fourth hitter. But when Ed Dolan was handcuffed for a two-base error, the runner on first came home, making it 2-2.

The sixth was the last of four innings that Schroeder pitched. Jay Liggett came on and was credited with the loss.

Proviso's winning un was fashioned off a hit batsman, on a 2-2 slow curve, a wild pickoff attempt by Liggett and line single to right field. Liggett's record dropped to 1-1. His win was a no-hit decision over Deerfield.

Proviso went ahead on a first inning run off starter Jim Olsen who worked two frames before yielding to Schroeder. A single, wild pitch, stolen base and another single produced the run. The Pirates collected another hit and had men at first and third before they were retired.

Maine West came back with the game-tying run in the third. It was all Dan Myszka. He walked, stole second and came home when the catcher's throw went wild.

The Warriors took a brief lead in the fifth. Ed Dolan singled then stole second after watching Steve Zuccarini and Schroeder strike out. Myszka then singled him home for West's only run-batted-in. Myszka stole three bases.

West had a scoring chance in the seventh but couldn't cash for profit. Dolan singled, moved to second on a wild pitch and down to third when Zuccarini sacrificed. But then he watched three straight outs.

Save a lot of green on Golden Vigoro.

We'll have Golden Vigoro on sale. But the main reason to buy it isn't to save a buck. It's to save your lawn. Your lawn won't live through the summer without a healthy root system. And before it can grow one your lawn must eat. Golden Vigoro is specially formulated for local soil and weather conditions. It contains all the good things your lawn needs to grow deep, healthy roots and thick green grass. Soon after you use Golden Vigoro you'll see a change in your lawn. You get your money back if you don't like what you see.

How to weed your lawn without getting a sore back.

Now you can weed your lawn at the same time you feed it.

With New Formula Golden Vigoro Weed and Feed.

The Weed part causes dandelions and over 100 other broadleaf weeds to grow themselves to death.

While the Feed part makes your grass grow thick and green. With IBDU. A patented time-release fertilizer that feeds evenly, without causing extra mowings.

So you won't get a sore back from pulling up weeds, or cutting down grass.

Big removal sale on crabgrass.

You don't have to wait until you can see crabgrass to find out whether or not you have it. If you had it last year, you'll have it again this year. There's enough crabgrass seed in your lawn to keep you in the stuff for the next 30 years. But don't despair. You can get rid of crabgrass with Vigoro Rid. Rid contains dacthal, the best known and most proven crabgrass preventer there is. One application keeps crabgrass from rooting its ugly head all year.

If you wait until next year, you won't save any money, and you might not be able to save your lawn.

Shirley Gunderson

Libraries are her love

"You get out of life what you put into it." That's the philosophy that guides Shirley Gunderson, director of media services and special education for Mount Prospect Dist. 57.

Widowed at 29, Mrs. Gunderson decided the best way to rear two daughters alone was to teach. With a bachelor's degree in business administration from Northwestern University and four years of experience at Continental Bank in Chicago before her marriage, Shirley returned to school, earning a master's in education at National College in Evanston.

She then taught kindergarten and fifth grade for several years, enabling her to spend more time, including summers, with her children, Christine and Lee, now both grown.

As the girls matured, Mrs. Gunderson re-evaluated her goals. A lover of books (she has some 2,000 carefully chosen volumes in her personal library), Shirley studied nights, weekends and summers for a master's in library sciences at Rosary College in River Forest. The knowledge she gained she has put to use as librarian at Busse, Gregory and Fairview Schools in Mount Prospect.

IN HER PRESENT position, Mrs. Gunderson is in charge of selecting and maintaining all books, film strips, transparencies and study prints for seven schools, plus her responsibilities of directing special education in the district, a job she took on only recently.

In the past 10 years she has watched the district's libraries expand and become centralized into resource centers. The book collection has increased from 4,000 to 10,000, facilities have doubled and each of the seven resource centers is now fully staffed.

Shirley is proud of her staff. "A boss is only as good as the people who work for her," she says, giving them most of the credit for her efficiency and success.

As a librarian, Mrs. Gunderson has definite ideas about books in general and books specifically for children. She belongs to the Illinois and American Library Associations and was one of eight persons in the United States to be a member of the Newbery-Caldecott Award Committee in 1972. (The committee screens books each year for the best literature and art work for children.) After critiquing nearly 400 books, she attended a week-long conference in Washington, D.C., where the committee made final selections.

SHIRLEY GUNDERSON believes in selecting wisely for young readers, but she opposes censorship. While her own girls were growing up, she let them choose their own reading material. Later they would discuss the books together. In Shirley's opinion, the only "bad" books are the poorly written ones, but if there is need of censorship, she prefers parents make the decision.

School libraries differ from public libraries, she explained. School librarians choose a variety of materials that are valid for all children, but the majority are curriculum-oriented.

Her criteria for selecting books include that they be well written and that the format, type size and spacing between lines suit the age.

School librarians try to encourage a love of literature, browsing, enjoyment of reading . . . and fantasy. Shirley explained: A child with a problem may come to a better understanding through reading stories that illustrate problems similar to his own.

A POOF READER may be helped to enjoy reading through comic books, she said.

Ever seeking to grow herself, Mrs. Gunderson is now working for an administrative certificate at National College. But she doesn't limit her interests to those allied with her profession. Shirley has been known to repair shingles and lay tile. She likes to knit . . . and of course, read. She also enjoys gourmet cooking for small groups of friends.

Other leisuretime pursuits include the opera and theater and membership in the Chicago Art Institute. Shirley also enjoys travel. On their first trip abroad, she and her daughters drove a rented car 8,000 miles through Europe. On her most recent, cruising the western Caribbean, she visited Tikal in Guatemala, climbing the Mayan pyramid ruins there.

"Seeing what people did without technology can make you feel very humble," she said.

It's controversial but...

Reducing plan remains popular

In this slim-oriented, diet-conscious society where trim executives nab promotions and svelte females catch the men, fat is definitely not where it's at.

And that's where HCG comes in. (The initials stand for a hormone called Human Chorionic Gonadotropin).

The main attractions of the diet are quick results and a kind of euphoric, well-fed feeling reported by most patients — the result of a series of daily injections of the hormone.

The HCG program is a highly controversial one in medical circles.

Though it has the support of many members of the American Society of Bariatric Physicians, a group of doctors who treat obesity, it does not have the endorsement of the American Medical Association.

An AMA spokesman in Chicago said the program is not recommended by the AMA for use in weight reduction because it has not been established as safe or effective. University of Michigan medical authorities regard it as possibly "a dangerous use of an extremely powerful hormone."

HCG is produced by a woman's body during pregnancy to convert the extra fat into a source of energy and many doctors claim it triggers the same reaction in obese patients.

Only in the past several years has the program really caught on — first among Hollywood starlets and later among ordinary housewives anxious to lose weight.

At a small clinic in Farmington, Mich., two doctors who have been using the program since 1963 estimated they have treated as many as 10,000 men and women during that time.

"The HCG program is not the answer to the weight problem, but it's a good way to begin from both the physical and psychological approaches," said Dr. Paul Parente, 43, a former chubby himself.

"Diets are usually a very slow, drawn out process, but with this method, results can be seen very quickly," Parente said, "and that's a highly motivating factor to human nature."

Parente and his partner, Dr. A. J. Scharchhill, administer the program at the Farmington Medical Center, about 20 miles outside Detroit. They began testing the HCG method on a limited basis after trying it on themselves first.

From a trial group of 50 patients, their practice grew to the point where the clinic waiting room is often standing room only six days a week.

Prices vary around the country, but the average fee for the HCG program at the Farmington clinic runs under $200. This includes blood tests, nutritional analysis and 23 injections.

Along with the shots, patients must follow a strict but well-balanced 500-calorie diet, with even certain shampoos and deodorants forbidden.

Parente explains how the program works:

"As the body takes in protein, it goes through many reactions and any break in the process may cause the body to convert the intake to fat. It tends to affect the nerve bridge between the brain and the hormonal system which controls the shape of the body. The hormone tends to bring the body shape into the pattern of normally functioning pituitary glands."

Weight loss results recorded by patients utilizing the program have been dramatic.

Parente recalled one woman who weighed 348 pounds and would not leave her home except to drive to the clinic for her daily injection.

"At the then of a year on the program," Parente said, "that woman dropped to a weight of 160 pounds and now she's flying off to Florida and Las Vegas all the time."

Parente believes the injections are excellent stabilizers for weight problems, as well as other disorders of the body.

"The shots are non-toxic and do not overstimulate the body like amphetamines," he said.

"They're also ideal for hypertension to bring the blood pressure down and good for cutting down insulin in the treatment of diabetes."

As with all diets involving some form of human willpower, failures must be expected and Parente admits that it sometimes gets discouraging.

"It's just a matter of getting the person to realize that he has to control his weight problem the rest of his life. He can't come in here and lose a lot of weight and then go back to the same bad eating habits."

But the words of one woman who lost 50 pounds on the program affirm for Parente, its basic attraction, regardless of some of the medical questions raised. "I was a fat, ugly, nothing before I started taking those shots every day," says Linda Fox, a 26-year-old school teacher. "It changed my whole life. Now I look forward to each new day."

(Mrs.) Casey Jones is riding the rails again

CLOVIS, N.M. — Casey Jones is right there mounted to the cabin and riding the rails aboard a diesel locomotive.

And she has the throttle firmly in her hand.

Casey, whose real name is Elaine, is the first woman in the United States to join the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the nation's oldest railroad union.

She doesn't regard being a railroad engineer a particularly difficult profession for a woman and doesn't think of herself as a women's liberationist even though she is among only a few of her sex in the job.

"I couldn't hack being a switchman," she said. "They're on the ground making up the train. I don't think a woman could take the abuse of that job."

"If I were a women's libber, I'd want a job like that."

Casey, a 30-year-old mother of four, was hired by the Santa Fe Railroad last fall and won't become a full-fledged engineer until she finishes a school in Amarillo, Tex., this spring. She is one of three women Santa Fe has hired as engineers.

SHE ADMITS THAT running a train is not the easiest thing to learn.

"Several times I've thought 'I just can't do it,' but the guys have given me encouragement," she said.

Some of the men she works with are proud of her.

"She's got guts or she couldn't go it," said E. R. Moody, road foreman.

The man who hired her said Mrs. Jones has had to put up with the fact that railroad men aren't used to having a woman working by their side.

"For instance, the language around here isn't the best," said W. L. Wootton.

Mrs. Jones' husband, Bill, works for the Santa Fe as a brakeman. Their children, ranging in age from 2 to 12, have accepted her new job.

"They have always heard Bill talk about work, and now they just figure mama's gone to work too," she said.

Suburban Living

ESPECIALLY FOR THE FAMILY

Mary Sherry

Lunch in luxury

With the advent of Women's Lib, many women have spent a lot of time defending their choice to stay home rather than hold an outside job.

They have offered numerous reasons ranging from their convictions on child-rearing to the expense of getting to and from a place of work. However, no one has ever voiced the real reason many women stay home. That reason is lunch.

Lunch is a very special time for me — the only time that is all my own. Alone, I can fix anything my heart desires — or nothing at all. I can eat as early as 10:30 or as late as 2 and fix as little or as much as I want.

But the very best thing about a housewife's lunch is the leftover. Friday I had cream cheese and caviar on homemade French bread — leftovers from a party. (Try bringing that in a brown bag! Or worse, imagine explaining it to the rest of the girls in the office.) Today I had peanut butter, not because there was nothing else, but because I just felt like having it.

THERE ARE PROBLEMS about lunch at home, however. I sometimes have a hard time hiding the choice remains from a meal. My children have been quick to catch on to the glories of a good leftover, and now nothing in the refrigerator is safe for more than 24 hours. Just last Thursday I checked the box at noon to plan a feast and found several little packages wrapped in foil, each with a child's name on it.

Another problem of such luxurious lunching is that occasionally one can forget oneself in the home of another. This happened very dramatically to me a short time ago at my mother-in-law's.

Now I feel very much at home in her house, and during a recent visit, she suggested that for lunch I help myself to anything that appealed to me. I rummaged around in her refrigerator and came up with a glorious leftover.

"COLD TURNIP?" my mother-in-law asked in horror when she saw what I was eating.

For a moment I was confused because she loves turnips. In fact, her house is the only place I can get turnips, and the way she cooks them is exquisite. Then I remembered that my mother-in-law has worked for a long time and probably has not cultivated an appreciation for the noontime treasures hidden in her refrigerator.

I suppose that someday I too will join the 8 to 5 brown bagging bunch, if ever I can wrench myself away from the refrigerator. But I know that I'll always long for these times of cold chili and abandoned meat loaf. And I'll resign myself to the fact that everyone's days of peanut butter without apology are numbered.

'Superspender' tag well earned by teen girls

Have you ever wondered why stores devote so much of their floor space to the teenage market? Do you feel slighted when you walk into a store only to find mostly short crop tops, tight sweaters and wide-legged pants?

This isn't a mistake on the part of merchandisers; it is intentional. The youth market is one of the biggest.

The research department of Seventeen magazine reports that the teenagers you see are disguised — actually they are the "Superspenders." There are 9 million teenage girls in this country and although you may think the only things they buy are blue jeans and work shirts, quite the contrary is true.

According to the Seventeen survey, teenage girls spend $3 billion a year on back-to-school wardrobes alone. Here is a breakdown of what the "Superspenders" purchase per year:

- Accessories — $157,469,000
- Sweaters — $204,154,000
- Suits — $223,244,000
- Hosiery — $105,340,000
- Jackets and coats — $463,113,000
- Shirts and blouses — $148,243,000
- Pants — $445,386,000
- Dresses — $347,202,000
- Skirts — $97,792,000
- Foundations, lingerie and sleepwear — $285,132,000
- Footwear — $351,566,000

Now you know why the junior departments take up a sizeable part of store floor space.

FRAN WILSON, second grade teacher at St. John's Lutheran School in Schaumburg, has a unique approach to fashion and teaching.

Fran bought material for a dress, took it to school and let her pupils at it with Magic Markers. She then took the material home and made it into a dress which she wore proudly for parent visitation night.

She wasn't the only one who was proud. Kids pulled their parents by the hand to Miss Wilson's side to point out the portion of the dress they created.

More than 96 per cent of all food stores now sell hosiery, according to Leggs Products, Inc. Over-all hosiery sales in the United States have declined five per cent since 1970, but sales of hosiery in food outlets have increased.

RUNNING A TRAIN is not the easiest job in the world, says Casey (Elaine) Jones, a New Mexico mother of four who's learning to be a diesel locomotive engineer.

Spring snow hinders wedding guests

The Farmer's Almanac predicted seven inches of snow in March this year, but it did not foretell that all seven inches would fall on the same day.

That did occur March 23, and the deluge dampened the wedding festivities of Janet Sue Whitaker of Cahokia, Ill., and William Frederick Heibig of Elk Grove Village.

The couple were married at seven that evening in Edgemont Bible Church, East St. Louis, before a group of 40 guests — not the 150 who were expected. The unusual spring snowstorm prevented most of the Chicago area guests from making the trip either by car or by air. Only those who had gone down to southern Illinois the day before were in the church.

But Janet and Bill did exchange vows and rings in a candlelight ceremony, and then greeted guests who were able to get through the snow at a buffet reception in Cahokia Knights of Columbus Hall.

JANET IS THE daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Whitaker of Cahokia. Bill's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Curt H. Heibig, 646 Dauphine Court, Elk Grove.

The newlyweds met at Southern Illinois University on Janet's first day there. She is a junior majoring in journalism. He will graduate in spring and receive a commission of Second Lieutenant from the Air Force ROTC.

The bride will complete her senior year at SIU while Bill awaits orders for church.

Ushers were Bill Kuecks and Russell Malone, both of Elk Grove Village.

Janet wore a white Empire gown accented with embroidered daisies and carried white daisies, pink roses and baby's breath. Her attendants were gownned in pink and carried nosegays of pink daisies and baby's breath.

The newlyweds honeymooned in Florida before returning to the university.

pilot training in the air force. He is a '70 graduate of Elk Grove High School.

Charlotte Burris of Cahokia was maid of honor for the nuptials, and Beverly Serafin, Chicago; Eileen Merkin, Skokie; and Pam Fox, Forest Park, were bridesmaids.

THE GROOM'S cousin, George K. Busse, Mount Prospect, served as best man, with John Serfain, Roger Hofeldt and Lee Brodsky, all SJU students, as groomsmen.

Also in the bridal procession was Barbie Thompson, 7, of Millstadt, Ill., as flower girl.

Take it easy!

If you like to experiment with making your own cosmetics at home, remember these two things. Try not to make too much of an experimental batch. If it turns out unsuccessfully, your natural, sometimes expensive, ingredients will be wasted. Also, your homemade cosmetics won't have the preservatives that commercially prepared ones do and bacteria will grow if they are kept too long. (NEA)

Grow own produce

If wilted and tasteless produce gets you down, plan a garden and grow your own in the season ahead. Vegetables picked when ripe and eaten when fresh are worlds apart from items shipped hundreds of miles and passed through many hands.

Next on the agenda

PALATINE JUNIORS

Election of officers heads the agenda Tuesday evening for the Junior Woman's Club of Palatine. The group meets at 8 p.m. in Christ Lutheran Church fellowship hall, 41 S. Rohlfing Road, Palatine.

The slate includes Carole Komarewicz, president; Rancee Bihun, vice president; June Stoudt, recording secretary; Diane Fouch, corresponding secretary; and Ann Kivi, treasurer.

Revisions will be made for the next club year and allocations made for money earned this season. An open discussion for the year's service projects will also be held.

Hostesses for the meeting are Mimi Batts, chairman; Lou Stremmel, Maryellen Morris, Harriet Kozlicki, Jane Berenson, Barbara McGuire, Catherine Portera and Karen Mitchell. Area women interested can call Mrs. Komarewicz, 359-2833.

DELTA ZETA

Sergeant Gordon Mosby, commander of police community relations for the Palatine Police Department, will speak on "Drug Abuse" and related topics for the Arlington Heights Chapter of Delta Zeta Alumnae Tuesday, at 7:45 p.m. Mrs. Dan Lemanski, 81 Middleton, Palatine, will be the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Richard Leslie.

SCHAUMBURG HOMEMAKERS

Mayor Virginia Hayter of Hoffman Estates will be guest speaker at Tuesday's meeting of Hanover-Schaumburg Unit, Homemakers Extension Association. Her subject is "Making Your Voice Heard in Your Community." The group meets at 7:30 p.m. in the small meeting room at Schaumburg Township Library.

Co-hostesses will be the unit secretary, Mrs. Walter Fraas, and Mrs. Jens Jensen.

MT. PROSPECT HOMEMAKERS

Mount Prospect Unit, Homemakers Extension Association, meets Wednesday at 10 a.m. in the local community center. Mrs. Alfons Goffinski will teach members to make chrysanthemums.

After a business session, Paul Caldwell of the local Park District, will speak on "Making Your Voice Heard in Your Community."

CANADIAN WOMAN'S CLUB

"Fun, Figure and Fashions" is the title of the next program for North Shore Canadian Woman's Club, which includes women from the northwest suburbs.

ALPHA XI DELTA

Wednesday's meeting of Chicago Northwest Suburban Alumnae of Alpha Xi Delta will be a joint one with alumnae from the North Shore chapter.

They will gather at 7:45 p.m. at Drake Funeral Home, Park Ridge, to honor the outstanding alumnae of each group and the women who have been alumnae for 50 years.

Meeting hostess will be Mrs. Donald Van Dragt of Barrington and co-hostess, Mrs. John Werhane, Mount Prospect.

Mrs. Donald Landwer and Mrs. Doris Oddy, hostesses for the sorority's June convention, will give details of arrangements being made for the event.

KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA

Arlington Heights area alumnae of Kappa Kappa Gamma will meet in the lecture hall of Arlington Heights Museum, 500 N. Vail at 8 p.m. Wednesday for a tour of the facility.

Co-hostesses Mrs. Robert Fletcher and Mrs. Patrick McGrath will serve dessert and coffee following the tour, and the County Store of the Museum will be open for browsing through the antiques and handcrafted items.

LA LECHE LEAGUE

Hanover Park-Schaumburg La Leche League will hold its first meeting in a four-part series on breastfeeding Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the home of Mrs. James Tully, 216 Alpine Drive, Schaumburg. The topic is "Advantages of Breastfeeding to Mother and Baby."

Mrs. Richard Malter will lead the discussion and is available for counseling and further information at 894-8839.

Printed material and a loan library of books on related subjects are available. All women interested in nursing their babies are invited as are their babies.

KIWI CLUB

The Chicago Kiwi Club meets Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Peter Racz of Roselle.

Membership in the Kiwis is open to all former American Airlines flight attendants. Mrs. Frederick Bragiel of Arlington Heights can be called by those interested.

Schaumburg women to deal the cards

The second annual card party held by Schaumburg Women's Club is Wednesday, April 24, at 7:30 p.m. in St. Marceline Church, 820 S. Springinguth Road.

Tickets are $2.50, but senior citizens are invited at $2. The tickets may be purchased at the door or in advance from Andrea Conaway, 894-2072.

HANDMADE CANDLES will glow at a "Sunshine" dinner fashion show April 25 for Wheeling-Buffalo Grove Welcome Wagon Newcomers Club. Pouring candles are Carol Sherwan, Barbara Mazurek, Ruth Birkholz and Peggy Antognoli. The show, at Wheeling High School, features the Fashion Tree and Mars Juvenile. Tickets are $3.50.

Accent's on spring flowers for hospital auxiliary lunch

A theme of spring flowers is a natural for this season's luncheon in store for Northwest Community Hospital Women's Auxiliary.

Flowers will bloom all over Inverness Golf Club on Thursday, May 2, when the auxiliaries, volunteers and guests meet for cocktails at 11:30, a noon luncheon and a program on dried floral arrangements.

Mrs. Pat Mottweiler Jr., hospitality chairman, heads the planning committee.

"Flowers by Helen" is the topic of the program on dried floral arrangements, afternoon demonstration, according to Mrs. Jean Casciaro, program chairman. Helen, who owns a flower shop in Mundelein, will show the women how to make dried arrangements from spring flowers, so they can be enjoyed after the season is long gone.

HELEN HAS studied landscape architecture at both Iowa State and Michigan State Universities. She worked for Mangels in the Palmer House, Chicago, before opening her own shop called Flowers by Helen three years ago in Mundelein.

Cost of the May luncheon is $4.50. Reservations can be made with Mrs. Mottweiler, 259-2388.

Northwest Community Hospital Auxiliary is open to all area women over 19 years of age. Membership chairman Cornelia McElroy, 392-2102, will give information to those interested.

Cambridge women to take a fling

The fifth annual dinner dance arranged by Cambridge Countryside Women's Club is Saturday, May 4, at the Lancer in Schaumburg. Cocktails begin at 7 p.m., with dinner at 8 and then dancing to the Combo Counts.

Tickets for the "Spring Fling" are $30 per couple, and include all beverages. They may be purchased from club officers or by calling Anita Schwein, 537-2199.

Cleaning chimneys for chimney sweeps

Dear Dorothy: We used our fireplace more than ever this winter. It sounds kooky, I know, but have you ever heard of anybody cleaning their own flues? — Eileen Breathard.

This is one time you can think wistfully about those English chimney sweeps, isn't it? It's such a sooty, miserable job I can't imagine many homemakers taking it on. But if you insist, Albert Johnson offers a suggestion. It entails climbing onto the roof with a rope to which a brick and a brush are tied. Pulling up and down will dislodge much of the soot — which falls into the fireplace and is later sucked up by a vacuum cleaner. When I think of all the sooty dust floating around the room I shudder. Better by far, really, to call some professional cleaning outfit.

Dear Dorothy: Your followers might be interested in how to remove stains from baby garments. Make a solution of one-half cup of hot water, one-half cup of chlorine bleach and three tablespoons of any good liquid laundry detergent. Wearing rubber gloves, work this well into the stain with the fingers; then launder as usual, but use an extra rinse cycle. This solution has never taken color out of pretty bibs, shirts and so forth. — Susan J. Berkey

Dist. 21 incumbents Crise, Lane retain seats; soundly whip rivals by 2-1 margin

Dist. 21 school board incumbents Jeremiah Crise and Jack Lane will retain their seats for another three years, after soundly defeating their opponents in last Saturday's election.

Crise and Lane, both of Arlington Heights, each received more than twice as many votes as their nearest competitor, Carol Karzen, 430 Regent Dr., Buffalo Grove. Mrs. Karzen was the only candidate endorsed by the Dist. 21 General Caucus.

The final tally showed Crise with 577 votes, Lane with 575. Karzen with 269 and Alberts Vigants, also of Buffalo Grove, with 100 votes.

About 819 residents participated in the election, compared to 1,000 who cast ballots last year. Voting was heaviest at Alcott School in Buffalo Grove.

DIST. 21 Business Mgr. Jim Gochis said the Easter holiday probably was the reason for the relatively low turnout. Many persons were thought to have left town for the weekend.

Three write-in ballots were cast with David Templer, Mary Claire Noonan and Stanford Solomon each receiving one vote.

Crise will be embarking on his third term on the Dist. 21 board. Lane is beginning his second term.

The school board will conduct an organizational meeting at 8:15 p.m. tonight at the administration building, 999 W. Dundee Rd., Wheeling. The board will canvass Saturday's voting, select regular meeting dates and times and elect officers for the coming year.

Summer job seekers headed for rough time this year

A Herald Staff report

High school and college students in search of summer jobs are apparently in for another rough year.

Employment prospects this summer are not expected to be good, according to a number of employment directors. Some business experts predict the increase in the minimum wage law authorized this week will make it more difficult for students to obtain temporary summer work. And if an increase occurs in the general unemployment rate as the summer approaches, it will mean an even greater deterioration in the temporary job market, a spokesman for the Illinois State Employment Service says.

"I doubt if it will be very good," the spokesman said. "I'm not very optimistic about what the prospects might be. We still have a good many people looking for permanent jobs and they would be the ones who would probably be hired first."

Some summer openings are expected in most companies and early application is being urged, even though in many cases job inquiries have already far surpassed the number of positions likely to be available.

LOCALLY, FOR example, the summer application deadline at Northwest Community Hospital was March 1. "We have already had several hundred applications," public relations spokesman Ann Finney said.

Although summer positions at the hospital are available each year, she said most are filled by students who have worked for the hospital in the past.

The Schaumburg Park District's summer swimming pool jobs were all filled last month. Students began coming in as early as November for the openings. "Kids are coming in 'til they're coming out of our ears," a park district spokesman said.

The same problem exists in many villages and cities where too many applicants have already applied for summer jobs.

THE SITUATION is not quite so bleak in the manufacturing and retail areas, according to several local company personnel directors. They add, though, that the summer job market this year is not expected to improve greatly over last year.

"Our managers don't make their commitments until the end of May, but the picture is not encouraging, I'm afraid," according to Western Electric employment interviewer Irene MacLean. "It looks pretty grim. I have been accepting some applications from the first of the year, but I definitely tell the students when they come in that I can't promise them anything."

At Spotnails Inc. in Rolling Meadows, only about 10 to 20 openings are expected, according to Mildred Kobus, personnel director.

"We have traditionally hired a number of high school and college students each summer and we anticipate this year will be no different," she said. Applicants are usually encouraged to apply early since those who apply first are those considered first, she said.

THE MAJOR retail employer in the area, the Woodfield Shopping Center in Schaumburg is expected to have sales openings for the summer. Sears, Roebuck and Company, for example, sends a list of job openings to the Elk Grove Township YES service, which aids students in finding jobs. Many

Incumbent Duncan, newcomer Falk elected to three-year Dist. 96 school board seats

Incumbent Dist. 96 school board member Jim Duncan and newcomer Howard Falk will begin new three-year terms tonight following their victories in Saturday's school board election.

Duncan polled 276 votes and Falk 235 to defeat the other candidate, Dr. David Epstein who received 160 votes.

Falk will replace Frank Clayton on the school board. Clayton did not seek reelection to the Dist. 96 school board in order to run successfully for a term on the Dist. 125 school board.

Clarke Walser, who ran unopposed for an unexpired two-year term, captured the largest share of the vote, with 325 ballots cast in his favor.

All candidates in Saturday's election were residents of Buffalo Grove.

Jim Duncan

bered 402, somewhat down from the total vote cast in last year's election, according to Dist. 96 Supt. William Hitzeman. The majority of ballots were cast at Precinct Two, Willow Grove School in Buffalo Grove, where 258 residents voted.

Hitzeman said the poor turnout was probably because of the Easter holiday. Local schools recessed for the annual vacation last Thursday and the superintendent felt many families probably went out of town for the weekend.

Despite the Easter holiday, state law requires that Illinois school board elections must always be conducted on the second Saturday in April.

Saturday's voting will be canvassed at a meeting set for 7:30 p.m. tonight at Kildeer School in Long Grove. The old board will be adjourned and new members seated. A president and secretary of the board pro-tem will be elected.

Clayton, Carlsson, Swanson win seats on Dist. 125 board

Frank Clayton of Buffalo Grove will trade his seat on the Dist. 96 school board for a three-year position on the Dist. 125 board tonight.

Clayton, Arne Carlsson of Lincolnshire and William Swanson of Prairie View will be installed as new members of the Dist. 125 school board at a meeting scheduled for 8 p.m. tonight at Adlai Stevenson High School in Prairie View.

After completing a three-year term on the Dist. 96 school board this spring, Clayton decided to seek election to the high school board. He polled 531 votes, behind Swanson who received 761 votes, and Carlsson, who got 668 votes.

OTHER CANDIDATES participating in the election were Howard Boltz, Lincolnshire, who received 401 votes, William Apostolakis of Long Grove who received 345 votes and Lorenz Schmidt of Mundelein, who got 256 votes.

About 1,153 Dist. 125 residents cast ballots in the election, with the voting heaviest at Precinct 1 at Sprague School in Lincolnshire.

According to Dist. 125 Assistant Supt. Edwin Ellis, the turnout for the election was the largest in the district since 1969. Absentee ballots submitted numbered 45 as compared to the average of 12 usually turned in, Ellis said.

Clayton, Swanson and Carlsson will replace Justin Fishbein and Glen Miller, both of Long Grove and Rex Reade, a resident of an unincorporated area near Lake Forest.

The voting in Saturday's election will be canvassed at tonight's meeting and officers for the coming year will be elected.

Honored at Oklahoma

Debra Nan Epten and Wayne Arthur Wolter, both of Buffalo Grove, were named to the fall, 1973 honor roll at the University of Oklahoma.

Honor roll students must have a minimum grade point average of 3.0 and be enrolled in a minimum of 12 credit hours.

Chief judge expected to approve village hall site

Circuit Court branch set for Wheeling

by TONI GINETTI

A second courtroom for the 2nd Cook County Circuit District Court is expected to be established in Wheeling.

Chief Judge of the 2nd District Harold Sullivan told The Herald Friday he would recommend to Circuit Court Chief Judge John Boyle that the second courtroom be established in the Wheeling Village Hall. Boyle is expected to approve the new court. Permission to use the village must also be confirmed by village officials, but because Wheeling has requested the courtroom facility before village approval is expected.

Parking facilities at the village hall would have to be increased to allow the courtroom, but Wheeling officials have indicated the parking could be provided if confirmation of the courtroom was received.

"We all think it would be well if we had more courtroom space and the space that we think would be most beneficial is the village hall in Wheeling," Sullivan said. "We feel that we might well be able to set up one there."

SULLIVAN SAID Wheeling court would hear traffic cases on Fridays from Wheeling and Buffalo Grove police. He added the selection of the site was needed because "there is no question that we need more court facilities."

Sullivan confirmed the selection decision hours after meeting with local chiefs of police to discuss overcrowded courtroom conditions in the area and presumably to decide on the second courtroom location.

Speculation had indicated that either Wheeling or the City of Rolling Meadows would be selected as the second courtroom location. Sullivan said Friday Wheeling was a more suitable location.

"We felt that the location of the Wheeling courtroom would be better because the problem of Wheeling and Buffalo Grove getting to Arlington Heights is much greater than Rolling Meadows getting to Arlington Heights," Sullivan said.

"Considered from that angle, it seems rather logical (to select Wheeling)."

ROLLING MEADOWS Police Chief Lewis R. Case said Friday he was pleased that the second facility would be established and said the Wheeling site would benefit the city even though Rolling Meadows was not selected for the court site.

"It will reduce the court time for us," Case said. Currently Wheeling, Buffalo Grove and Rolling Meadows traffic cases are all heard on the same day in court. "I'm happy," Case added.

Local police officials have of late become more vocal in their criticism of the overcrowded courtroom conditions at the Arlington Heights facility. The criticism reached a peak two weeks ago when more than 320 cases were scheduled in one day at the court.

THE SITUATION prompted Case, an officer in the local chapter of the Illinois Assn. of Chiefs of Police, to ask Sullivan's appearance at the Friday meeting.

Wheeling Village Pres. Ted C. Scanlon said Friday the second courtroom is "very essential to the area," adding "I thank Judge Sullivan from the bottom of my heart."

"It's something I've been long fighting for," Scanlon said. "We invited them out and showed them our facilities. I am a firm believer that if you are a resident of Wheeling and you get a ticket in Wheeling you should be heard in Wheeling. They shouldn't have to go driving all over creation to be heard."

Scanlon said the village police department would benefit in the reduction of overtime pay for policemen on court time and by permitting police to spend more time on patrol.

He added the paving required for additional parking facilities have been anticipated "for a long time." He said the village had intended to pave the area for additional parking and that the courtroom decision will merely bring about the work faster.

Will new wage law cut teen jobs?

by KAREN BLECHA

Higher prices and teenage unemployment could be results of the new federal wage law that will raise the minimum wage to $2 an hour May 1 and to $2.30 an hour by 1976.

Business officials predict many summer jobs for teens will be eliminated, especially in restaurants that rely on young, cheap labor to make a profit. Labor leaders, however, say the wage hike will not create an increase in unemployment.

"This is going to ruin drive-in restaurants in my opinion," said Larry Buckmaster, director of the Chicago and Illinois Restaurant Assn. "Other restaurants will raise their prices. The increase will have to be passed on to the consumer because so many restaurants are just holding on now because of high food costs. The bad part is that they can raise prices only so high or the public will say it is cheaper to stay home. So we are caught in the squeeze."

U. S. REP. Philip Crane, R-12th, called the new law "a piece of well-intentioned legislation that would have the impact of throwing people out of work."

of the jobs will be available only to those 18 years old and older.

Palatine

The village public works department hires approximately 10 students each summer, but because many students return each year for their jobs, only three or four openings are expected this summer. Palatine residents are given preference in selection and students should apply now at the public works building, 148 W. Illinois Ave.

The Palatine Park District has positions in park maintenance, golf course maintenance, playground program leaders, swimming pool guards and recreation program assistants. Students should apply at the administration office, 282 E. Palatine Rd. Salaries vary with experience and job.

The Community Child Care Center of Palatine Township may hire some teenagers for summer positions in preschool day-care. For information, students should contact Arlene Alvis at 991-1030.

The Palatine Township Highway Department will have one or two openings for summer mowing and clearing. Applicants should have experience with farm and truck equipment. Apply at the office, 530 N. Smith St., or by phoning 358-6336.

The Palatine Jaycees are also exploring the possibility of setting up a program to help teens find summer work.

Rolling Meadows

The Rolling Meadows Park District will hire about 25 teenagers this summer for pool and recreation programs. There is also a junior program in which junior high and high school students under 18 can work several hours for pool privileges and other activities. These students will have preference in later hiring, according to facility coordinator Rudy Nelson.

Some jobs are also available each year with the city public works department. Applications can be placed at the city hall, 3600 Kirchoff Rd.

Arlington Heights

James E. Monroe, director of buildings, grounds and auxiliary services for school Dist. 25 said there is already a list of 35 applicants for eight available summer positions. Chances for jobs here are "not too good," he said.

He added, however, that the district is looking into the possibility of a joint program with the village and park district to hire students for the Ecology Corps. The district would share the salary costs in hiring, with each governing body expected to contribute about $5,000. The program would allow 14 and 15 year olds to work in maintenance and clean-up projects as a type of "learning experience." They would be paid about 90 cents per hour and work several hours per day.

Schaumburg Township

The township YES program, a student job referral service, is currently distributing brochures and cards to employers in the area as well as residential areas to find house and yard work that might be available.

YES will also set up outposts in the high schools soon to sign up students who are interested in summer jobs. The service reports some good news for students in that it currently has more jobs than students to fill them.

Buffalo Grove

Village Clerk Verna Clayton said the village participated last year in the federally funded Neighborhood Youth Corps but is unsure yet if it will participate again this summer.

There is a possibility the village public works department will again be hiring about 10 college students for the summer if the village board approves the hiring. Applications, however, have already exceeded the number of jobs.

The Buffalo Grove Park District plans to hire about 60 students this summer, 30 of whom will be counselors at playgrounds and the rest to maintain swimming pools, work as life guards and operate concession stands. An additional seven or eight students will work on the park maintenance staff.

Des Plaines

The city will hire only about a dozen students, most of whom have had the jobs in past summers. The city park district will hire about 300 students for summer work but many of these positions will also be filled by returning students. Park district officials said students may still apply.

Wheeling

Village Mgr. George Passolt said interested students should be applying now for about seven openings that may be available in the public works department. However, most students hired are returning workers.

The Wheeling Park District will have positions for playground leaders, cashier and pool attendants. Pay varies from $1 to $3 per hour.

The district will also hire a tennis instructor, although all other specialized instructors have been hired.

For students 12 to 15 the district will offer an Ecology Corps. About 10 students will be hired to maintain playgrounds and parks. All applicants should apply now, advises Rich Haddock, recreation director.

Elk Grove Village

All 150 summer positions in the village park district have been filled. Pays will range from $1.25 to $3.50 per hour depending on the job and experience.

The Elk Grove Village Youth Employment Service will be placing students. Elk Grove Village is considering a student employment program to operate throughout the year. Boys are being hired in the streets and water department at $2.50 an hour.

Elk Grove Township also has an employment service. Persons interested in working through the agency can call 437-0300.

Mount Prospect

Rick Pyle of the village park district staff said the district will hire 70 to 80 high school and college students for recreation position. The jobs are expected to be filled by April 26. spots are filled; some 10 to 15 openings remain in the recreation position. The jobs are expected to be filled by April 26. Minimum pay is $2 an hour for general recreation, $1.75 an hour for swimming pool. Students work 30 to 35 hours a week.

Hospital branch hopes to open doors by mid-1976

by LYNN ASINOF

The Franklin Boulevard Community Hospital is hoping to have its proposed Wheeling area satellite branch open for business by mid-1976.

"I'm hoping that 24-25 months from today we can say to the community 'Come in, we're ready to serve you,'" said Franklin Boulevard executive director Patrick DeMoon.

DeMoon said he expects the project to move quickly as soon as final approval is granted by the state. Last week the Illinois Hospital Licensing Board recommended approval of the proposed 228-bed facility.

The recommendations are now being reviewed by Dr. Joyce Lashoff, Director of the Illinois Department of Public Health. DeMoon said he expects to receive final approval of the project in about two weeks.

THE PROPOSED hospital is to be located on the east side of Schoenbeck Road just south of the village and across from Carl Sandburg School.

DeMoon said the hospital now has two options to purchase 30 acres of land at a cost of about $500,000. The second option approved last week, is for 10 acres owned by Roy Lichter immediately south of a proposed Wheeling Park District community park. The hospital previously obtained an option for the 10 acres south of the Lichter property.

Although Franklin Boulevard had been negotiating for a third 10-acre parcel, DeMoon said he thinks the 20-acre site "will be sufficient for us."

As soon as final approval is granted by the state, DeMoon said the hospital will begin arranging its financing. "We've already spoken to some finance people and they have assured us there will be no problem," he said.

At the hearing before the state licensing board, hospital representatives testified that Franklin Boulevard will provide $2.5 million for the $11.3 million facility. An additional $2 million would come from fund-raising.

FRANKLIN BOULEVARD is also planning to make use of a new state law that allows the hospital to finance part of the construction with general obligation bonds that are purchased through use of either Wheeling's or Cook County's name to lower interest rates.

Norman Davis, hospital consultant, said the arrangement will not affect taxes since the hospital will redeem the bonds. He said the arrangement will allow Wheeling to take over the hospital when the bonds are redeemed in about 20 years.

"At the end of 20 years or whatever the time period is, it goes to the community if they want it," he said. Davis said that since the hospital debt will already be paid off, this also will not affect local taxes.

DeMOON SAID the hospital plans to exercise its option on the two parcels "the moment we sign the contract with the money people." He said annexation to Wheeling and zoning procedures will be initiated as soon as the property is purchased.

Franklin Boulevard also expects to begin designing the new facility as soon as the final approval is granted. "I would imagine in the next month and a half we will have engaged an architectural firm to start working," DeMoon said.

The hospital is being designed to serve Wheeling-Elk Grove as a primary area. Areas of Mount Prospect, Prospect Heights, Arlington Heights, Northbrook and Lake County have been designated as a secondary service area.

DeMOON SAID the hospital is presently planning to provide a base for local paramedic operations. While the hospital is being designed as a full-service facility, pediatrics and maternity wards are not being planned.

Davis said pediatrics patients will be handled in private rooms unless there is a need for a full children's ward. Maternity care will be provided in the prenatal stages, but delivery facilities will only be used for emergency cases.

The first announcement of the proposed satellite facility was made by Wheeling Village Pres. Ted C. Scanlon last September. Since that time, Franklin Boulevard has been conducting surveys and negotiating for land for the new branch operation.

Dist. 21 wrapup

State grant will lower tax bills

Dist. 21 residents will see a reduction in their 1975 tax bills because the district has received $261,952 from the Illinois Capital Assistance Board in the form of a debt service grant.

The state funds will reduce the 1975 tax levy for the district bond and interest fund by that amount, resulting in tax bills that will show a decrease of about 10 to 12 cents per one hundred dollars of assessed valuation.

A state law recently enacted allowed the district to apply for partial reimbursement for the cost of retiring bonds issued between 1969 and 1972 for the construction of new schools.

Bond sale authorized

School Dist. 21 is preparing to sell the remaining $1,900,000 of a $4.5 million bond sale authorized by residents in a 1971 referendum.

The school board last Thursday authorized the district's attorneys to solicit bids on the bonds on a 10-year retirement schedule.

Proceeds for the bond sale will be used to partially finance the construction of additions to the three Dist. 21 junior high schools. The additions will accommodate a new vocational education program to be implemented next fall.

Bilingual program an example

The Dist. 21 bilingual program has been selected as an exemplary program to be studied by other school districts throughout the state.

Designed primarily for the large number of Spanish-speaking persons who attend local schools, the program also includes a special course for Spanish-speaking custodians who work in the district.

The program was adopted district-wide last year.

Paper bid awarded

Paper bids for supplies to be used next year were awarded by the Dist. 21 school board last Thursday.

Contracts were given to the Inlander Supply Co. in the amount of $739.04, Itok Co. in the amount of $13,163.02 and Bell and Howell Co. in the amount of $15,252.67.

Will new wage law cut teen jobs?

Crane opposed the minimum wage increase and voted against the bill.

"The majority of those who will be out of work are young people and most of those are blacks," he said. "The minimum wage laws also have an overall effect of artificially raising the salary scale and putting pressure on to raise prices."

These dire predictions won't come true, according to Stanley Johnson, president of the state AFL-CIO.

"It has not happened in the past. In fact, it has helped local communities because residents have a little more money to spend. That actually helps to create jobs," Johnson said.

HE SAID THE new minimum wage is welcome but not enough to meet inflation. "We have striven a long time to upgrade these totally low paid people who are unorganized and subject to the whims of their employers," Johnson said. "We thought the increase would be equitable before inflation, but inflation has wiped out the increase."

According to the new law, signed reluctantly by President Nixon last week, the minimum wage will rise from $1.60 an hour to $2 an hour May 1, to $2.10 Jan. 1, 1975 and to $2.30 on Jan. 1, 1976 for most workers. The raise to $2.30 an hour will take longer for some workers, including farm laborers who will reach the maximum on Jan. 1, 1978.

More than 7 million workers will be covered for the first time by the new law, including 5 million federal, state and local employees, one million domestics and additional retail store, service industry and farm workers. Payment of overtime provisions will be extended to 8 million workers, including employees in hotels, restaurants, nursing homes and bowling alleys.

The federal law covers employees of businesses grossing more than $250,000 a year. Employees of businesses grossing less than $250,000 will also get a higher minimum wage thanks to a state law passed last year. The bill has not gone into effect because of a provision that the state minimum could not exceed the federal minimum.

UNDER THE state law, the minimum will go from $1.60 an hour to $1.75 an hour May 1, to $1.90 an hour on Jan. 1, 1975 and to $2.10 an hour on Jan. 1, 1976. State Rep. Thomas Hanahan, D-McHenry, sponsor of the wage bill, said he will draft a new bill that would bring the state minimum wage up to the federal level. He hopes the bill will be passed and effective by next January.

John Coulter, director of manpower development for the Chicago Association of Commerce and Industry, said documentation has shown that regulations like minimum wages are "not usually very intelligent and usually produce shortages."

"Prices will go up and employment will go down. It will have an effect on summer employees and employees in theaters, outdoor restaurants, dry-cleaning and laundries, and other small businesses. Employers will just try to get along with less people," Coulter said.

BUT ROBERT Genetski, economist for the Harris Trust and Savings Bank in Chicago, said he does not think prices will go up. Employers will mechanize instead.

"The businessman will hire only one worker instead of five and pay him the $2 to run the machine," he said, adding that teens will be affected the most by the wage hike. "If you look back in history you find that every time they raise the minimum wage the unemployment rate for teens goes up about 1 per cent."

"More significant is the loss of freedom," Genetski said. "You may have an individual who wants to work for $1.90 an hour and an employer who would hire him for $1.90 an hour but the government steps in and says no."

Most restaurants will be affected by the federal wage levels. Buckmaster said, because they gross more than $250,000 a year. There is no youth differential in the bill, which would provide a lower minimum wage for teenagers. Attempts to include such a differential in the bill had been

BUT A McDonald's official said dubbed the "McDonald's amendments."

The increase in the wage will not affect the hamburger chain. "The wage increase will have no effect because our average wage is now in excess of $2 an hour," said Matt Lambert, McDonald's corporate relations director. "In fact, McDonald's has favored increases in minimum wages all along."

Prices at Jack in the Box, another drive-in restaurant chain, are expected to go up.

"I don't see the wage hike as a bad thing, but I think prices will go up," said Bill Maddox, Chicago area coordinator for Jack-In-The-Box. "We have to make a profit." He added that his company now starts people with no experience at $1.65 an hour.

Plan commission OKs construction of new bank

The plan commission has given the go-ahead to Buffalo Grove National Bank for construction of its new facility on Dundee Road.

The commission Wednesday night unanimously approved the final engineering plan for the bank, which will be constructed on a 4.5-acre tract on the south side of Dundee Road, west of K Kingswood United Methodist Church. The final plan must now be approved by the village board.

In addition, the commission recommended the village board allow the bank to operate out of a temporary facility until the permanent structure is finished. They suggested the board require the trailer be removed within a year of final approval.

RALPH M. BROUGHTON, who represents the bank owners, said he hopes the 56-b6-12 foot temporary facility will be open for business in about 11 weeks. Construction of the bank is scheduled to begin in about seven weeks and should be ready for occupancy about eight months later.

After the permanent facility is finished, the trailer will be removed from the site, Broughton said. Members of the plan commission said they have no objection to the temporary facility, as long as it is removed when the bank is finished.

Annexation and rezoning of the bank property was approved by the village last year. The bank was acquired at the same time the village approved an adjoining fire station site.

THE FIRE DEPARTMENT only needed about two acres and sold the remaining land to the bank developers. At that time, some residents protested the zoning change, saying it could set a precedent for unlimited commercial development of Dundee Road.

The residents said they were opposed to deviating from the village master plan that calls for residential development at that location.

In addition to the bank, the owners have proposed construction of a medical center. The clinic, which could house as many as 25 doctors, is planned for an area to the rear of the bank. Broughton said he is not sure when construction of the medical center will begin and would not estimate when it might go into operation.

He said his clients are attempting to line up doctors who are interested in renting space in the center and will not move with the plan until a substantial number have made a commitment.

Stevenson High School play to begin May 31

"You Can't Take It With You," a Kaufman and Hart comedy of the late 1940s, will be presented May 31 and June 1 by the drama class at Stevenson High School, Dist. 125, Prairie View.

Laura LaPlaca will play the leading role of Penny Sycamore and Ann Choate has been cast as Grandma Sycamore.

Incumbents Bock and Kisten, newcomer Meyer defeat independents in school race

Two incumbents and a caucus-endorsed candidate won over three independent candidates in the hotly-contested school board election in Des Plaines Elementary School Dist. 62.

Caucus-backed candidates Philip Bock, Stuart Kisten and Wallace Meyer won by a narrow margin over independents, Jay Kuchel, Robert Meute and Mary Kinser. Bock received 1,213 votes; Kisten, 1,097; Meyer, 1,087; Kinser, 946; Kuchel, 870; Meute, 842.

Nearly 2,170 voters turned out for the Saturday elections, twice as many as voted in last year's school board elections. Bock said he was "disappointed by the turnout because I thought it would be larger."

"Between us and the opposition, we covered every residence in Des Plaines," he said. "I'm sort of disappointed there wasn't a higher vote."

Kisten said he was "just glad it's over. A great deal of effort was put forward by a lot of people in the area who believe in the caucus system."

KUCHEL SAID the independent candidates felt they had "accomplished our purpose of having provided the voters of Des Plaines a full choice for the first time in many years — the community has benefited from it."

"We were tremendously encouraged by the turnout in our favor. It is quite obvious there is a great deal of support for independent candidates in Des Plaines,"

Philip Bock

he said. "We hope the school board will now be more responsive to the community, teachers and the needs of our students. We wish the newly elected school board members well in all their tasks."

Bock, a one-year veteran of the board, is a Des Plaines resident. He is midwest region manager of logistics and distribution for Xerox Corp.

Kisten, who is entering his second term on the board, served as chairman of the board's negotiating team during last fall's contract negotiations. A 14-year resident of Des Plaines, he is an internal auditor with Benefit Trust Life Insurance Co.

Meyer is an 11-year resident of Des Plaines. He served on the Dist. 62 referendum committee and is past legislative chairman of the Plainfield PTA. He is a manager of commercial group insurance for the Fireman's Fund, American Insurance Co.

Ritter, incumbent Loska win three-year seats on Oakton Community College board

Harriet Ritter and incumbent Stephen Loska were elected Saturday in a close race for two seats on the Oakton Community College board of trustees.

Mrs. Ritter, 5830 Lincoln Ave., Morton Grove, lead with 2,351 votes and Loska, 1694 Van Buren, Des Plaines, followed with 2,221. Rabbi Harold Stern from Skokie placed third with 2,024 votes and John Prochaska from Park Ridge came in fourth with 1,991.

The vote totals will become official tomorrow night when the Oakton board meets to canvass the results. Ritter and Loska will each serve three-year terms.

About 4,300 people voted in this year's election compared to 6,400 last year. Fourteen of the 24 Oakton precincts in Niles Township voted heavily for the two Niles township candidates and 20 of the 29 precincts in Maine Township voted for the two Maine Township candidates. The largest number of votes came from the

Harriet Ritter

Stephen Loska

10 precincts in Des Plaines Elementary School District 62.

"I was certainly delighted to see the vote that came in from Maine Township because I really didn't have much time to campaign there," said Mrs. Ritter Saturday. She said she does not feel there is a significant difference between the two townships. "I have looked at the district as one district. When it comes to higher education, I feel the town lines mean nothing," she said.

MRS. RITTER is the owner and operator of her own real estate agency in Morton Grove. She was elected last week to the board of directors of the Morton Grove Chamber of Commerce. She is a member of the Morton Grove League of Women Voters and the Illinois Women's Political Caucus. Her campaign centered on improved adult education at Oakton. In a prepared statement earlier this month, she said the primary goal for Oakton "is quality education for all adults and serious recognition of the need of those adults who have been out of school for a number of years."

Loska was elected to the board in 1971 and he said Saturday he would serve only one more term on the board and would not seek reelection in 1977. Loska is a senior scientist for Kraftco Corp. in Glenview. He is married and has seven children.

"I'd like to thank all the people who came out and voted," Loska said Saturday. "A tight race is indicative of thoughtful voting. I congratulate Mrs. Ritter and welcome her to the board. Now is a time for us to set out objectives for next year and try to achieve them."

Newcomers win Dist. 63 race

Two newcomers triumphed over Dist. 63 incumbent Milton Langer for seats on the East Maine Elementary School Board.

Elected to the board were Mrs. Jacquelynne "Penny" Larson and Mrs. Barbara Kipnis, both of Glenview. Nearly 1,690 voters turned out for Saturday's election, more than 500 less than last year. Mrs. Larson received 846 votes, Mrs. Kipnis, 821; and Langer, 202.

Mrs. Larson said the vote indicated that community people feel "the need for better communications between board and community." Both Mrs. Larson and Mrs. Kipnis called for improved board relations with the community during their campaigns.

MRS. LARSON, 35, a mother of three, is a board member of the League of Women Voters of Glenview and has served on its school finance committee. A former board member of the North Shore Assn. for the Retarded, she serves as a volunteer for the Cook County Juvenile Court and the Audy Home.

A resident of Dist. 63 the past 12 years, Mrs. Larson is a self-employed accountant. Her past experience includes positions of acting business manager for a Chicago based non-profit agency which operates ten day-care centers and office manager for a non-profit school in Evanston.

She has served as a PTA member and room mother at Washington School.

Mrs. Kipnis, 31, formerly taught English in a Michigan high school and at Maine South High School. She is a member of the Wilson School PTA board and the Dist. 63 Communication Advisory Committee.

Jacquelynne Larson

Barbara Kipnis

A resident of Dist. 63 for eight years, Mrs. Kipnis is the mother of three. She is Project Pre-Dict coordinator for Wilson School, a volunteer instructional aid and a member of the Dist. 63 volunteer bureau.

Summer job seekers headed for rough time this year

A Herald Staff report

High school and college students in search of summer jobs are apparently in for another rough year.

Employment prospects this summer are not expected to be good, according to a number of employment directors. Some business experts predict the increase in the minimum wage law authorized this week will make it more difficult for students to obtain temporary summer work. And if an increase occurs in the general unemployment rate as the summer approaches, it will mean an even greater deterioration in the temporary job market, a spokesman for the Illinois State Employment Service says.

"I doubt if it will be very good," the spokesman said. "I'm not very optimistic about what the prospects might be. We still have a good many people looking for permanent jobs and they would be the ones who would probably be hired first."

Some summer openings are expected in most companies and early application is being urged, even though in many cases job inquiries have already far surpassed the number of positions likely to be available.

LOCALLY, FOR example, the summer application deadline at Northwest Community Hospital was March 1. "We have already had several hundred applications," public relations spokesman Ann Finney said.

Although summer positions at the hospital are available each year, she said most are filled by students who have worked for the hospital in the past.

The Schaumburg Park District's summer swimming pool jobs were all filled last month. Students began coming in as early as November for the openings. "Kids are coming in 'til they're coming out of our ears," a park district spokesman said.

The same problem exists in many villages and cities where too many applicants have already applied for summer jobs.

THE SITUATION is not quite so bleak in the manufacturing and retail areas, according to several local company personnel directors. They add, though, that the summer job market this year is not expected to improve greatly over last year.

"Our managers don't make their commitments until the end of May, but the picture is not encouraging, I'm afraid," according to Western Electric employment interviewer Irene MacLean. "It looks pretty grim. I have been accepting some applications from the first of the year, but I definitely tell the students when they come in that I can't promise them anything."

At Spotnails Inc. in Rolling Meadows, only about 10 to 20 openings are expected, according to Mildred Kobus, personnel director.

"We have traditionally hired a number of high school and college students each summer and we anticipate this year will be no different," she said. Applicants are usually encouraged to apply early since those who apply first are those considered first, she said.

THE MAJOR retail employer in the area, the Woodfield Shopping Center in Schaumburg is expected to have sales openings for the summer. Sears, Roebuck and Company, for example, sends a list of job openings to the Elk Grove Township YES service, which aids students in finding jobs. Many

Will new wage law cut teen jobs?

by KAREN BLECHA

Higher prices and teenage unemployment could be results of the new federal wage law that will raise the minimum wage to $2 an hour May 1 and to $2.30 an hour by 1976.

Business officials predict many summer jobs for teens will be eliminated, especially in restaurants that rely on young, cheap labor to make a profit. Labor leaders, however, say the wage hike will not create an increase in unemployment.

"This is going to ruin drive-in restaurants in my opinion," said Larry Buckmaster, director of the Chicago and Illinois Restaurant Assn. "Other restaurants will raise their prices. The increase will have to be passed on to the consumer because so many restaurants are just holding on now because of high food costs. The bad part is that they can raise prices only so high or the public will say it is cheaper to stay home. So we are caught in the squeeze."

U.S. REP. Philip Crane, R-12th, called the new law "a piece of well-intentioned legislation that would have the impact of throwing people out of work."

Former trustee Wauck named to fill Oakton board vacancy

Former Oakton Community College Board member LeRoy A. Wauck was named to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of trustee Robert Gutschick.

Wauck's appointment was approved at a special meeting of the board Thursday night. The board met in executive session for more than two hours to consider 12 candidates before naming Wauck.

The Loyola University professor was elected to the founding board of trustees when Oakton formed in 1969. He served as chairman of the Oakton board until his term expired in 1973.

"I'm back for the duration," Wauck said Friday. He said he decided to seek appointment to the remaining year of Gutschick's term because "at this moment when the college is trying to move forward on the land acquisition problems, I felt the resignation of Bob would cause a disruption. I wanted to provide whatever continuity I could."

THE PARK RIDGE resident said he's "always missed the college" and added that he was honored to be chosen for the appointment.

In 1972, Wauck ran for a one-year term on the board on a campaign to drop the college's move to acquire Maryhill Cemetery as its permanent campus. He later came out in favor of a central location for the college and under his direction the board chose a site along Beckwith Road in Morton Grove. The site was later dropped after opposition from the community.

Wauck said Friday he now favors Oakton's choice of a permanent campus along the Des Plaines River in the northwest corner of the district.

"What the college needs is a place to go and to expand," he said. "If we can't accomplish that in a central location then I guess the realistic thing is to go where we're wanted."

A PROFESSOR OF psychology at Loyola University in Chicago, Wauck, who holds a doctorate, also founded a mental health clinic in Wisconsin and is a lecturer and consultant to Marquette University in Milwaukee and DePaul University in Chicago. He has served as president of the Park Ridge Human Relations Council.

Wauck will serve the remaining year of Gutschick's unexpired term. Gutschick resigned from the board April 2 after being arrested and charged with selling LSD to undercover agents from the Metropolitan Enforcement Group (MEG).

Summer job prospects lean again this year

of the jobs will be available only to those 18 years old and older.

Palatine

The village public works department hires approximately 10 students each summer, but because many students return each year for their jobs, only three or four openings are expected this summer. Palatine residents are given preference in selection and students should apply now at the public works building, 148 W. Illinois Ave.

The Palatine Park District has positions in park maintenance, golf course maintenance, playground program leaders, swimming pool guards and recreation program assistants. Students should apply at the administration office, 262 E. Palatine Rd. Salaries vary with experience and job.

The Community Child Care Center of Palatine Township may hire some teenagers for summer positions in preschool day-care. For information, students should contact Arlene Alvis at 991-1030.

The Palatine Township Highway Department will have one or two openings for summer mowing and clearing. Applicants should have experience with farm and truck equipment. Apply at the office, 530 N. Smith St., or by phoning 358-6338.

The Palatine Jaycees are also exploring the possibility of setting up a program to help teens find summer work.

Rolling Meadows

The Rolling Meadows Park District will hire about 25 teenagers this summer for pool and recreation programs. There is also a junior program in which junior high and high school students under 18 can work several hours for pool privileges and other activities. These students will have preference in later hiring, according to facility coordinator Rudy Nelson.

Some jobs are also available each year with the city public works department. Applications can be placed at the city hall, 3600 Kirchhoff Rd.

Arlington Heights

James E. Monroe, director of buildings, grounds and auxiliary services for school Dist. 25 said there is already a list of 35 applicants for eight available summer positions. Chances for jobs here are "not too good," he said.

He added, however, that the district is looking into the possibility of a joint program with the village and park district to hire students for the Ecology Corps. The district would share the salary costs in hiring, with each governing body expected to contribute about $5,000. The program would allow 14 and 15 year olds to work in maintenance and clean-up projects as a type of "learning experience." They would be paid about 90 cents per hour and work several hours per day.

Schaumburg Township

The township YES program, a student job referral service, is currently distributing brochures and cards to employers in the area as well as residential areas to find house and yard work that might be available.

YES will also set up outposts in the high schools soon to sign up students who are interested in summer jobs. The service reports some good news for students in that it currently has more jobs than students to fill them.

Buffalo Grove

Village Clerk Verna Clayton said the village participated last year in the federally funded Neighborhood Youth Corps but is unsure yet if it will participate again this summer.

There is a possibility the village public works department will again be hiring about 10 college students for the summer if the village board approves the hiring. Applications, however, have already exceeded the number of jobs.

The Buffalo Grove Park District plans to hire about 60 students this summer, 30 of whom will be counselors at playgrounds and the rest to maintain swimming pools, work as life guards and operate concession stands. An additional seven or eight students will work on the park maintenance staff.

Des Plaines

The city will hire only about a dozen students, most of whom have had the jobs in past summers. The city park district will hire about 300 students for summer work but many of these positions will also be filled by returning students. Park district officials said students may still apply.

Wheeling

Village Mgr. George Passolt said interested students should be applying now for about seven openings that may be available in the public works department. However, most students hired are returning workers.

The Wheeling Park District will have positions for playground leaders, cashier and pool attendants. Pay varies from $1 to $3 per hour.

The district will also hire a tennis instructor, although all other specialized instructors have been hired.

For students 12 to 15 the district will offer an Ecology Corps. About 10 students will be hired to maintain playgrounds and parks. All applicants should apply now, advises Rich Haddock, recreation director.

Elk Grove Village

All 150 summer positions in the village park district have been filled. Pays will range from $1.25 to $3.50 per hour depending on the job and experience.

The Elk Grove Village Youth Employment Service will be placing students. Elk Grove Village is considering a student employment program to operate throughout the year. Boys are being hired in the streets and water department at $2.50 an hour.

Elk Grove Township also has an employment service. Persons interested in working through the agency can call 437-0300.

Mount Prospect

Rick Pyle of the village park district staff said the district will hire 70 to 80 high school and college students for recreation position. The jobs are expected to be filled by April 26. spots are filled; some 10 to 15 openings remain in the recreation position. The jobs are expected to be filled by April 26. Minimum pay is $2 an hour for general recreation, $1.75 an hour for swimming pool. Students work 30 to 35 hours a week.

Will new wage law cut teen jobs?

Crane opposed the minimum wage increase and voted against the bill.

"The majority of those who will be out of work are young people and most of those are blacks," he said. "The minimum wage laws also have an overall effect of artificially raising the salary scale and putting pressure on to raise prices."

These dire predictions won't come true, according to Stanley Johnson, president of the state AFL-CIO.

"It has not happened in the past. In fact, it has helped local communities because residents have a little more money to spend. That actually helps to create jobs," Johnson said.

HE SAID THE new minimum wage is welcome but not enough to meet inflation. "We have striven a long time to upgrade these totally low paid people who are unorganized and subject to the whims of their employers," Johnson said. "We thought the increase would be equitable before inflation, but inflation has wiped out the increase."

According to the new law, signed reluctantly by President Nixon last week, the minimum wage will rise from $1.60 an hour to $2 an hour May 1, to $2.10 Jan. 1, 1975 and to $2.30 on Jan. 1, 1976 for most workers. The raise to $2.30 an hour will take longer for some workers, including farm laborers who will reach the maximum on Jan. 1, 1978.

More than 7 million workers will be covered for the first time by the new law, including 5 million federal, state and local employees, one million domestics and additional retail store, service industry and farm workers. Payment of overtime provisions will be extended to 8 million workers, including employees in hotels, restaurants, nursing homes and bowling alleys.

The federal law covers employees of businesses grossing more than $250,000 a year. Employees of businesses grossing less than $250,000 will also get a higher minimum wage thanks to a state law passed last year. The bill has not gone into effect because of a provision that the state minimum could not exceed the federal minimum.

UNDER THE state law, the minimum will go from $1.60 an hour to $1.75 an hour May 1, to $1.90 an hour on Jan. 1, 1975 and to $2.10 on Jan. 1, 1976. State Rep. Thomas Hanahan, D-McHenry, sponsor of the wage bill, said he will draft a new bill that would bring the state minimum wage up to the federal level. He hopes the bill will be passed and effective by next January.

John Coulter, director of manpower development for the Chicago Association of Commerce and Industry, said documentation has shown that regulations like minimum wages are "not usually very intelligent and usually produce shortages."

"Prices will go up and employment will go down. It will have an effect on summer employees and employees in theaters, outdoor restaurants, dry-cleaning and laundries, and other small businesses. Employers will just try to get along with less people," Coulter said.

BUT ROBERT Genetski, economist for the Harris Trust and Savings Bank in Chicago, said he does not think prices will go up. Employers will mechanize instead.

"The businessman will hire only one worker instead of five and pay him the $2 to run the machine," he said, adding that teens will be affected the most by the wage hike. "If you look back in history you find that every time they raise the minimum wage the unemployment rate for teens goes up about 1 per cent."

"More significant is the loss of freedom," Genetski said. "You may have an individual who wants to work for $1.90 an hour and an employer who would hire him for $1.90 an hour but the government steps in and says no."

Most restaurants will be affected by the federal wage levels. Buckmaster said, because they gross more than $250,000 a year. There is no youth differential in the bill, which would provide a lower minimum wage for teenagers. Attempts to include such a differential in the bill had been

BUT A McDonald's official said dubbed the "McDonald's amendments." the increase in the wage will not affect the hamburger chain. "The wage increase will have no effect because our average wage is now in excess of $2 an hour," said Matt Lambert, McDonald's corporate relations director. "In fact, McDonald's has favored increases in minimum wages all along."

Prices at Jack in the Box, another drive-in restaurant chain, are expected to go up.

"I don't see the wage hike as a bad thing, but I think prices will go up," said Bill Maddox, Chicago area coordinator for Jack-In-The-Box. "We have to make a profit." He added that his company now starts people with no experience at $1.65 an hour.

Mikva challenges Young on campaign finance issue

The "put up or shut up" between 10th District congressional candidates took another turn as Abner Mikva challenged his opponent to stick to his own principles of campaign financing.

Mikva, in a letter sent to U. S. Rep. Samuel Young, R-10th, late last week, as much as said you abide by your funding guidelines and I'll follow mine. "If you are seriously committed to eradicate the mess of campaign financing, you should abide by the guidelines which you and your campaign manager have formulated," the letter stated.

Little more than a week ago, Young proposed a string of campaign spending limits and challenged Mikva to accept the stringent proposals. Young said he was "calling Mikva's bluff," but Mikva retorted the whole thing was "a gimmick... a con game."

In his letter to Young, Mikva pointed out that during his 10 years in the legislature and his four years in Congress "I made campaign financing reform a priority item." He added that when he announced his candidacy for Congress in November, 1973, he set forth campaign financing guidelines "which I believe are the best interim measures until a public financing bill becomes law."

Abner Mikva

Mikva's guidelines include:

- Making the name of every one of his contributors public.
- Limiting campaign contributions from an organization or individual to $3,000.
- Authorizing only one committee to collect funds for his campaign.
- Full disclosure of the amount and source of all his income as well as a full statement of his net worth.

He noted he has lived up to those self-imposed rules and will continue to do so. At the same time Mikva appeared to decline following the proposals set by Young. They include:

- Both candidates set a limit of $100,000 in campaign spending.
- No contributions be accepted from persons outside of the 10th District.
- Both candidates could accept no more than $10,000 from his respective party's congressional campaign committee.

Young also suggested the $3,000 limit on individual contributions set forth by Mikva.

Mikva called Young's proposals "inconsistent with your past statements on campaign financing, and most important, not at all aimed at the fundamental issues of campaign reform."

HE NOTED THAT in 1973 Young told his constituents a ceiling of $190,000 should be implemented; March 27, 1974 he stated it would be "inappropriate to propose limits on spending;" yet in Young's April 4 letter to Mikva he asked for the $100,000 limit.

Mikva stated Common Cause, a citizens' lobbying group, has called similar spending limit proposals the "Incumbent Protection Act."

"They have estimated the taxpayer-paid allowances of an incumbent as worth more than $300,000. I was reminded of the advantage of these allowances when I received your letter (April 4) which was in an envelope printed at the government's expense... (and) when I re-read your most recent newsletter, sent out to everyone in the District in January... sent out under the frank," Mikva stated adding that the mailing cost taxpayers about $20,000.

Mikva also challenged Young on his use of multiple committees in this campaign "notwithstanding all of the criticism that has been leveled at this campaign reporting dodge."

THE FINAL CHALLENGE to Young stated, "If you think it is wrong to spend more than $100,000, then don't do it. If you think it is wrong to accept contributions over $3,000, then don't do it. If you think that it is wrong to accept contributions from people outside the 10th District then don't do it. In short, stick to your principles."

Young, who is vacationing in Florida and was unavailable for comment, said last week he would not implement the proposals if Mikva rejected them "I would be a damn fool to do this on my own."

City, police near accord in contract negotiations

Police and Des Plaines city officials may be near an accord in police contract negotiations, informed sources have indicated.

A return to the negotiations, table occurred between city officials and representatives of the Des Plaines Combined Counties Police Assn. unit.

Another session has been slated for April 25 and sources close to the talks indicate the two sides may reach a settlement on or about that date.

One union member said wages, the only outstanding issue in the contract, were discussed at the Monday session. He said city negotiators made police a counter wage offer but refused to say how much.

Chapter president Mike Albrecht refused to discuss details Friday but said the contract may be settled before April 30, when the current police pact with the city expires.

LAST MONDAY'S resumption of the talks followed a stalemate of some three weeks in late March and earlier this month over the wage question. Police are reportedly seeking a 12 to 13 per cent raise.

Last year, police and city negotiators reached accord on a 5.5 per cent pay hike late in March.

Another bargaining session between city officials and members of the Des Plaines Professional Firefighters Assn., the firemen's union, also has been scheduled for next week.

Richard Ornsberg, secretary of the chapter said firemen are also hoping for a wage settlement soon with the city. He refused to say, however, how much fire-fighters are asking but added there are several other items besides pay to be discussed.

Blood drive April 23

Maine West High School will be operating a donation center April 23 for the Des Plaines community blood drive.

The blood assurance program must receive blood donations equivalent to 4 per cent of the population in order to continue to provide unlimited blood replacements for all residents. Maine West is also involved in a program which will allow unlimited blood for all its personnel if 20 per cent of the employees donate.

Anyone eighteen years or older may donate blood at Maine West in Room B202 between 8 a.m. and 6 p.m. People interested in donating blood should register with Kay Wall of the Des Plaines Health Department, to receive an appointment time.

"The Maine West student council is doing everything it can to encourage eligible students and community members to donate on April 23," said Lance Carlie, student council representative.

For further information, call the health department, 824-3138.

Local CD chief named to readiness teams

Richard Arthur, Des Plaines Civil Defense Director, has been named to one of two Emergency Readiness Assistance teams in the state. The nationwide Emergency Readiness Assistance (ERA) program began two years ago and has been highly successful in Illinois.

The ERA Program was developed to assist local Civil Defense organizations in developing a workable, realistic disaster plan, an emergency operating center, a good communications system, and to assist in setting up good training programs for local personnel.

The winners

KucharSKI, Wold take Dist. 59

Less than three-quarters of 1 per cent of the estimated 31,000 voters in School Dist. 59 turned out at the polls as two new members of the Elk Grove Township elementary school board were named Saturday.

Paul KucharSKI and Avis Wold, as expected, won their seats in an uncontested election.

Only 225 cast their votes at the district's 16 polling places. KucharSKI drew 217 votes, while Mrs. Wold had 215.

A handful of write-in candidates, including comedian Bill Cosby received the rest of the votes.

Both candidates said they were anxious to begin their duties on the board.

The light turnout, even lighter when it's considered that 48 of the votes belonged to election judges, was blamed on the fact that two of the races affecting the township, Districts 214 and 59, were uncontested.

The highest voter turnout was in the candidates' own districts. Juliette Low School in Arlington Heights, where two of KucharSKI's children attend, saw 22 voters, while Mrs. Wold's neighborhood school, Clearmont, in Elk Grove Village, saw 30 voters cast their ballots. The lightest turnout came at High Ridge Knolls School in Des Plaines, where a mere seven turned out to vote during the seven-hour period.

4 newcomers take Dist. 207 seats

Nearly 3,000 voters turned out Saturday to elect four newcomers to the Maine Township High School Dist. 207 board in an uncontested race.

Voter turnout was lower than last year, when nearly 4,000 people went to the polls. Elected to the board were Anne Evans, Donald Goll, Robert P. Cornelsen and Robert S. "Steve" Stavrakas.

Mrs. Evans, a 23-year resident of Des Plaines, was a representative to the 1970 Illinois Constitutional Convention and served as vice chairman of its education committee.

Goll, a Park Ridge resident, is vice president in charge of sales for Moxness Products, Inc. A former Park Ridge alderman, he has served as chairman of citizens' committees for bond referendums in both districts 64 and 207.

Cornelsen, a Park Ridge resident, is assistant vice president at the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago. He is an auditor and trustee for the Park Ridge Community Church and a director of the Park Ridge University Club.

Stavrakas, a Park Ridge resident, is an administrative assistant for staff and community relations in Wheeling Township Dist. 21.

Mrs. Evans received 2,938 votes; Goll, 2,660; Cornelsen, 2,669 and Stavrakas, 2,626.

Swimming pool rates stay same as last year: parks

by BOB GALLAS

The Elk Grove Park District board has voted to keep swimming pool rates the same for the coming summer but will consider at its next meeting a proposal to raise park district program rates for the first time in several years.

The board voted to keep swimming rates the same after considerable discussion. The district has been wrestling with the problem of financing the pool's operation for several months.

The pool has been operating at a $5,000 per year deficit. Board financial consultant David Von Schaumburg reminded board members that pool revenue has gone down following past rate increases because attendance dropped off.

Board president Lew Smith said he didn't see anything wrong with operating the pool at a loss, if the loss wasn't substantial.

The board toyed with the idea of eliminating a discount for early pass pur-

Pool open this week

The Elk Grove Park District's Disney Pool complex will be open all this week for open swimming.

The indoor pool will be open Monday through Friday from 2 p.m. until 5 p.m. Admission will be $1 for adults and 50 cents for children.

The pool is adjacent to Lively Junior High, 999 Leicester Rd. in Elk Grove Village.

chases before finally deciding to keep rates the same.

POOL RATES for the coming year will be $40 for an annual family pass, $45 if purchased after June 8.

Family season rates will be $24 or $29, depending on when purchased. Single yearly rates will be $20 or $23. Single seasonal passes will cost $13 or $15. Individual admissions will be $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for children.

Supt. of recreation Rich Ludovissy said he'll ask board members at the next meeting to raise park district program rates an average of $1 per class to meet rising costs of instructors and equipment.

Ludovissy said the increase would mean about $9,000 more in park district revenue and could still be implemented for this summer's programs.

LUDOVISSY ADDED that not all programs would be raised in price. Newer ones would remain the same while older ones would jump from $1 to $5.

In other action at Thursday's park board meeting, the board set Aug. 3 for a special Salt Creek cleanup project.

Volunteers from various village groups will be asked to help clean up the creek in the village. The park district will donate personnel and equipment to help haul away the debris collected.

Village to buy specialized gear for paramedics

Specialized communications and tele-metering equipment for the Elk Grove Village Fire Department paramedic ambulance will be purchased by the village.

The equipment will be purchased without bid from Medtronic Sales Co. of Elmhurst. Village director of finance George Coney explained that the $8,275 purchase would normally be put out to bid, but in this instance the village is required to utilize the same type of equipment used in other paramedic programs.

In 1973 the village board authorized the fire department to participate in the Northwest Mobile Intensive Care System.

All communities participating in the system utilize Pioneer Medical Systems.

Coney said Elk Grove Village was required to purchase the same equipment when it initially equipped its first ambulance.

The Northwest Mobile Intensive Care System according to Coney requires identical equipment for the following reasons:

- To facilitate replacement of our out-of-order equipment with spare equipment.
- To provide compatibility when, in time of disaster, paramedics from one community might be working with equipment of another community.

The Medtronic Sales Co. is the local distributor of Pioneer Medical Systems. The purchase will be made with federal revenue-sharing funds.

Link School sets first book fair

Adolph Link School will hold its first book fair April 23 through April 25 at the school, 900 Southwest Glenn Tr., Elk Grove Village.

The fair will be open during the day from 1 to 2 p.m. for the three days. Evening hours will be 6:30 to 9 p.m. April 23 only and books will be on display in the gym.

Profits from all sales will be used to benefit the library at Link School.

The fifth and sixth grade chorus will present a spring concert April 23 at 7:30 p.m. Parents can view books their children may be interested in the same night.

Summer job seekers headed for rough time this year

A Herald Staff report

High school and college students in search of summer jobs are apparently in for another rough year.

Employment prospects this summer are not expected to be good, according to a number of employment directors. Some business experts predict the increase in the minimum wage law authorized this week will make it more difficult for students to obtain temporary summer work. And if an increase occurs in the general unemployment rate as the summer approaches, it will mean an even greater deterioration in the temporary job market, a spokesman for the Illinois State Employment Service says.

"I doubt if it will be very good," the spokesman said. "I'm not very optimistic about what the prospects might be. We still have a good many people looking for permanent jobs and they would be the ones who would probably be hired first."

Some summer openings are expected in most companies and early application is being urged, even though in many cases job inquiries have already far surpassed the number of positions likely to be available.

LOCALLY, for example, the summer application deadline at Northwest Community Hospital was March 1. "We have already had several hundred applications," public relations spokesman Ann Finney said.

Although summer positions at the hospital are available each year, she said most are filled by students who have worked for the hospital in the past.

The Schaumburg Park District's summer swimming pool jobs were all filled last month. Students began coming in as early as November for the openings. "Kids are coming in 'til they're coming out of our ears," a park district spokesman said.

The same problem exists in many villages and cities where too many applicants have already applied for summer jobs.

THE SITUATION is not quite so bleak in the manufacturing and retail areas, according to several local company personnel directors. They add, though, that the summer job market this year is not expected to improve greatly over last year.

"Our managers don't make their commitments until the end of May, but the picture is not encouraging, I'm afraid," according to Western Electric employment interviewer Irene MacLean. "It looks pretty grim. I have been accepting some applications from the first of the year, but I definitely tell the students when they come in that I can't promise them anything."

At Spotnails Inc. in Rolling Meadows, only about 10 to 20 openings are expected, according to Mildred Kobus, personnel director.

"We have traditionally hired a number of high school and college students each summer and we anticipate this year will be no different," she said. Applicants are usually encouraged to apply early since those who apply first are those considered first, she said.

THE MAJOR retail employer in the area, the Woodfield Shopping Center in Schaumburg is expected to have sales openings for the summer. Sears, Roebuck and Company, for example, sends a list of job openings to the Elk Grove Township YES service, which aids students in finding jobs. Many

Will new wage law cut teen jobs?

by KAREN BLECHA

Higher prices and teenage unemployment could be results of the new federal wage law that will raise the minimum wage to $2 an hour May 1 and to $2.30 an hour by 1976.

Business officials predict many summer jobs for teens will be eliminated, especially in restaurants that rely on young, cheap labor to make a profit. Labor leaders, however, say the wage hike will not create an increase in unemployment.

"This is going to ruin drive-in restaurants in my opinion," said Larry Buckmaster, director of the Chicago and Illinois Restaurant Assn. "Other restaurants will raise their prices. The increase will have to be passed on to the consumer because so many restaurants are just holding on now because of high food costs. The bad part is that they can raise prices only so high or the public will say it is cheaper to stay home. So we are caught in the squeeze."

U. S. REP. Philip Crane, R-12th, called the new law "a piece of well-intentioned legislation that would have the impact of throwing people out of work."

Presidency, remodeling to be discussed

New township school board to hold first meeting tonight

The election of the influential board president, and another discussion of problems with remodeling plans for two Dist. 59 junior high schools will face the new Elk Grove Township Elementary School Board, which convenes for the first time tonight.

Bids for the $1,250,000 remodeling project, scheduled to start this summer at Grove and Dempster Junior high schools were opened last week and were considerably higher than expected.

The low bidder for the project submitted a $1,119,182 bid. With the addition of architectural fees and purchase of more than $100,000 in unit ventilators, which the district still has to buy, it's apparent the project will be about $100,000 short in funds.

A $1,250,000 referendum for extensive remodeling of the junior highs was passed by voters June 9, 1973.

THE NEW BOARD also will have to wrestle with the problem of electing a new board president.

Two leading candidates for the post are senior board members Judy Zanca and Al Domanico, but it's possible neither will get the post.

Neither Zanca nor Domanico have been able to get the four votes needed for a majority, each falling one short.

Board member Gerry Smiley, starting his third year on the board, is reported to be a likely candidate to be elected as somewhat of a compromise candidate.

Even as a "compromise" candidate, Smiley is still expected to receive only four of seven votes from the divided board.

OTHER ITEMS on the board's agenda include:

- Closing school on June 17, rather than June 18. The district has used only two of three snow days, so the board has the option of declaring the last day of school unneeded, and opt to close a day earlier.

• An acoustical report on Friendship Junior High in Des Plaines. An engineering firm which performed sound level tests at the school will report to the board, which is considering taking steps to correct a noise problem at the school.

• The consideration of hiring a board attorney. Frank Hines is presently retained by the district as counsel and is expected to be approved for the coming year.

• A discussion of a possible agreement with the Elk Grove Park District which would turn over scheduling of Elk Grove Village schools to the park district after school hours. Through building principals, the board is attempting to find out what effect such an arrangement would have on school and parent groups.

Kucharski, Wold take Dist. 59

Less than three-quarters of 1 per cent of the estimated 31,000 voters in School Dist. 59 turned out at the polls as two new members of the Elk Grove Township elementary school board were named Saturday.

Paul Kucharski and Avis Wold, as expected, won their seats in an uncontested election.

Only 225 cast their votes at the district's 16 polling places. Kucharski drew 217 votes, while Mrs. Wold had 215.

A handful of write-in candidates, including comedian Bill Cosby received the rest of the votes.

Both candidates said they were anxious to begin their duties on the board.

The light turnout, even lighter when it's considered that 48 of the votes belonged to election judges, was blamed on the fact that two of the races affecting the township, Districts 214 and 59, were uncontested.

The highest voter turnout was in the candidates' own districts. Juliette Low School in Arlington Heights, where two of Kucharski's children attend, saw 22 voters, while Mrs. Wold's neighborhood school, Clearmont, in Elk Grove Village, saw 30 voters cast their ballots. The lightest turnout came at High Ridge Knolls School in Des Plaines, where a mere seven turned out to vote during the seven-hour period.

Summer job prospects lean again this year

of the jobs will be available only to those 18 years old and older.

Palatine

The village public works department hires approximately 10 students each summer, but because many students return each year for their jobs, only three or four openings are expected this summer. Palatine residents are given preference in selection and students should apply now at the public works building, 148 W. Illinois Ave.

The Palatine Park District has positions in park maintenance, golf course maintenance, playground program leaders, swimming pool guards and recreation program assistants. Students should apply at the administration office, 282 E. Palatine Rd. Salaries vary with experience and job.

The Community Child Care Center of Palatine Township may hire some teenagers for summer positions in preschool day-care. For information, students should contact Arlene Alvis at 991-1030.

The Palatine Township Highway Department will have one or two openings for summer moving and clearing. Applicants should have experience with farm and truck equipment. Apply at the office, 530 N. Smith St., or by phoning 358-6336.

The Palatine Jaycees are also exploring the possibility of setting up a program to help teens find summer work.

Rolling Meadows

The Rolling Meadows Park District will hire about 25 teenagers this summer for pool and recreation programs. There is also a junior program in which junior high and high school students under 16 can work several hours for pool privileges and other activities. These students will have preference in later hiring, according to facility coordinator Rudy Nelson.

Some jobs are also available each year with the city public works department. Applications can be placed at the city hall, 3600 Kirchhoff Rd.

Arlington Heights

James E. Monroe, director of buildings, grounds and auxiliary services for school Dist. 25 said there is already a list of 35 applicants for eight available summer positions. Chances for jobs here are "not too good," he said.

He added, however, that the district is looking into the possibility of a joint program with the village and park district to hire students for the Ecology Corps. The district would share the salary costs in hiring, with each governing body expected to contribute about $5,000. The program would allow 14 and 15 year olds to work in maintenance and clean-up projects as a type of "learning experience." They would be paid about 90 cents per hour and work several hours per day.

Schaumburg Township

The township YES program, a student job referral service, is currently distributing brochures and cards to employers in the area as well as residential areas to find house and yard work that might be available.

YES will also set up outposts in the high schools soon to sign up students who are interested in summer jobs. The service reports some good news for students in that it currently has more jobs than students to fill them.

Buffalo Grove

Village Clerk Verna Clayton said the village participated last year in the federally funded Neighborhood Youth Corps but is unsure yet if it will participate again this summer.

There is a possibility the village public works department will again be hiring about 10 college students for the summer if the village board approves the hiring. Applications, however, have already exceeded the number of jobs.

The Buffalo Grove Park District plans to hire about 60 students this summer, 30 of whom will be counselors at playgrounds and the rest to maintain swimming pools, work as life guards and operate concession stands. An additional seven or eight students will work on the park maintenance staff.

Des Plaines

The city will hire only about a dozen students, most of whom have had the jobs in past summers. The city park district will hire about 300 students for summer work but many of these positions will also be filled by returning students. Park district officials said students may still apply.

Wheeling

Village Mgr. George Passolt said interested students should be applying now for about seven openings that may be available in the public works department. However, most students hired are returning workers.

The Wheeling Park District will have positions for playground leaders, cashier and pool attendants. Pay varies from $1 to $3 per hour.

The district will also hire a tennis instructor, although all other specialized instructors have been hired.

For students 12 to 15 the district will offer an Ecology Corps. About 10 students will be hired to maintain playgrounds and parks. All applicants should apply now, advises Rich Haddock, recreation director.

Elk Grove Village

All 150 summer positions in the village park district have been filled. Pays will range from $1.25 to $3.50 per hour depending on the job and experience.

The Elk Grove Village Youth Employment Service will be placing students. Elk Grove Village is considering a student employment program to operate throughout the year. Boys are being hired in the streets and water department at $2.50 an hour.

Elk Grove Township also has an employment service. Persons interested in working through the agency can call 437-0300.

Mount Prospect

Rick Pyrie of the village park district staff said the district will hire 70 to 80 high school and college students for recreation positions. The jobs are expected to be filled by April 26, spots are filled; some 10 to 15 openings remain in the recreation position. The jobs are expected to be filled by April 26. Minimum pay is $2 an hour for general recreation, $1.75 an hour for swimming pool. Students work 30 to 35 hours a week.

A THROG OF CHILDREN greeted the Easter Bunny when he made his annual visit to Elk Grove Village Saturday afternoon. Dressed in a ruffled collar and vest, the rabbit arrived at the Ned Brown Forest Preserve on a fire truck. The visit and Easter Egg Hunt were sponsored by Elk Grove Village Jaycees.

Loss of parking near Disney Park may hurt park baseball

by JERRY THOMAS

Baseball players have one strike against them in Elk Grove Village.

Knocked off playing fields in neighborhood parks because of residents' complaints and parking problems, the players now face losing parking rights near the newly developed fields at Disney Park on Wellington Street.

If village board members go through with plans to prohibit on street parking on Wellington Street, baseball and softball players and spectators face a long hike to the new park district playing fields next to the village municipal complex.

TRUSTEE Ronald Chernick has asked the village attorney to prepare an ordinance prohibiting parking on Wellington Street.

He called the action "a safety measure and not indication of ill will towards any sport or spectator."

Trustees are expected to act on the ordinance at the April 23 meeting.

The contemplated ordinance will strike a severe blow to the park district's softball and baseball program, said Jack Claes, director of parks and recreation.

"We just built the playing fields and at present have no parking facilities other than the street and municipal lot on Wellington Street," said Claes.

"THE PARK DISTRICT moved its park softball and baseball program out of neighborhood parks because residents complained about parked cars on streets."

"Parking facilities for the new park complex on Wellington Street are planned but at present all we have is the playing fields," said Claes. "Preliminary soil borings at Wellington Street and Biesterfeld Road where we plan a parking lot show the site will take more preparation than anticipated and construction will be delayed," said Claes.

"We definitely will construct off-street parking but had hoped to use Wellington Street and the adjoining municipal parking lot, while our parking lot is under construction," said Claes.

CLAES SAID THE park district moved the playing fields out of neighborhood parks and to Wellington St. site because there are no homes along the park's Wellington Street border. "We've figured we wouldn't bother anybody there and now I don't know what we will do for parking."

Last fall, Boys' Football, a private group, used the playing fields and motor-ists used both the municipal lot and street for parking.

"The nearest park district parking lot is on Liecaster Street west of the new complex and is pretty well filled throughout the summer months because of heavy swimming pool use," said Claes.

CLAES SAID the park district expects to use the Disney complex for adult softball and boys baseball four to five nights a week.

When Chernick proposed the action to curb parking, he said, "I'll probably be accused of being against softball or football but that's not the case. I just don't want some child running out into the street between parked cars."

Trustee Nanci Vanderweel supported Chernick's call for a no-parking ban on the street and added that she was concerned about players and spectators use of the municipal complex parking lot on Wellington Street also.

"We have meetings and activities planned at the village complex almost every night just like the park district has at the park and sometimes it is very difficult to find a parking place in our lot when sports activities are scheduled for the adjoining park," she said.

CHERNICK QUIPPED, "Perhaps the issue will lead to reserved parking stalls. That would be kind of neat."

Although selective use of the municipal parking lot was discussed the trustees took no action to impose a no-parking ban on the village lot except for those using the municipal building facilities.

Village employees do not have reserved parking stalls but are asked to use the far lots for parking and leave front lot parking spaces adjoining the building for residents to use.

Will new wage law cut teen jobs?

Crane opposed the minimum wage increase and voted against the bill.

"The majority of those who will be out of work are young people and most of those are blacks," he said. "The minimum wage laws also have an overall effect of artificially raising the salary scale and putting pressure on to raise prices."

These dire predictions won't come true, according to Stanley Johnson, president of the state AFL-CIO.

"It has not happened in the past. In fact, it has helped local communities because residents have a little more money to spend. That actually helps to create jobs," Johnson said.

HE SAID THE new minimum wage is welcome but not enough to meet inflation. "We have striven a long time to upgrade these totally low paid people who are unorganized and subject to the whims of their employers," Johnson said. "We thought the increase would be equitable before inflation, but inflation has wiped out the increase."

According to the new law, signed reluctantly by President Nixon last week, the minimum wage will rise from $1.60 an hour to $2 an hour May 1, to $2.10 Jan. 1, 1975 and to $2.30 on Jan. 1, 1976 for most workers. The raise to $2.30 an hour will take longer for some workers, including farm laborers who will reach the maximum on Jan. 1, 1978.

More than 7 million workers will be covered for the first time by the new law, including 5 million federal, state and local employees, one million domestics and additional retail store, service industry and farm workers. Payment of overtime provisions will be extended to 8 million workers, including employees in hotels, restaurants, nursing homes and bowling alleys.

The federal law covers employees of businesses grossing more than $250,000 a year. Employees of businesses grossing less than $250,000 will also get a higher minimum wage thanks to a state law passed last year. The bill has not gone into effect because of a provision that the state minimum could not exceed the federal minimum.

UNDER THE state law, the minimum will go from $1.60 an hour to $1.75 an hour May 1, to $1.90 an hour on Jan. 1, 1975 and to $2.10 an hour on Jan. 1, 1976. State Rep. Thomas Hanahan, D-McHenry, sponsor of the wage bill, said he will draft a new bill that would bring the state minimum wage up to the federal level. He hopes the bill will be passed and effective by next January.

John Coulter, director of manpower development for the Chicago Association of Commerce and Industry, said documentation has shown that regulations like minimum wages are "not usually very intelligent and usually produce shortages."

"Prices will go up and employment will go down. It will have an effect on summer employees and employees in theaters, outdoor restaurants, dry-cleaning and laundries, and other small businesses. Employers will just try to get along with less people," Coulter said.

BUT ROBERT Genetski, economist for the Harris Trust and Savings Bank in Chicago, said he does not think prices will go up. Employers will mechanize instead,

"The businessman will hire only one worker instead of five and pay him the $2 to run the machine," he said, adding that teens will be affected the most by the wage hike. "If you look back in history you find that every time they raise the minimum wage the unemployment rate for teens goes up about 1 per cent."

"More significant is the loss of freedom," Genetski said. "You may have an individual who wants to work for $1.90 an hour and an employer who would hire him for $1.90 an hour but the government steps in and says no."

Most restaurants will be affected by the federal wage levels, Buckmaster said, because they gross more than $250,000 a year. There is no youth differential in the bill, which would provide a lower minimum wage for teenagers. Attempts to include such a differential in the bill had been along.

BUT A McDonald's official said dubbed the "McDonald's amendments," the increase in the wage will not affect the hamburger chain. "The wage increase will have no effect because our average wage is now in excess of $2 an hour," said Matt Lambert, McDonald's corporate relations director. "In fact, McDonald's has favored increases in minimum wages all along."

Prices at Jack in the Box, another drive-in restaurant chain, are expected to go up.

"I don't see the wage hike as a bad thing, but I think prices will go up," said Bill Maddox, Chicago area coordinator for Jack-In-The-Box. "We have to make a profit." He added that his company now starts people with no experience at $1.65 an hour.

Newcomer Bliss joins incumbents Charlier, Ehringer with election to Dist. 15 board

Newcomer Robert Bliss and incumbents Everett Charlier and J. Leslie Ehringer were elected to the Palatine-Rolling Meadows Dist. 15 school board Saturday in the most hotly contested school board election in the area.

Seven persons were vying for the three school board seats in Dist. 15, but voter turnout was light during the Easter weekend. Only 978 votes were cast compared to an average of about 1,400 in previous years.

The highest number of votes went to incumbent Everett Charlier, who is beginning his second term on the school board. Charlier, 42, of 26 S. Greenwood, Palatine, received 507 votes.

HE WAS FOLLOWED closely by incumbent J. Leslie Ehringer, who is beginning his fourth term on the board. Ehringer, 54, of 2 Stuart on Oxford, Rolling Meadows, had 503 votes.

Coming in third was challenger Robert Bliss, seeking his first term on the Dist. 15 board. Bliss, 39, of 533 Echo Ln., Palatine, gained 450 votes.

Incumbent Howard Meadows, 64, of 427 N. Inverway, Palatine, came in a close fourth with 401 votes. Meadows was seeking his seventh three-year term on the Dist. 15 board. Challenger Warren Franczyk, 34, of 1059 Old Mill Dr., Palatine, received 255 votes; Margie Kutz, 43, of 913 Marsha, Palatine, received 206 votes and A. Rosamund Von Mayr, 37, of 2160 S. Elm Rd., Palatine, received 137 votes.

The largest number of votes in all precincts went to Bliss, Charlier, Ehringer and Meadows. Bliss came in third by winning slightly more votes than Meadows in four of the precincts and winning heavily in the 34th precinct which includes Heatherlea, Pepper Tree Farms and English Valley subdivisions. Meadows won a smaller majority in his home precinct, the 36th which includes all of Inverness.

CHARLIER, who came in first with the largest amount of total votes, won a majority in only one precinct—his home precinct, the 37th, which cast the largest number of votes in the election. He received 197 votes, followed by Ehringer with 162 and Bliss with 142. Precinct 37 includes the Winston Park subdivision.

Ehringer, on the other hand, won three precincts with lighter voter turnouts. He gathered 126 votes in his home precinct, the 35th, followed by Bliss with 110 and Charlier with 107. Precinct 35 includes downtown Palatine, parts of unincorporated Palatine and sections of Rolling Meadows.

EHRINGER ALSO won in Rolling Meadows, which was primarily split into two precincts, the 32nd and 33rd. He received 36 votes in Precinct 32, followed by Charlier with 34 and Bliss with 23. In Precinct 33, Ehringer received a majority total of 31, followed by Bliss with 26 and Charlier with 25.

Bliss lost his home precinct, the 35th, to Ehringer, but made up that loss with his win in Precinct 34. He gained 104 votes, followed by Ehringer with 80 and Charlier with 77.

Precinct 36 was won by Meadows with 71 votes, followed by Ehringer with 68 and Charlier with 67.

All three new board members will be sworn in at the next board meeting held at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the administration office, 505 S. Quentin Rd., Palatine.

1,100 turn out for uncontested Dist. 211 race

About 1,100 people voted Saturday to elect two incumbents in an uncontested race for the High School Dist. 211 board of education.

Robert Seger, 919 Canterbury, Schaumburg, led the ticket with 1,092 votes and Jean Fislser, 9215 S. Mallard Dr., Palatine, followed close behind with 1,085. Both were elected to three-year terms on the board. Last year 5,063 votes were cast in the Dist. 211 election.

Seger was elected to the board in 1971. He has worked as a newsman in Rockford and is now employed by a public relations firm in Chicago. He lived in Palatine for nine years before moving to Schaumburg six years ago.

Mrs. Fislser was appointed to the Dist. 211 board of education last November to fill the unexpired term of Paul Hughes. She was an attorney in California for 17 years practicing juvenile and family law before moving to Palatine in 1970. She now works as a consultant on youth for The Bridge youth services bureau in Palatine.

The Dist. 211 board will meet April 23 at 8 p.m. in the district administration center, 1750 S. Roselle Rd., Palatine, to canvass the votes in Saturday's election to make them official.

Homeowners oppose annexation to Palatine

Lake Park seeks township sewers

Lake Park Estates homeowners are turning to Palatine Township for sewers rather than annex to the Village of Palatine.

At a recent homeowners' meeting, members agreed to petition the town board at their April 22 meeting to issue revenue bonds to finance sewers for the subdivision, northeast of the intersection of Northwest Highway and Quentin Road.

The existing septic system has become unable to serve the long-established development, causing homeowners to seek governmental backing for installation of an adequate sewer system.

One route would have been annexation to the village, but homeowners rejected that approach after a meeting with Village Pres. Wendell Jones and Trustee Richard Fonte earlier this month.

People attending that meeting came away unimpressed with the village's arguments for annexation: improved police protection, more services and a possible village-backed taxing district system with sewer rates tax-deductible for homeowners.

A Herald Staff report

High school and college students in search of summer jobs are apparently in for another rough year.

Employment prospects this summer are not expected to be good, according to a number of employment directors. Some business experts predict the increase in the minimum wage law authorized this week will make it more difficult for students to obtain temporary summer work. And if an increase occurs in the general unemployment rate as the summer approaches, it will mean an even greater deterioration in the temporary job market, a spokesman for the Illinois State Employment Service says.

"I doubt if it will be very good," the spokesman said. "I'm not very optimistic about what the prospects might be. We still have a good many people looking for permanent jobs and they would be the ones who would probably be hired first."

Some summer openings are expected in most companies and early application is being urged, even though in many cases job inquiries have already far surpassed the number of positions likely to be available.

LOCALLY, FOR example, the summer application deadline at Northwest Community Hospital was March 1. "We have already had several hundred applications," public relations spokesman Ann Finney said.

Although summer positions at the hospital are available each year, she said most are filled by students who have worked for the hospital in the past.

The Schaumburg Park District's summer swimming pool jobs were all filled last month. Students began coming in as early as November for the openings. "Kids are coming in 'til they're coming out of our ears," a park district spokesman said.

Summer job seekers headed for rough time this year

The same problem exists in many villages and cities where too many applicants have already applied for summer jobs.

THE SITUATION is not quite so bleak in the manufacturing and retail areas, according to several local company personnel directors. They add, though, that the summer job market this year is not expected to improve greatly over last year.

"Our managers don't make their commitments until the end of May, but the picture is not encouraging, I'm afraid," according to Western Electric employment interviewer Irene MacLean. "It looks pretty grim. I have been accepting some applications from the first of the year, but I definitely tell the students when they come in that I can't promise them anything."

At Spotnails Inc. in Rolling Meadows, only about 10 to 20 openings are expected, according to Mildred Kobus, personnel director.

"We have traditionally hired a number of high school and college students each summer and we anticipate this year will be no different," she said. Applicants are usually encouraged to apply early since those who apply first are those considered first, she said.

THE MAJOR retail employer in the area, the Woodfield Shopping Center in Schaumburg is expected to have sales openings for the summer. Sears, Roebuck and Company, for example, sends a list of job openings to the Elk Grove Township YES service, which aids students in finding jobs. Many

Village to add trash bag cost to homeowners' bills

Homeowners will foot the bill for the much-discussed garbage bag program, if recommendations of the Palatine Health, Safety and Welfare Committee are adopted tonight.

At a meeting last week, trustees on the committee agreed to keep the program, complete with home delivery, but to stop the village's $120,000 support for free garbage bags. The money for the past year had come from revenue sharing funds received by the village from the federal government.

The cost of 150 bags per year, at 12 cents per bag, will be added to the quarterly garbage bill sent to each homeowner, according to committee chairman James Shaw. Shaw's figures indicate an average garbage bill of $2.75 will be $7.25 with the garbage bags added. The quarterly charge for the bags will be $4.50, or $18 per year.

Last year's quota of 200 bags per home will be cut to 150, the average number used, Shaw said.

Shaw said the home-delivery system for garbage bags has resulted in 90 per cent compliance by homeowners to use of the heavier plastic bags.

PALATINE'S SYSTEM is "15 to 20 per cent lower than any other village in our area," Shaw said Friday. The committee views garbage cans as a health hazard, and heavy paper bags are more costly, he said.

Village-approved bags will also be available in local stores if homeowners need additional garbage bags during the year.

Palatine Health Director Richard Dawson said costs and alternatives from other village garbage programs will be surveyed between now and the end of July.

The village board will meet at 8 p.m. in the Slade Street Fire Station, 117 W. Slade St., Palatine.

Circuit Court branch set for Wheeling

by TONI GINETTI

A second courtroom for the 2nd Cook County Circuit District Court is expected to be established in Wheeling.

Chief Judge of the 2nd District Harold Sullivan told The Herald Friday he would recommend to Circuit Court Chief Judge John Boyle that the second courtroom be established in the Wheeling Village Hall. Boyle is expected to approve the new court. Permission to use the village must also be confirmed by village officials, but because Wheeling has requested the courtroom facility before village approval is expected.

Parking facilities at the village hall would have to be increased to allow the courtroom, but Wheeling officials have indicated the parking could be provided if confirmation of the courtroom was received.

"We all think it would be well if we had more courtroom space and the space

Summer job prospects lean again this year

of the jobs will be available only to those 18 years old and older.

Palatine

The village public works department hires approximately 10 students each summer, but because many students return each year for their jobs, only three or four openings are expected this summer. Palatine residents are given preference in selection and students should apply now at the public works building, 148 W. Illinois Ave.

The Palatine Park District has positions in park maintenance, golf course maintenance, playground program leaders, swimming pool guards and recreation program assistants. Students should apply at the administration office, 262 E. Palatine Rd. Salaries vary with experience and job.

The Community Child Care Center of Palatine Township may hire some teenagers for summer positions in preschool day-care. For information, students should contact Arlene Alvis at 991-1030.

The Palatine Township Highway Department will have one or two openings for summer mowing and clearing. Applicants should have experience with farm and truck equipment. Apply at the office, 530 N. Smith St., or by phoning 358-6336.

The Palatine Jaycees are also exploring the possibility of setting up a program to help teens find summer work.

Rolling Meadows

The Rolling Meadows Park District will hire about 25 teenagers this summer for pool and recreation programs. There is also a junior program in which junior high and high school students under 16 can work several hours for pool privileges and other activities. These students will have preference in later hiring, according to facility coordinator Rudy Nelson.

Some jobs are also available each year with the city public works department. Applications can be placed at the city hall, 3600 Kirchhoff Rd.

Arlington Heights

James E. Monroe, director of buildings, grounds and auxiliary services for school Dist. 25 said there is already a list of 35 applicants for eight available summer positions. Chances for jobs here are "not too good," he said.

He added, however, that the district is looking into the possibility of a joint program with the village and park district to hire students for the Ecology Corps. The district would share the salary costs in hiring, with each governing body expected to contribute about $5,000. The program would allow 14 and 15 year olds to work in maintenance and clean-up projects as a type of "learning experience." They would be paid about 90 cents per hour and work several hours per day.

Schaumburg Township

The township YES program, a student job referral service, is currently distributing brochures and cards to employers in the area as well as residential areas to find house and yard work that might be available.

YES will also set up outposts in the high schools soon to sign up students who are interested in summer jobs. The service reports some good news for students in that it currently has more jobs than students to fill them.

Buffalo Grove

Village Clerk Verna Clayton said the village participated last year in the federally funded Neighborhood Youth Corps but is unsure yet if it will participate again this summer.

There is a possibility the village public works department will again be hiring about 10 college students for the summer if the village board approves the hiring. Applications, however, have already exceeded the number of jobs.

The Buffalo Grove Park District plans to hire about 60 students this summer, 30 of whom will be counselors at playgrounds and the rest to maintain swimming pools, work as life guards and operate concession stands. An additional seven or eight students will work on the park maintenance staff.

Des Plaines

The city will hire only about a dozen students, most of whom have had the jobs in past summers. The city park district will hire about 300 students for summer work but many of these positions will also be filled by returning students. Park district officials said students may still apply.

Wheeling

Village Mgr. George Passolt said interested students should be applying now for about seven openings that may be available in the public works department. However, most students hired are returning workers.

The Wheeling Park District will have positions for playground leaders, cashier and pool attendants. Pay varies from $1 to $3 per hour.

The district will also hire a tennis instructor, although all other specialized instructors have been hired.

For students 12 to 15 the district will offer an Ecology Corps. About 10 students will be hired to maintain playgrounds and parks. All applicants should apply now, advises Rich Haddock, recreation director.

Elk Grove Village

All 150 summer positions in the village park district have been filled. Pays will range from $1.25 to $3.50 per hour depending on the job and experience.

The Elk Grove Village Youth Employment Service will be placing students. Elk Grove Village is considering a student employment program to operate throughout the year. Boys are being hired in the streets and water department at $2.50 an hour.

Elk Grove Township also has an employment service. Persons interested in working through the agency can call 437-0300.

Mount Prospect

Rick Pyle of the village park district staff said the district will hire 70 to 80 high school and college students for recreation position. The jobs are expected to be filled by April 26. spots are filled; some 10 to 15 openings remain in the recreation position. The jobs are expected to be filled by April 26. Minimum pay is $2 an hour for general recreation, $1.75 an hour for swimming pool. Students work 30 to 35 hours a week.

Circuit Court branch set for Wheeling

that we think would be most beneficial is the village hall in Wheeling," Sullivan said. "We feel that we might well be able to set up one there."

SULLIVAN SAID Wheeling court would hear traffic cases on Fridays from Wheeling and Buffalo Grove police. He added the selection of the site was needed because "there is no question that we need more court facilities."

Sullivan confirmed the selection decision hours after meeting with local chiefs of police to discuss overcrowded courtroom conditions in the area and presumably to decide on the second courtroom location.

Speculation had indicated that either Wheeling or the City of Rolling Meadows would be selected as the second courtroom location. Sullivan said Friday Wheeling was a more suitable location.

"We felt that the location of the Wheeling courtroom would be better because the problem of Wheeling and Buffalo Grove getting to Arlington Heights is much greater than Rolling Meadows getting to Arlington Heights," Sullivan said. "Considered from that angle, it seems rather logical (to select Wheeling)."

ROLLING MEADOWS Police Chief Lewis R. Case said Friday he was pleased that the second facility would be established and said the Wheeling site would benefit the city even though Rolling Meadows was not selected for the court site.

"It will reduce the court time for us," Case said. Currently Wheeling, Buffalo Grove and Rolling Meadows traffic cases are all heard on the same day in court.

"I'm happy," Case added.

Local police officials have of late become more vocal in their criticism of the overcrowded courtroom conditions at the Arlington Heights facility. The criticism reached a peak two weeks ago when more than 320 cases were scheduled in one day at the court.

THE SITUATION prompted Case, an officer in the local chapter of the Illinois Assn. of Chiefs of Police, to ask Sullivan's appearance at the Friday meeting.

Wheeling Village Pres. Ted C. Scanlon said Friday the second courtroom is "very essential to the area," adding "I thank Judge Sullivan from the bottom of my heart."

"It's something I've been long fighting for," Scanlon said. "We invited them out and showed them our facilities. I am a firm believer that if you are a resident of Wheeling and you get a ticket in Wheeling, they shouldn't have to go driving all over creation to be heard."

Scanlon said the village police department would benefit in the reduction of overtime pay for policemen on court time and by permitting police to spend more time on patrol.

He added the paving required for additional parking facilities have been anticipated "for a long time." He said the village had intended to pave the area for additional parking and that the courtroom decision will merely bring about the work faster.

Will new wage law cut teen jobs?

Crane opposed the minimum wage increase and voted against the bill.

"The majority of those who will be out of work are young people and most of those are blacks," he said. "The minimum wage laws also have an overall effect of artificially raising the salary scale and putting pressure on to raise prices."

These dire predictions won't come true, according to Stanley Johnson, president of the state AFL-CIO.

"It has not happened in the past. In fact, it has helped local communities because residents have a little more money to spend. That actually helps to create jobs," Johnson said.

HE SAID THE new minimum wage is welcome but not enough to meet inflation. "We have striven a long time to upgrade these totally low paid people who are unorganized and subject to the whims of their employers," Johnson said. "We thought the increase would be equitable before inflation, but inflation has wiped out the increase."

According to the new law, signed reluctantly by President Nixon last week, the minimum wage will rise from $1.60 an hour to $2 an hour May 1, to $2.10 Jan. 1, 1975 and to $2.30 on Jan. 1, 1976 for most workers. The raise to $2.30 an hour will take longer for some workers, including farm laborers who will reach the maximum on Jan. 1, 1978.

More than 7 million workers will be covered for the first time by the new law, including 5 million federal, state and local employees, one million domestics and additional retail store, service industry and farm workers. Payment of overtime provisions will be extended to 8 million workers, including employees in hotels, restaurants, nursing homes and bowling alleys.

The federal law covers employees of businesses grossing more than $250,000 a year. Employees of businesses grossing less than $250,000 will also get a higher minimum wage thanks to a state law passed last year. The bill has not gone into effect because of a provision that the state minimum could not exceed the federal minimum.

UNDER THE state law, the minimum will go from $1.60 an hour to $1.75 an hour May 1, to $1.90 an hour on Jan. 1, 1975 and to $2.10 an hour on Jan. 1, 1976. State Rep. Thomas Hanahan, D-McHenry, sponsor of the wage bill, said he will draft a new bill that would bring the state minimum wage up to the federal level. He hopes the bill will be passed and effective by next January.

John Coulter, director of manpower development for the Chicago Association of Commerce and Industry, said documentation has shown that regulations like minimum wages are "not usually very intelligent and usually produce shortages."

"Prices will go up and employment will go down. It will have an effect on summer employees and employees in theaters, outdoor restaurants, dry-cleaning and laundries, and other small businesses. Employers will just try to get along with less people," Coulter said.

BUT ROBERT Genetski, economist for the Harris Trust and Savings Bank in Chicago, said he does not think prices will go up. Employers will mechanize instead.

"The businessman will hire only one worker instead of five and pay him the $2 to run the machine," he said, adding that teens will be affected the most by the wage hike. "If you look back in history you find that every time they raise the minimum wage the unemployment rate for teens goes up about 1 per cent."

"More significant is the loss of freedom," Genetski said. "You may have an individual who wants to work for $1.90 an hour and an employer who would hire him for $1.90 an hour but the government steps in and says no."

Most restaurants will be affected by the federal wage levels, Buckmaster said, because they gross more than $250,000 a year. There is no youth differential in the bill, which would provide a lower minimum wage for teenagers. Attempts to include such a differential in the bill had been

BUT A McDonald's official said dubbed the "McDonald's amendments." the increase in the wage will not affect the hamburger chain. "The wage increase will have no effect because our average wage is now in excess of $2 an hour," said Matt Lambert, McDonald's corporate relations director. "In fact, McDonald's has favored increases in minimum wages all along."

Prices at Jack in the Box, another drive-in restaurant chain, are expected to go up.

"I don't see the wage hike as a bad thing, but I think prices will go up," said Bill Maddox, Chicago area coordinator for Jack-In-The-Box. "We have to make a profit." He added that his company now starts people with no experience at $1.65 an hour.

Newcomer Bliss joins incumbents Charlier, Ehringer with election to Dist. 15 board

Newcomer Robert Bliss and incumbents Everett Charlier and J. Leslie Ehringer were elected to the Palatine-Rolling Meadows Dist. 15 school board Saturday in the most hotly contested school board election in the area.

Seven persons were vying for the three school board seats in Dist. 15, but voter turnout was light during the Easter weekend. Only 978 votes were cast compared to an average of about 1,400 in previous years.

The highest number of votes went to incumbent Everett Charlier, who is beginning his second term on the school board. Charlier, 42, of 26 S. Greenwood, Palatine, received 507 votes.

HE WAS FOLLOWED closely by incumbent J. Leslie Ehringer, who is beginning his fourth term on the board. Ehringer, 54, of 2 Stuart on Oxford, Rolling Meadows, had 503 votes.

Coming in third was challenger Robert Bliss, seeking his first term on the Dist. 15 board. Bliss, 39, of 533 Echo Ln., Palatine, gained 450 votes.

Incumbent Howard Meadors, 64, of 427 N. Inverway, Palatine, came in a close fourth with 401 votes. Meadors was seeking his seventh three-year term on the Dist. 15 board. Challenger Warren Franczyk, 34, of 1059 Old Mill Rd., Palatine, received 255 votes; Margie Kutz, 43, of 913 Marsha, Palatine, received 206 votes and A. Rosamund Von Mayr, 37, of 2160 S. Elm Rd., Palatine, received 137 votes.

The largest number of votes in all precincts went to Bliss, Charlier, Ehringer and Meadors. Bliss came in third by winning slightly more votes than Meadors in four of the precincts and winning heavily in the 34th precinct which includes Heatherlea, Pepper Tree Farms and English Valley subdivisions. Meadors won a smaller majority in his home precinct, the 36th which includes all of Inverness.

CHARLIER, who came in first with the largest amount of total votes, won a majority in only one precinct — his home precinct, the 37th, which cast the largest number of votes in the election. He received 197 votes, followed by Ehringer with 182 and Bliss with 142. Precinct 37 includes the Winston Park subdivision.

Ehringer, on the other hand, won three precincts with lighter voter turnouts. He gathered 126 votes in his home precinct, the 35th, followed by Bliss with 110 and Charlier with 107. Precinct 35 includes downtown Palatine, parts of unincorporated Palatine and sections of Rolling Meadows.

EHRLINGER ALSO won in Rolling Meadows, which was primarily split into two precincts, the 32nd and 33rd. He received 36 votes in Precinct 32, followed by Charlier with 34 and Bliss with 23. In Precinct 33, Ehringer received a majority total of 31, followed by Bliss with 26 and Charlier with 25.

Bliss lost his home precinct, the 38th, to Ehringer, but made up that loss with his win in Precinct 34. He gained 104 votes, followed by Ehringer with 80 and Charlier with 77.

Precinct 36 was won by Meadors with 71 votes, followed by Ehringer with 63 and Charlier with 67.

All three new board members will be sworn in at the next board meeting held at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the administration office, 505 S. Quentin Rd., Palatine.

Park employees get 5.5% pay increase

Full time employees of the Rolling Meadows Park District will receive a 5.5 per cent pay increase effective May 1.

The park board Thursday night approved the raise to help offset increases in the cost of living, according to Steve Person, superintendent of parks and recreation. He said 11 employees are affected by the raise.

"It's the best we could do this year," said board president Raymond Neuck-ranz. "We're not trying to compete with other park districts. We do what we can afford."

He said the board had been considering pay raises between 3 and 6 per cent, but settled on 5.5 per cent.

Park district employees also received a 5.5 per cent increase last year.

Police step up bicycle rules enforcement

An increasing number of traffic hazards caused by improper use of bicycles is prompting Rolling Meadows police to step up enforcement of bicycle safety rules.

Police have announced there will be increased enforcement of bicycle violations, especially for no lights, riding on the wrong side of the street, ignorance of traffic signs and more than one rider on a bike. Violators will be issued warning citations and will be required to appear in the city's bicycle court held twice monthly on the second and fourth Saturdays.

In cases involving juveniles, parents or guardians will be sent a written letter from the police department advising them of the incident.

If first offenders do not comply with the court appearance requirement, a regular Circuit Court traffic citation will be issued. Traffic citations also will be issued for succeeding offenses.

Police said the enforcement will apply to adults and children alike.

Bicycle riders are subject to the same traffic rules as automobiles and other motor vehicles. Copies of the state's official "Bicycle Rules of the Road" booklet are available at the police station.

Chief judge expected to approve village hall site

Circuit Court branch set for Wheeling

by TONI GINNETTI

A second courtroom for the 2nd Cook County Circuit District Court is expected to be established in Wheeling.

Chief Judge of the 2nd District Harold Sullivan told The Herald Friday he would recommend to Circuit Court Chief Judge John Boyle that the second courtroom be established in the Wheeling Village Hall. Boyle is expected to approve the new court. Permission to use the village must also be confirmed by village officials, but because Wheeling has requested the courtroom facility before village approval is expected.

Parking facilities at the village hall would have to be increased to allow the courtroom, but Wheeling officials have indicated the parking could be provided if confirmation of the courtroom was received.

"We all think it would be well if we had more courtroom space and the space that we think would be most beneficial is the village hall in Wheeling," Sullivan

A Herald Staff report

High school and college students in search of summer jobs are apparently in for another rough year.

Employment prospects this summer are not expected to be good, according to a number of employment directors. Some business experts predict the increase in the minimum wage law authorized this week will make it more difficult for students to obtain temporary summer work. And if an increase occurs in the general unemployment rate as the summer approaches, it will mean an even greater deterioration in the temporary job market, a spokesman for the Illinois State Employment Service says.

"I doubt if it will be very good," the spokesman said. "I'm not very optimistic about what the prospects might be. We still have a good many people looking for permanent jobs and they would be the ones who would probably be hired first."

Some summer openings are expected in most companies and early application is being urged, even though in many cases job inquiries have already far surpassed the number of positions likely to be available.

LOCALLY, FOR example, the summer application deadline at Northwest Community Hospital was March 1. "We have already had several hundred applications," public relations spokesman Ann Finney said.

Although summer positions at the hospital are available each year, she said most are filled by students who have worked for the hospital in the past.

The Schaumburg Park District's summer swimming pool jobs were all filled last month. Students began coming in as early as November for the openings. "Kids are coming in 'til they're coming out of our ears," a park district spokesman said.

Summer job seekers headed for rough time this year

The same problem exists in many villages and cities where too many applicants have already applied for summer jobs.

THE SITUATION is, not quite so bleak in the manufacturing and retail areas, according to several local company personnel directors. They add, though, that the summer job market this year is not expected to improve greatly over last year.

"Our managers don't make their commitments until the end of May, but the picture is not encouraging, I'm afraid," according to Western Electric employment interviewer Irene MacLean. "It looks pretty grim. I have been accepting some applications from the first of the year, but I definitely tell the students when they come in that I can't promise them anything."

At Spotnails Inc. in Rolling Meadows, only about 10 to 20 openings are expected, according to Mildred Kobus, personnel director.

"We have traditionally hired a number of high school and college students each summer and we anticipate this year will be no different," she said. Applicants are usually encouraged to apply early since those who apply first are those considered first, she said.

THE MAJOR retail employer in the area, the Woodfield Shopping Center in Schaumburg is expected to have sales openings for the summer. Sears, Roebuck and Company, for example, sends a list of job openings to the Elk Grove Township YES service, which aids students in finding jobs. Many

'Will new wage law cut teen jobs?

by KAREN BIECHA

Higher prices and teenage unemployment could be results of the new federal wage law that will raise the minimum wage to $2 an hour May 1 and to $2.30 an hour by 1976.

Business officials predict many summer jobs for teens will be eliminated, especially in restaurants that rely on young, cheap labor to make a profit. Labor leaders, however, say the wage hike will not create an increase in unemployment.

"This is going to ruin drive-in restaurants in my opinion," said Larry Buckmaster, director of the Chicago and Illinois Restaurant Assn. "Other restaurants will raise their prices. The increase will have to be passed on to the consumer because so many restaurants are just holding on now because of high food costs. The bad part is that they can raise prices only so high or the public will say it is cheaper to stay home. So we are caught in the squeeze."

U. S. REP. Philip Crane, R-12th, called the new law "a piece of well-intentioned legislation that would have the impact of throwing people out of work."

Don Moy seeks liquor license

Don Moy, owner of the Don Moy restaurant in Rolling Meadows, has requested a liquor license from the city to operate a banquet facility near his Algonquin Road establishment.

Moy made a request Thursday to the license, police, health and fire committee for a Class A license to sell liquor. Moy said he plans to purchase a house on property southeast of his present location at 3201 W. Algonquin Road for the banquet facility if the license is granted.

The license would have to be created by the city council with final approval for issuance from Mayor Roland J. Meyer, the city liquor commissioner.

The committee will study the application request and forward its recommendation to the city council and Meyer.

City to decline fire department township grant

Rolling Meadows officials apparently will decline a $1,538 grant for the city fire department from Palatine Township.

The city council police and fire committee voted Thursday to sponsor a resolution before the council declining to accept the township offer and recommending instead that the money be used to reduce the township tax rate.

The money is part of a special fund set aside by the township to distribute federal revenue sharing money to fire departments in the township. The program was originally devised at the request of Palatine Jaycees in an attempt to raise money for another ambulance for the Palatine fire department.

Township officials ruled the funds would have to be available to all fire departments in the township and that departments would receive the money, upon request for it, on a per capita basis. Mayor Roland J. Meyer, who has been at odds politically with township Republicans for some time, has questioned the program and last week said the committee should consider if the city wanted to accept "a handout from the township."

The resolution will be sent to the full council at its next meeting.

Wheeling Village Pres. Ted C. Scanlon said Friday the second courtroom is "very essential to the area," adding "I thank Judge Sullivan from the bottom of my heart."

"It's something I've been long fighting for," Scanlon said. "We invited them out and showed them our facilities. I am a firm believer that if you are a resident of Wheeling and you get a ticket in Wheeling you should be heard in Wheeling. They shouldn't have to go driving all over creation to be heard."

Scanlon said the village police department would benefit in the reduction of overtime pay for policemen on court time and by permitting police to spend more time on patrol.

He added the paving required for additional parking facilities have been anticipated "for a long time." He said the village had intended to pave the area for additional parking and that the courtroom decision will merely bring about the work faster.

of the jobs will be available only to those 18 years old and older.

Palatine

The village public works department hires approximately 10 students each summer, but because many students return each year for their jobs, only three or four openings are expected this summer. Palatine residents are given preference in selection and students should apply now at the public works building, 148 W. Illinois Ave.

The Palatine Park District has positions in park maintenance, golf course maintenance, playground program leaders, swimming pool guards and recreation program assistants. Students should apply at the administration office, 262 E. Palatine Rd. Salaries vary with experience and job.

The Community Child Care Center of Palatine Township may hire some teenagers for summer positions in preschool day-care. For information, students should contact Arlene Alvis at 991-1030.

The Palatine Township Highway Department will have one or two openings for summer mowing and clearing. Applicants should have experience with farm and truck equipment. Apply at the office, 330 N. Smith St., or by phoning 358-6336.

The Palatine Jaycees are also exploring the possibility of setting up a program to help teens find summer work.

Rolling Meadows

The Rolling Meadows Park District will hire about 25 teenagers this summer for pool and recreation programs. There is also a junior program in which junior high and high school students under 16 can work several hours for pool privileges and other activities. These students will have preference in later hiring, according to facility coordinator Rudy Nelson.

Some jobs are also available each year with the city public works department. Applications can be placed at the city hall, 3600 Kirchhoff Rd.

Arlington Heights

James E. Monroe, director of buildings, grounds and auxiliary services for school Dist. 25 said there is already a list of 35 applicants for eight available summer positions. Chances for jobs here are "not too good," he said.

He added, however, that the district is looking into the possibility of a joint program with the village and park district to hire students for the Ecology Corps. The district would share the salary costs in hiring, with each governing body expected to contribute about $5,000. The program would allow 14 and 15 year olds to work in maintenance and cleanup projects as a type of "learning experience." They would be paid about 90 cents per hour and work several hours per day.

Schaumburg Township

The township YES program, a student job referral service, is currently distributing brochures and cards to employers in the area as well as residential areas to find house and yard work that might be available.

YES will also set up outposts in the high schools soon to sign up students who are interested in summer jobs. The service reports some good news for students in that it currently has more jobs than students to fill them.

Buffalo Grove

Village Clerk Verna Clayton said the village participated last year in the federally funded Neighborhood Youth Corps but is unsure yet if it will participate again this summer.

There is a possibility the village public works department will again be hiring about 10 college students for the summer if the village board approves the hiring. Applications, however, have already exceeded the number of jobs.

The Buffalo Grove Park District plans to hire about 60 students this summer, 30 of whom will be counselors at playgrounds and the rest to maintain swimming pools, work as life guards and operate concession stands. An additional seven or eight students will work on the park maintenance staff.

Des Plaines

The city will hire only about a dozen students, most of whom have had the jobs in past summers. The city park district will hire about 300 students for summer work but many of these positions will also be filled by returning students. Park district officials said students may still apply.

Wheeling

Village Mgr. George Passolt said interested students should be applying now for about seven openings that may be available in the public works department. However, most students hired are returning workers.

The Wheeling Park District will have positions for playground leaders, cashier and pool attendants. Pay varies from $1 to $3 per hour.

The district will also hire a tennis instructor, although all other specialized instructors have been hired.

For students 12 to 15 the district will offer an Ecology Corps. About 10 students will be hired to maintain playgrounds and parks. All applicants should apply now, advises Rich Haddock, recreation director.

Elk Grove Village

All 150 summer positions in the village park district have been filled. Pays will range from $1.25 to $3.50 per hour depending on the job and experience.

The Elk Grove Village Youth Employment Service will be placing students. Elk Grove Village is considering a student employment program to operate throughout the year. Boys are being hired in the streets and water department at $2.50 an hour.

Elk Grove Township also has an employment service. Persons interested in working through the agency can call 437-0300.

Mount Prospect

Rick Pyle of the village park district staff said the district will hire 70 to 80 high school and college students for recreation position. The jobs are expected to be filled by April 26. spots are filled; some 10 to 15 openings remain in the recreation position. The jobs are expected to be filled by April 26. Minimum pay is $2 an hour for general recreation, $1.75 an hour for swimming pool. Students work 30 to 35 hours a week.

Clearbrook aides to attend parley on the retarded

Representatives of Clearbrook Center, Rolling Meadows, will be participating in the 24th annual convention of the Illinois Assn. for the Mentally Retarded April 19 to 21 in Springfield.

Attending will be Guerin Fischer, president of the Clearbrook board of directors; Marc Savard, executive director; and Kenneth James, program director.

Discussion will center around how courts can improve care and services for Illinois' retarded citizens. Included is a discussion of the retarded's right to marry and have children, to vote or enter into legal contracts and the right to insurance, employment, adequate wages and suitable housing.

"This subject of the law and the mentally retarded is particularly crucial today," Fischer said. "There are many areas where the executive and legislative branches have failed in providing adequate services for the retarded and we must now begin exploring the possibility of turning to the courts."

Defensive driving course considered

A special defensive driving course may be offered soon for Rolling Meadows residents.

The city council license, police, health and fire committee is studying a proposal from the city police department to establish a special defensive driver training course similar to a course offered for police officers by the City of Des Plaines. Rolling Meadows Police Capt. Ralph Evans and Traffic Supervisor Andrew Herbert recently completed the course offered in Des Plaines.

Evans said the cost of training about 100 persons in the program would be $505, including the purchase of a film and necessary books.

The committee will take the program under advisement.

FREE CHECKING with $50 minimum balance

There's nothing "minimum" about a $200 or $100 minimum balance. That's why Schaumburg State Bank now offers No-Charge Checking with a minimum balance that's really a "minimum balance".

Now you can write all the checks you want... for free! There will never be a service charge, no matter how many checks you write, as long as you keep a minimum balance of only $50 in your account. This enables you to keep more of your money in one of our interest bearing savings accounts.

Will new wage law cut teen jobs?

Crane opposed the minimum wage increase and voted against the bill.

"The majority of those who will be out of work are young people and most of those are blacks," he said. "The minimum wage laws also have an overall effect of artificially raising the salary scale and putting pressure on to raise prices."

These dire predictions won't come true, according to Stanley Johnson, president of the state AFL-CIO.

"It has not happened in the past. In fact, it has helped local communities because residents have a little more money to spend. That actually helps to create jobs," Johnson said.

HE SAID THE new minimum wage is welcome but not enough to meet inflation. "We have striven a long time to upgrade these totally low paid people who are unorganized and subject to the whims of their employers," Johnson said. "We thought the increase would be equitable before inflation, but inflation has wiped out the increase."

According to the new law, signed reluctantly by President Nixon last week, the minimum wage will rise from $1.60 an hour to $2 an hour May 1, to $2.10 Jan. 1, 1975 and to $2.30 on Jan. 1, 1976 for most workers. The raise to $2.30 an hour will take longer for some workers, including farm laborers who will reach the maximum on Jan. 1, 1978.

More than 7 million workers will be covered for the first time by the new law, including 5 million federal, state and local employees, one million domestics and additional retail store, service industry and farm workers. Payment of overtime provisions will be extended to 8 million workers, including employees in hotels, restaurants, nursing homes and bowling alleys.

The federal law covers employees of businesses grossing more than $250,000 a year. Employees of businesses grossing less than $250,000 will also get a higher minimum wage thanks to a state law passed last year. The bill has not gone into effect because of a provision that the state minimum could not exceed the federal minimum.

UNDER THE state law, the minimum will go from $1.60 an hour to $1.75 an hour May 1, to $1.90 an hour on Jan. 1, 1975 and to $2.10 an hour on Jan. 1, 1976. State Rep. Thomas Hanahan, D-McHenry, sponsor of the wage bill, said he will draft a new bill that would bring the state minimum wage up to the federal level. He hopes the bill will be passed and effective by next January.

John Coulter, director of manpower development for the Chicago Association of Commerce and Industry, said documentation has shown that regulations like minimum wages are "not usually very intelligent and usually produce shortages."

"Prices will go up and employment will go down. It will have an effect on summer employees and employees in theaters, outdoor restaurants, dry-cleaning and laundries, and other small businesses. Employers will just try to get along with less people," Coulter said.

BUT ROBERT Genetski, economist for the Harris Trust and Savings Bank in Chicago, said he does not think prices will go up. Employers will mechanize instead.

"The businessman will hire only one worker instead of five and pay him the $2 to run the machine," he said, adding that teens will be affected the most by the wage hike. "If you look back in history you find that every time they raise the minimum wage the unemployment rate for teens goes up about 1 per cent."

"More significant is the loss of freedom," Genetski said. "You may have an individual who wants to work for $1.90 an hour and an employer who would hire him for $1.90 an hour but the government steps in and says no."

Most restaurants will be affected by the federal wage levels, Buckmaster said, because they gross more than $250,000 a year. There is no youth differential in the bill, which would provide a lower minimum wage for teenagers. Attempts to include such a differential in the bill had been

BUT A McDonald's official said dubbed the "McDonald's amendments." the increase in the wage will not affect the hamburger chain. "The wage increase will have no effect because our average wage is now in excess of $2 an hour," said Matt Lambert, McDonald's corporate relations director. "In fact, McDonald's has favored increases in minimum wages all along."

Prices at Jack in the Box, another drive-in restaurant chain, are expected to go up.

"I don't see the wage hike as a bad thing, but I think prices will go up," said Bill Maddox, Chicago area coordinator for Jack-In-The-Box. "We have to make a profit." He added that his company now starts people with no experience at $1.65 an hour.

The winners

Newcomers Pageler, Karras win election to seats on Dist. 54 Board of Education

Margaret Pageler and Esther Karras were elected to the Schaumburg Township Dist. 54 Board of Education in Saturday's election, defeating the two incumbents.

Mrs. Pageler received 408 votes and Mrs. Karras received 278 votes according to unofficial tabulations. They will serve a three-year term on the board.

Both incumbents, Adam J. Jelen Jr. and Sherwood Spatz, failed to be reelected although they came within 50 votes of Mrs. Karras. Jelen received 238 votes and Spatz gained 228 votes.

Each had served one three-year term on the board.

VOTER TURNOUT was light with about 1,300 votes cast. The holiday weekend and Saturday's fine weather kept many away from the polls according to Supt. Wayne Schaible.

Mrs. Karras and Mrs. Pageler, both of Hoffman Estates, said they are looking forward to their first term on the board and anticipate an interesting and challenging experience.

"It's a brand new area for me," said Mrs. Karras. "As I have said during my campaign, my knowledge of the schools and the school district will be beneficial to me."

Observing the total voter turnout, Mrs. Pageler said that she plans to work for better voter turnout next year. She added that she attributes much of her success to her supporters.

Although Miss Vinette J. Smith came in last with 146 votes, she said that running for the school board was a "real eye-opener and fun, too." Since only

Margaret Pageler

Esther Karras

"eight people knew about me when I started to run, I am pleased with the results."

Jelen said he intends to remain involved with the board and the school district.

Votes according to precincts are:
Precinct 1, Collins: Karras 9; Pageler 6; Smith 9; Jelen 5; Spatz 2.

Precinct 2, Twinbrook: Karras 40; Pageler 25; Smith 14; Jelen 20; Spatz 9.

Precinct 3, Hanover: Karras 30; Pageler 31; Smith 13; Jelen 34; Spatz 22.

Precinct 4, Hoffman: Karras 40; Pageler 57; Smith 20; Jelen 55; Spatz 8.

Precinct 5, Campanelli: Karras 24; Pageler 39; Smith 16; Jelen 28; Spatz 22.

Precinct 6, Hanover: Karras 30; Pageler 34; Smith 14; Jelen 12; Spatz 26.

Precinct 7, MacArthur: Karras 44; Pageler 70; Smith 13; Jelen 36; Spatz 30.

Precinct 8, Dooley: Karras 13; Pageler 40; Smith 21; Jelen 20; Spatz 41.

Precinct 10, Dirksen: Karras 14; Pageler 28; Smith 8; Jelen 10; Spatz 7.

Precinct 11, Link: Karras 13; Pageler 13; Smith 6; Jelen 7; Spatz 6.

Two incumbents, newcomer take Dist. 15 seats

Two incumbents and a newcomer won three-year terms on the Dist. 15 Board of Education Saturday. The elementary district serves the Winston Knolls subdivision of Hoffman Estates, parts of the Village of Schaumburg as well as Palatine and Rolling Meadows.

Everett Charlier, 26 S. Greenwood, Palatine, was elected to a second term; 10-year veteran member, J. Leslie Ehringer, 2 Stuart on Oxford, Rolling Meadows.

Robert Bliss, 533 Echo Ln., Palatine, was elected to his first term. Bliss, 39, is vice-president of National Merit Scholarship Corp., Evanston.

Candidates who were defeated include Howard Meadors, who was a Dist. 15 board member for 18 years, Warren Franczyk, Margie Kutz and A. Rosamund Von Mayr.

1,100 turn out for uncontested Dist. 211 race

About 1,100 people voted Saturday to elect two incumbents in an uncontested race for the High School Dist. 211 board of education.

Robert Seger, 919 Canterbury, Schaumburg, led the ticket with 1,092 votes and Jean Fiesler, 9215 S. Mallard Dr., Palatine, followed close behind with 1,085. Both were elected to three-year terms on the board. Last year 5,063 votes were cast in the Dist. 211 election.

Seger was elected to the board in 1971. He has worked as a newsman in Rockford and is now employed by a public relations firm in Chicago. He lived in Palatine for nine years before moving to Schaumburg six years ago.

Mrs. Fiesler was appointed to the Dist. 211 board of education last November to fill the unexpired term of Paul Hughes. She was an attorney in California for 17 years practicing juvenile and family law before moving to Palatine in 1970. She now works as a consultant on youth for The Bridge youth services bureau in Palatine.

The Dist. 211 board will meet April 23 at 8 p.m. in the district administration center, 1750 S. Roselle Rd., Palatine, to canvass the votes in Saturday's election to make them official.

Judge denies petition to reduce Jenkins' term

A petition to reduce the two-year federal prison sentence of former Hoffman Estates mayor Roy L. Jenkins was denied Friday by U.S. District Judge Frank J. McGarr.

Jenkins, 45, pleaded guilty to seven of 14 charges of bribery, conspiracy and tax evasion in an Oct. 26 federal grand jury indictment in connection with zoning granted to Kaufman and Broad, Inc. in 1968 for the Barrington Square development.

Reasons for the request for sentence reduction cited by Jenkins' attorney were that his daughter is in a hospital, dying, and his wife is on welfare.

Judge McGarr's refusal was based on the fact that he had taken "all factors into consideration" when Jenkins was originally sentenced, explained Assistant U.S. Atty. Anton R. Valukas.

Valukas said the judge told Jenkins he is serving "the absolute minimum sentence based on what happened out there (Hoffman Estates)."

INDICTED WITH Jenkins were five other former village officials, K&B and Northbrook attorney Bernard M. Peskin, counsel for K&B in the Barrington Square zoning petition.

Four of the former village officials are now serving federal prison terms ranging from six to 18 months and a fifth was released on parole last month.

K&B was fined $50,000 and a federal jury last month found Peskin guilty of seven charges. He is now awaiting sentencing.

Now a resident of California, Jenkins began serving his term in January in a west coast federal prison but recently returned to Chicago to testify as a prosecution witness in the Peskin trial.

In related action Friday, Judge McGarr denied a motion to suppress evidence resulting from the Peskin trial and agreed to postpone Peskin's sentencing date from May 21 to May 28.

Parks can't get emergency gasoline allocation delivered

The Schaumburg Park District's gasoline tanks ran dry at the beginning of the month because emergency allocations were apparently tied up in governmental red tape.

Park district officials received word last week of a state emergency allocation of 1,200 gallons for April. However, the district is not out of the woods yet because the designated distributor will not make a trip to Schaumburg from East Chicago to deliver about 500 gallons (all that the park district's pump holds).

Ron Dudley, superintendent of parks, said the park district's water tank truck might be cleaned out and used to transfer the gasoline if Mobil Oil Co. cannot be persuaded to deliver in the area.

Park district vehicles have been filling up at retail service stations. Dudley said the maintenance budget was taking a beating for paying about 60 cents per gallon.

No allocations for April could be made because of a specially designed determination system. Each month's allocation is based on the amount of gasoline purchased during that month in 1972. However, in April 1972 the park district took over the village's pumps and there was no gasoline purchased by the park district during that month.

THE PARK DISTRICT went through federal authorities to get about 17,000 gallons for 1974. However, the designated distributor Union 76 did not have any April allocations available, Dudley said.

Once May starts, the park district will be able to get allocations from Union 76.

The park board has approved installation of a 5,000-gallon gasoline tank at the new maintenance building, 610 Morse Ave. Kenney Tank Installation Co. was awarded the contract for a bid of $5,115.

Arson suspected at Blackhawk School

Hoffman Estates police are investigating possible arson in connection with a fire at Blackhawk Elementary School, 370 Illinois Blvd., late Saturday.

Responding to a 10:55 p.m. trouble alarm at the school, Hoffman Estates firemen discovered the bottom panel of a window in room 10 had been kicked out.

Police was the room "was in complete disarray" and combustible materials, including books and paper had been spread over the entire floor.

Damage was estimated at $2,000 by Deputy Fire Chief Ed Kalasa.

A Herald Staff report

High school and college students in search of summer jobs are apparently in for another rough year.

Employment prospects this summer are not expected to be good, according to a number of employment directors. Some business experts predict the increase in the minimum wage law authorized this week will make it more difficult for students to obtain temporary summer work. And if an increase occurs in the general unemployment rate as the summer approaches, it will mean an even greater deterioration in the temporary job market, a spokesman for the Illinois State Employment Service says.

"I doubt if it will be very good," the spokesman said. "I'm not very optimistic about what the prospects might be. We still have a good many people looking for permanent jobs and they would be the ones who would probably be hired first."

Some summer openings are expected in most companies and early application is being urged, even though in many cases job inquiries have already far surpassed the number of positions likely to be available.

LOCALLY, for example, the summer application deadline at Northwest Community Hospital was March 1. "We have already had several hundred applications," public relations spokesman Ann Finney said.

Although summer positions at the hospital are available each year, she said most are filled by students who have worked for the hospital in the past.

The Schaumburg Park District's summer swimming pool jobs were all filled last month. Students began coming in as early as November for the openings. "Kids are coming in 'til they're coming out of our ears," a park district spokesman said.

Summer job seekers headed for rough time this year

The same problem exists in many villages and cities where too many applicants have already applied for summer jobs.

THE SITUATION is not quite so bleak in the manufacturing and retail areas, according to several local company personnel directors. They add, though, that the summer job market this year is not expected to improve greatly over last year.

"Our managers don't make their commitments until the end of May, but the picture is not encouraging, I'm afraid," according to Western Electric employment interviewer Irene MacLean. "It looks pretty grim. I have been accepting some applications from the first of the year, but I definitely tell the students when they come in that I can't promise them anything."

At Spotnails Inc. in Rolling Meadows, only about 10 to 20 openings are expected, according to Mildred Kobus, personnel director.

"We have traditionally hired a number of high school and college students each summer and we anticipate this year will be no different," she said. Applicants are usually encouraged to apply early since those who apply first are those considered first, she said.

THE MAJOR retail employer in the area, the Woodfield Shopping Center in Schaumburg is expected to have sales openings for the summer. Sears, Roebuck and Company, for example, sends a list of job openings to the Elk Grove Township YES service, which aids students in finding jobs. Many

Will new wage law cut teen jobs?

by KAREN BLECHA

Higher prices and teenage unemployment could be results of the new federal wage law that will raise the minimum wage to $2 an hour May 1 and to $2.30 an hour by 1976.

Business officials predict many summer jobs for teens will be eliminated, especially in restaurants that rely on young, cheap labor to make a profit. Labor leaders, however, say the wage hike will not create an increase in unemployment.

"This is going to ruin drive-in restaurants in my opinion," said Larry Buckmaster, director of the Chicago and Illinois Restaurant Assn. "Other restaurants will raise their prices. The increase will have to be passed on to the consumer because so many restaurants are just holding on now because of high food costs. The bad part is that they can raise prices only so high or the public will say it is cheaper to stay home. So we are caught in the squeeze."

U.S. REP. Philip Crane, R-12th, called the new law "a piece of well-intentioned legislation that would have the impact of throwing people out of work."

Chamber blasts post office

by JUDY JOBBITT

The Hoffman Estates branch of the Roselle Post Office has been accused of "deplorable service and inefficiencies" by the Hoffman Estates-Schaumburg Chamber of Commerce.

The Chamber made these complaints in a letter addressed to the Postmaster General in Washington, D.C.

The Chamber also complained about the attitudes of employees and the "common occurrence" of mail being delivered to the wrong party.

It also questioned why the Chamber's paper, in which merchants advertise, is not delivered in the prescribed time despite the Chamber's efforts to cooperate with the post office. Because the shopper is often delivered late, the advertising that pertains to specific dates is of no value. "It makes prospective patrons angry when the dates of a promotion are past," the letter stated.

AT A MEETING held recently in response to the letter, Postmaster Edward A. Budzyn recognized that the post office has problems with the fast growth of Hoffman Estates and Schaumburg. He requested that all complaints be directed to him so that he can investigate them and attempt to improve them.

Al Jacobson, Hoffman Estates branch

Ed Budzyn named Roselle postmaster

Edward A. Budzyn was appointed postmaster of Roselle Friday by Clarence B. Gels, postmaster general of the Central Region.

Budzyn has been officer-in-charge of the Roselle Post Office since last September. He was nominated by the Regional Selection Board and appointed by Postmaster General E. T. Klassen.

Budzyn, 58, started his postal career in 1937 as a temporary substitute clerk in Chicago. After promotions within the postal service, he was named postmaster at Paris, Ill., in 1972. He served as postmaster in Paris until he was appointed officer-in-charge at Roselle.

manager, said he had never received any complaints from the Chamber regarding poor service. He acknowledged complaints from citizens, but said he tries to investigate these complaints personally.

Concerning the shopper's late delivery, he said that one delivery was delayed because the Chamber did not have enough money in its postal account to pay for the postage.

"We've had the problem of growing pains and inadequate facilities for this growing area," said William G. Booras, Chicago District Office manager. "We are trying to achieve solutions and there will be substantial improvement. You can look for it very quickly."

A COMPLETE staffing study is being made to produce efficient service in this area," he said. "There is no reason we can't meet the service problems," he said. "There's only one kind of service—first class. From this point on we're going to set aside all excuses and produce better service because we've got to improve."

The Chamber also questioned why the Hoffman Estates branch's new quarters were built with inadequate space and poor parking facilities. These problems have necessitated renting additional space almost one mile away.

It also said that both communities are already "well past 25,000 population each, not to mention industrial and commercial growth that exceeds most all Chicagoand communities. It would appear these communities are entitled to better services than merely branch operations."

Summer job prospects lean again this year

of the jobs will be available only to those 18 years old and older.

Palatine

The village public works department hires approximately 10 students each summer, but because many students return each year for their jobs, only three or four openings are expected this summer. Palatine residents are given preference in selection and students should apply now at the public works building, 148 W. Illinois Ave.

The Palatine Park District has positions in park maintenance, golf course maintenance, playground program leaders, swimming pool guards and recreation program assistants. Students should apply at the administration office, 262 E. Palatine Rd. Salaries vary with experience and job.

The Community Child Care Center of Palatine Township may hire some teenagers for summer positions in preschool day-care. For information, students should contact Arlene Alvis at 991-1030.

The Palatine Township Highway Department will have one or two openings for summer mowing and clearing. Applicants should have experience with farm and truck equipment. Apply at the office, 530 N. Smith St., or by phoning 358-8336.

The Palatine Jaycees are also exploring the possibility of setting up a program to help teens find summer work.

Rolling Meadows

The Rolling Meadows Park District will hire about 25 teenagers this summer for pool and recreation programs. There is also a junior program in which junior high and high school students under 16 can work several hours for pool privileges and other activities. These students will have preference in later hiring, according to facility coordinator Rudy Nelson.

Some jobs are also available each year with the city public works department. Applications can be placed at the city hall, 3600 Kirchoff Rd.

Arlington Heights

James E. Monroe, director of buildings, grounds and auxiliary services for school Dist. 25 said there is already a list of 35 applicants for eight available summer positions. Chances for jobs here are "not too good," he said.

He added, however, that the district is looking into the possibility of a joint program with the village and park district to hire students for the Ecology Corps. The district would share the salary costs in hiring, with each governing body expected to contribute about $5,000. The program would allow 14 and 15 year olds to work in maintenance and clean-up projects as a type of "learning experience." They would be paid about 90 cents per hour and work several hours per day.

Schaumburg Township

The township YES program, a student job referral service, is currently distributing brochures and cards to employers in the area as well as residential areas to find house and yard work that might be available.

YES will also set up outposts in the high schools soon to sign up students who are interested in summer jobs. The service reports some good news for students in that it currently has more jobs than students to fill them.

Buffalo Grove

Village Clerk Verna Clayton said the village participated last year in the federally funded Neighborhood Youth Corps but is unsure yet if it will participate again this summer.

There is a possibility the village public works department will again be hiring about 10 college students for the summer if the village board approves the hiring. Applications, however, have already exceeded the number of jobs.

The Buffalo Grove Park District plans to hire about 60 students this summer, 30 of whom will be counselors at playgrounds and the rest to maintain swimming pools, work as life guards and operate concession stands. An additional seven or eight students will work on the park maintenance staff.

Des Plaines

The city will hire only about a dozen students, most of whom have had the jobs in past summers. The city park district will hire about 300 students for summer work but many of these positions will also be filled by returning students. Park district officials said students may still apply.

Wheeling

Village Mgr. George Passoli said interested students should be applying now for about seven openings that may be available in the public works department. However, most students hired are returning workers.

The Wheeling Park District will have positions for playground leaders, cashier and pool attendants. Pay varies from $1 to $3 per hour.

The district will also hire a tennis instructor, although all other specialized instructors have been hired.

For students 12 to 15 the district will offer an Ecology Corps. About 10 students will be hired to maintain playgrounds and parks. All applicants should apply now, advises Rich Haddock, recreation director.

Elk Grove Village

All 150 summer positions in the village park district have been filled. Pays will range from $1.25 to $3.50 per hour depending on the job and experience.

The Elk Grove Village Youth Employment Service will be placing students. Elk Grove Village is considering a student employment program to operate throughout the year. Boys are being hired in the streets and water department at $2.50 an hour.

Elk Grove Township also has an employment service. Persons interested in working through the agency can call 437-0300.

Mount Prospect

Rick Pyle of the village park district staff said the district will hire 70 to 80 high school and college students for recreation positions. The jobs are expected to be filled by April 26 spots are filled; some 10 to 15 openings remain in the recreation position. The jobs are expected to be filled by April 26. Minimum pay is $2 an hour for general recreation, $1.75 an hour for swimming pool. Students work 30 to 35 hours a week.

Dead fish autopsy may be ordered

Autopsies may be performed to determine the cause of death of about 300 fish at the Schaumburg Park District's Terada Park.

Park district officials recently learned of a large number of dead carp at the pond on Schaumburg Road near Salem Drive.

Terada Park contains marshy land, which the park district has indicated will be a nature area.

Ron Dudley, superintendent of parks, said he wanted to have the cause of death found out through the village environmental health department. Dudley added that he was concerned that pollutants might be seeping into the pond and killing the fish.

However, Dudley theorized the carp might have died from suffocation. The carp might have been caught in the shallow pond when heavy ice formed on its surface, he said.

The fish apparently swam from Camp- anelli Lake (across the street) through a pipe under Schaumburg Road and into the shallow Terada pond.

Will new wage law cut teen jobs?

Crane opposed the minimum wage increase and voted against the bill.

"The majority of those who will be out of work are young people and most of those are blacks," he said. "The minimum wage laws also have an overall effect of artificially raising the salary scale and putting pressure on to raise prices."

These dire predictions won't come true, according to Stanley Johnson, president of the state AFL-CIO.

"It has not happened in the past. In fact, it has helped local communities because residents have a little more money to spend. That actually helps to create jobs," Johnson said.

HE SAID THE new minimum wage is welcome but not enough to meet inflation. "We have striven a long time to upgrade these totally low paid people who are unorganized and subject to the whims of their employers," Johnson said. "We thought the increase would be equitable before inflation, but inflation has wiped out the increase."

According to the new law, signed reluctantly by President Nixon last week, the minimum wage will rise from $1.60 an hour to $2 an hour May 1 to $2.10 Jan. 1, 1975 and to $2.30 on Jan. 1, 1976 for most workers. The raise to $2.30 an hour will take longer for some workers, including farm laborers who will reach the maximum on Jan. 1, 1978.

More than 7 million workers will be covered for the first time by the new law, including 5 million federal, state and local employees, one million domestics and additional retail store, service industry and farm workers. Payment of overtime provisions will be extended to 8 million workers, including employees in hotels, restaurants, nursing homes and bowling alleys.

The federal law covers employees of businesses grossing more than $250,000 a year. Employees of businesses grossing less than $250,000 will also get a higher minimum wage thanks to a state law passed last year. The bill has not gone into effect because of a provision that the state minimum could not exceed the federal minimum.

UNDER THE state law, the minimum will go from $1.60 an hour to $1.75 an hour May 1, to $1.90 an hour on Jan. 1, 1975 and to $2.10 an hour on Jan. 1, 1976. State Rep. Thomas Hanahan, D-McHenry, sponsor of the wage bill, said he will draft a new bill that would bring the state minimum wage up to the federal level. He hopes the bill will be passed and effective by next January.

John Coulter, director of manpower development for the Chicago Association of Commerce and Industry, said documentation has shown that regulations like minimum wages are "not usually very intelligent and usually produce shortages."

"Prices will go up and employment will go down. It will have an effect on summer employees and employees in theaters, outdoor restaurants, dry-cleaning and laundries, and other small businesses. Employers will just try to get along with less people," Coulter said.

BUT ROBERT Genetski, economist for the Harris Trust and Savings Bank in Chicago, said he does not think prices will go up. Employers will mechanize instead.

The winners

Incumbents Freund, Novy are easy victors in Saturday Dist. 57 school board election

Unofficial returns gave Novy 235 votes, Mrs. Freund 179 votes and Vogelgesang 82 votes.

The precinct breakdown in voting showed Novy winning 38 votes at Busse School, 35 votes at Fairview School, 98 votes at Lions Park School and 64 votes at Lincoln Junior High.

Mrs. Freund received 33 votes at Busse, 27 votes at Fairview, 64 votes at Lions Park and 55 votes at Lincoln.

Vogelgesang received 14 votes at Districts 23, 21 results on Page 5.

Busse, 17 votes at both Fairview and Lions Park and 34 votes at Lincoln.

ALL THREE candidates were endorsed by the Dist. 57 Caucus.

Novy and Mrs. Freund will both be serving in their second three-year term. Novy is currently board president.

No major campaign debates were fostered in the school board race, leading election officials to account for the very light voter turnout.

Novy and Mrs. Freund had both said they wanted to continue their roles on the board to carry on the work they had started in their first terms. Both incumbents said declining enrollment and decreasing finances would be problems facing the district in the next few years.

VOGELGESANG said he was not running against anyone or anything, but felt his candidacy offered voters a choice in the election.

The official canvass of election results will take place at the regular board meeting next Monday, April 22, at 8 p.m. at Lincoln Junior High School. Novy and Mrs. Freund will both be sworn in at the meeting. The board also will reorganize and elect officers for the upcoming year.

Caucus-backed Lurie, Smith take close victory over challenger in Dist. 26 race

Two caucus-endorsed candidates in the Dist. 26 school board race barely beat off the challenge of a virtual unknown Saturday to win election.

Sylvia Lurie, an incumbent, and Frank G. Smith, a two-year resident of the district, were the victors in the election while Gene A. Nelson ran a close third.

Unofficial vote totals give Smith 148 votes, Mrs. Lurie 123 votes and Nelson 115.

Election officials said the voter turnout was very light and cited the lack of big issues in the campaign as the reason voters stayed home.

Mrs. Lurie said she was very pleased with the outcome of the election but surprised at the close margin separating her and Nelson. She said the fact that she had to be in special board meeting Saturday rather than out campaigning probably accounted for her narrow margin of victory.

Nelson said Saturday he would not ask for a recount even though he lost unofficially by 8 votes.

ALSO RECEIVING votes in the election as write-in candidates were Marsha Lupton with three, and Jim Arnold with one. Mrs. Lupton, an incumbent, decided not to seek reelection after she failed to receive endorsement from the Dist. 26 Caucus.

Smith, who along with Mrs. Lurie was backed by the caucus, campaigned outside the only polling place for the election at River Trails Junior High. Smith passed out leaflets urging voters to support both himself and Mrs. Lurie.

The official canvass of the vote will be made at Tuesday's regular meeting of the school board. The board will also reorganize and vote for a president and secretary for the upcoming year.

Mrs. Lurie and Smith were elected to three-year terms.

Kucharski, Wold take Dist. 59

Less than three-quarters of 1 per cent of the estimated 31,000 voters in School Dist. 59 turned out at the polls as two new members of the Elk Grove Township elementary school board were named Saturday.

Paul Kucharski and Avis Wold, as expected, won their seats in an uncontested election.

Only 225 cast their votes at the district's 16 polling places. Kucharski drew 217 votes, while Mrs. Wold had 215.

A handful of write-in candidates, including comedian Bill Cosby received the rest of the votes.

Both candidates said they were anxious to begin their duties on the board.

The light turnout, even lighter when it's considered that 48 of the votes belonged to election judges, was blamed on the fact that two of the races affecting the township, Districts 214 and 59, were uncontested.

The highest voter turnout was in the candidates' own districts. Juliette Low School in Arlington Heights, where two of Kucharski's children attend, saw 22 voters, while Mrs. Wold's neighborhood school, Clearmont, in Elk Grove Village, saw 30 voters cast their ballots.

Police chief to come from within department

by TOM VON MALDER

The search for Mount Prospect's new police chief has narrowed to nine men with Friday's announcement by Village Mgr. Robert J. Eppley that he will select Bert Giddens' replacement from within the police department.

The announcement confirmed an April 8 Herald report that Eppley would probably reach into the local police department for the new chief.

Eppley said all applicants must have had "command experience." He said this would restrict his choice to among the three lieutenants and six sergeants. However, only three of those nine have applied for the chief's job. Giddens is resigning for health reasons effective May 17.

The village manager said he will accept further applications from members of the police command up until 5 p.m. Friday. Although Eppley would not name the three who have already applied, it is believed they are 20-year veteran Lt. John Savage, 14-year veteran Sgt. Ralph Doney and 11-year veteran Sgt. Joseph Bopp.

SERGEANT SERVED as acting chief for several months before Giddens' arrival. Doney is head of the police investigative section. Bopp recently completed a nine-month training course in police supervision at Northwestern University's Traffic Institute.

The others who, according to Eppley's criteria, would be eligible to apply are Lt. Fred Hedlund, Lt. John Homola, Sgt. Gerald Glascock, Sgt. William Broderick, Sgt. Edward Nastek and Sgt. Patrick Hallahan.

Eppley said his choice will be made after each applicant is given a battery of tests. The testing, which will involve at least five hours per man, will begin later this month. A stress evaluation test and a polygraph (lie detector) may also be used, Eppley said.

The appointment of the new chief will come early in May so the new chief will be able to work with Giddens for at least a week. The village board has tentatively approved a salary of about $21,500 for the new chief, Eppley said. Giddens' salary is $19,845.

Eppley said that because of his decision there will be no advertising for a new chief. He said he had had three years observation of the men in the department. Earlier Eppley had told The Herald, "We've got the talent within our own department."

The new police chief, as are all department heads, would be on probation for a year, Eppley said.

Mount Prospect woman critical after collision

A Chicago man was killed and a Mount Prospect woman critically injured in a two-car collision early Sunday on Wolf Road near Euclid-Lake Avenue in unincorporated Wheeling Township.

Pronounced dead on arrival at Holy Family Hospital in Des Plaines was Tyree Williams Jr., 48, of 624 W. Division St., Chicago.

Reported in critical condition in the intensive care unit was Christine Bubiselic, 28, of 1423 Park Dr., Mount Prospect. She was unconscious with head injuries.

Her husband, John, 31, was reported in satisfactory condition with a fractured pelvis.

According to Cook County Sheriff's Police, the Williams vehicle, southbound on Wolf, at 1:27 a.m. apparently crossed into the northbound lane on a curve and struck the Bubiselic car head-on.

Summer job seekers headed for rough time this year

A Herald Staff report

High school and college students in search of summer jobs are apparently in for another rough year.

Employment prospects this summer are not expected to be good, according to a number of employment directors. Some business experts predict the increase in the minimum wage law authorized this week will make it more difficult for students to obtain temporary summer work. And if an increase occurs in the general unemployment rate as the summer approaches, it will mean an even greater deterioration in the temporary job market, a spokesman for the Illinois State Employment Service says.

"I doubt if it will be very good," the spokesman said. "I'm not very optimistic about what the prospects might be. We still have a good many people looking for permanent jobs and they would be the ones who would probably be hired first."

Some summer openings are expected in most companies and early application is being urged, even though in many cases job inquiries have already far surpassed the number of positions likely to be available.

LOCALLY, FOR example, the summer application deadline at Northwest Community Hospital was March 1. "We have already had several hundred applications," public relations spokesman Ann Finney said.

Although summer positions at the hospital are available each year, she said most are filled by students who have worked for the hospital in the past.

The Schaumburg Park District's summer swimming pool jobs were all filled last month. Students began coming in as early as November for the openings. "Kids are coming in 'til they're coming out of our ears," a park district spokesman said.

The same problem exists in many villages and cities where too many applicants have already applied for summer jobs.

THE SITUATION is not quite so bleak in the manufacturing and retail areas, according to several local company personnel directors. They add, though, that the summer job market this year is not expected to improve greatly over last year.

"Our managers don't make their commitments until the end of May, but the picture is not encouraging, I'm afraid," according to Western Electric employment interviewer Irene MacLean. "It looks pretty grim. I have been accepting some applications from the first of the year, but I definitely tell the students when they come in that I can't promise them anything."

At Spohn's Inc. in Rolling Meadows, only about 10 to 20 openings are expected, according to Mildred Kobus, personnel director.

"We have traditionally hired a number of high school and college students each summer and we anticipate this year will be no different," she said. Applicants are usually encouraged to apply early since those who apply first are those considered first, she said.

THE MAJOR retail employer in the area, the Woodfield Shopping Center in Schaumburg is expected to have sales openings for the summer. Sears, Roebuck and Company, for example, sends a list of job openings to the Elk Grove Township YES service, which aids students in finding jobs. Many

by KAREN BLECHA

Higher prices and teenage unemployment could be results of the new federal wage law that will raise the minimum wage to $2 an hour May 1 and to $2.30 an hour by 1976.

Business officials predict many summer jobs for teens will be eliminated, especially in restaurants that rely on young, cheap labor to make a profit. Labor leaders, however, say the wage hike will not create an increase in unemployment.

"This is going to ruin drive-in restaurants in my opinion," said Larry Buckmaster, director of the Chicago and Illinois Restaurant Assn. "Other restaurants will raise their prices. The increase will have to be passed on to the consumer because so many restaurants are just holding on now because of high food costs. The bad part is that they can raise prices only so high or the public will say it is cheaper to stay home. So we are caught in the squeeze."

U.S. REP. Philip Crane, R-12th, called the new law "a piece of well-intentioned legislation that would have the impact of throwing people out of work."

Indian Grove School principal fired

In a surprise move, the Dist. 26 School Board voted Saturday to fire Indian Grove School principal Martin Rupe. The decision came only moments after the board decided to retain Park View School principal Tomkins Barnhart, who has come under recent attack from some members of the school's faculty.

The actions came at a reconvened meeting of the board held Saturday afternoon at River Trails Junior High. The meeting was a continuation of an executive session held Thursday night where about half a dozen teachers from Park View met with the board to express their dissatisfaction with Barnhart.

The board's decision to fire Rupe, 50, came as a complete surprise to the more than 30 parents and teachers in attendance who had come to discuss the Barnhart matter.

The board met for an hour and a half in executive session, at which time Barnhart and Rupe met separately with board members. The board then held a one-hour public forum in which parents and teachers were asked to give their views on the Park View situation.

MOST OF THOSE in attendance expressed their support for Barnhart. Teachers unhappy with the principal say he does not treat them with respect and many times goes over their heads to deal with parents.

Parents and several teachers, disagreed, however, saying Barnhart has given them quick action and shown unusual concern for students. Many parents suggested that the problem at Park View stems from teachers trying to run the school without supporting Barnhart.

Teachers opposed to Barnhart said they were not informed of the Saturday meeting and were not able to notify their forces to come before the board. Many teachers were out of town for spring vacation and Barnhart himself said he had to postpone a planned trip to be present for the meeting.

Barnhart said he found out from a parent on Friday that the board planned to meet on Saturday to discuss the Park View matter. He was allowed to speak before the board during Saturday's executive session before the meeting.

BARNHART, WHO HAS been principal since September, said he was not about to resign and would ask for a hearing if asked to quit. The response from the parents and pro-Barnhart teachers apparently saved the principal's job because informed sources said the board was prepared to ask for Barnhart's resignation.

"I'm very pleased with the support of the board," Barnhart said after the meeting.

As applause from the decision on the Barnhart matter died down, the board quickly took up the firing of Rupe by voting to send him a letter of termination.

The motion to fire Rupe was passed unanimously but board members refused to give reasons for their action. Supt. John Fridlund also refused comment on the matter.

Rupe, who has been principal at Indian Grove for two years, was not present when the vote came but did not express surprise when contacted for reaction.

"I thought they might be considering it and if that's the way the board feels about it, so be it," Rupe said Saturday. When asked if he knew why the board had taken its action, Rupe said "There are many things that could be said that I'm not free to say."

KAREN ZUCK, president of the Indian Grove PTA who attended the meeting, expressed her surprise at the board's action. "I'm not prepared for this, and three-fourths of the community are going to be shocked and want to know why it was done."

Board Pres. Lloyd Demel said the reason the meeting had to be hastily called was to meet deadlines imposed by law regarding notification of employment termination.

By law, Demel said, termination actions must take place by April 15.

The board will hold a regular meeting Tuesday at 8 p.m. at River Trails Junior High but members gave no indication that either matter would be brought up.

The Barnhart issue may not be dead, however, because a representative of the disgruntled Park View faculty, who number about half the staff of 21, said Saturday many of the teachers have applied for transfers or are looking for new jobs.

Summer job prospects lean again this year

of the jobs will be available only to those 18 years old and older.

Palatine

The village public works department hires approximately 10 students each summer, but because many students return each year for their jobs, only three or four openings are expected this summer. Palatine residents are given preference in selection and students should apply now at the public works building, 148 W. Illinois Ave.

The Palatine Park District has positions in park maintenance, golf course maintenance, playground program leaders, swimming pool guards and recreation program assistants. Students should apply at the administration office, 282 E. Palatine Rd. Salaries vary with experience and job.

The Community Child Care Center of Palatine Township may hire some teenagers for summer positions in preschool day-care. For information, students should contact Arlene Alvis at 991-1030.

The Palatine Township Highway Department will have one or two openings for summer mowing and clearing. Applicants should have experience with farm and truck equipment. Apply at the office, 530 N. Smith St., or by phoning 358-6336.

The Palatine Jaycees are also exploring the possibility of setting up a program to help teens find summer work.

Rolling Meadows

The Rolling Meadows Park District will hire about 25 teenagers this summer for pool and recreation programs. There is also a junior program in which junior high and high school students under 18 can work several hours for pool privileges and other activities. These students will have preference in later hiring, according to facility coordinator Rudy Nelson.

Some jobs are also available each year with the city public works department. All applicants should apply now, advises Rich Haddock, recreation director.

Arlington Heights

James E. Monroe, director of buildings, grounds and auxiliary services for school Dist. 25 said there is already a list of 35 applicants for eight available summer positions. Chances for jobs here are "not too good," he said.

He added, however, that the district is looking into the possibility of a joint program with the village and park district to hire students for the Ecology Corps. The district would share the salary costs in hiring, with each governing body expected to contribute about $5,000. The program would allow 14 and 15 year olds to work in maintenance and clean-up projects as a type of "learning experience." They would be paid about 90 cents per hour and work several hours per day.

Schaumburg Township

The township YES program, a student job referral service, is currently distributing brochures and cards to employers in the area as well as residential areas to find house and yard work that might be available.

YES will also set up outposts in the high schools soon to sign up students who are interested in summer jobs. The service reports some good news for students in that it currently has more jobs than students to fill them.

Buffalo Grove

Village Clerk Verna Clayton said the village participated last year in the federally funded Neighborhood Youth Corps but is unsure yet if it will participate again this summer.

There is a possibility the village public works department will again be hiring about 10 college students for the summer if the village board approves the hiring. Applications, however, have already exceeded the number of jobs.

The Buffalo Grove Park District plans to hire about 60 students this summer, 30 of whom will be counselors at playgrounds and the rest to maintain swimming pools, work as life guards and operate concession stands. An additional seven or eight students will work on the park maintenance staff.

Des Plaines

The city will hire only about a dozen students, most of whom have had the jobs in past summers. The city park district will hire about 300 students for summer work but many of these positions will also be filled by returning students. Park district officials said students may still apply.

Wheeling

Village Mgr. George Passolt said interested students should be applying now for about seven openings that may be available in the public works department. However, most students hired are returning workers.

The Wheeling Park District will have positions for playground leaders, cashier and pool attendants. Pay varies from $1 to $3 per hour.

The district will also hire a tennis instructor, although all other specialized instructors have been hired.

For students 12 to 15 the district will offer an Ecology Corps. About 10 students will be hired to maintain playgrounds and parks. All applicants should apply now, advises Rich Haddock, recreation director.

Elk Grove Village

All 150 summer positions in the village park district have been filled. Pays will range from $1.25 to $3.50 per hour depending on the job and experience.

The Elk Grove Village Youth Employment Service will be placing students. Elk Grove Village is considering a student employment program to operate throughout the year. Boys are being hired in the streets and water department at $2.50 an hour.

Elk Grove Township also has an employment service. Persons interested in working through the agency can call 437-6300.

Mount Prospect

Rick Pyle of the village park district staff said the district will hire 70 to 80 high school and college students for recreation position. The jobs are expected to be filled by April 26. spots are filled; some 10 to 15 openings remain in the recreation position. The jobs are expected to be filled by April 26. Minimum pay is $2 an hour for general recreation, $1.75 an hour for swimming pool. Students work 30 to 35 hours a week.

'Mom of the Year' nomination

Keep your fingers crossed this weekend for Jeanette White, 301 S. Pine St. She was nominated for "Mom of the Year" honors at the University of Illinois, Urbana, and now has been selected as one of 10 finalists in the competition. The winner will be announced at the school this weekend, Mother's Day.

It's quite an honor just to be nominated for the award when you realize that there are 35,000 students at the school.

The honor is no surprise to those who know her, however. Jeanette, who has lived in town for 22 years, is the mother of six children, has been active as a Girl Scout leader and as a Cub Scout den mother. Though a widow for the past five years, Jeanette has managed to see three youngsters through college and now has Patricia as a junior and Kevin a freshman at the U of I. Another youngster is at St. Viator High School.

Jeanette works at Keefer's Pharmacy.

MABEL AND GEORGE Laubenheimer, 115 N. Emerson St., marked their 40th wedding anniversary last Saturday, April 13. Daughter Beth Larson, in Evanston, had a party for friends and relatives to mark the occasion. About 35 people attended the affair including the man who was the couple's "best man" at the wedding. The Laubenheimers' two sons — Norm in Maryland and Peter in California — called during the party to congratulate their parents. The couple has seven grandchildren.

DALE JELINEK, 703 S. Crestwood, has been accepted into Northwestern University's Graduate School of Business Management after only three years at the school. He will receive his bachelor's degree in business administration as he enters the grad school to work toward a masters degree in management. Dale is a 1971 graduate of Forest View High School.

TOM ALLEN of 516 S. Pine St. has been named to the dean's list at Bradley University in Peoria, Ill.

Dist. 21 incumbents Crise, Lane retain board seats

Dist. 21 school board incumbents Jeremiah Crise and Jack Lane will retain their seats for another three years, after soundly defeating their opponents in last Saturday's election.

Crise and Lane, both of Arlington Heights, each received more than twice as many votes as their nearest competitor, Carol Karzen, 430 Regent Dr., Buffalo Grove. Mrs. Karzen was the only candidate endorsed by the Dist. 21 General Caucus.

The final tally showed Crise with 577 votes, Lane with 575, Karzen with 269 and Alberts Vigants, also of Buffalo Grove, with 100 votes.

About 819 residents participated in the election, compared to 1,000 who cast ballots last year. Voting was heaviest at Alcott School in Buffalo Grove.

DIST. 21 Business Mgr. Jim Gochis said the Easter holiday probably was the reason for the relatively low turnout. Many persons were thought to have left town for the weekend.

Three write-in ballots were cast with David Templer, Mary Claire Noonan and Stanford Solomon each receiving one vote.

Crise will be embarking on his third term on the Dist. 21 board. Lane is beginning his second term.

The school board will conduct an organizational meeting at 8:15 p.m. tonight at the administration building, 999 W. Dundee Rd., Wheeling. The board will canvass Saturday's voting, select regular meeting dates and times and elect officers for the coming year.

Incumbents Lace, Battaglia retain Dist. 23 board seats

Dist. 23 residents Saturday voted to retain incumbents Melvin Lace and Vincent Battaglia on the school board.

Unofficial totals showed Lace the leader in the race with 132 votes, Battaglia with 127 vote and challenger Robert Horna with 52 votes. One write-in vote was cast for Jo Elynn Claws.

Lace, 3 Garden Ct., Prospect Heights, was elected to his third three-year term while Battaglia, 2402 Northwood, Arlington Heights, will be serving his first full three-year term. Battaglia was elected to a one-year term last April.

Election officials said the voter turnout was light. Three ballots were found spoiled.

No heated issues marked the campaign. Lace and Battaglia said they were running on their records and wanted to see taxes remain low and communication between the board and the community increase.

HORNA, A TEACHER at Maine South High School, said he wanted to find out where the district was spending its money and lower the amount of tax anticipation warrants sold in the district.

Although the district encompasses Prospect Heights and parts of Wheeling, Mount Prospect and Arlington Heights, only one polling place, Anne Sullivan School in Prospect Heights, was designated for voting.

The board will conduct the official canvass of returns at its meeting next Monday, April 22, at 7:30 p.m. in the board offices, Schoenbeck and Palatine roads, Prospect Heights.

The board also will reorganize its leadership at the meeting by electing a president and secretary for the upcoming year. Lace is the current board president and has served in that post for five years. Lace and Battaglia will be sworn in at next Monday's meeting.

Will new wage law cut teen jobs?

Crane opposed the minimum wage increase and voted against the bill.

"The majority of those who will be out of work are young people and most of those are blacks," he said. "The minimum wage laws also have an overall effect of artificially raising the salary scale and putting pressure on to raise prices."

These dire predictions won't come true, according to Stanley Johnson, president of the state AFL-CIO.

"It has not happened in the past 14 years. It has helped local communities because residents have a little more money to spend. That actually helps to create jobs," Johnson said.

HE SAID THE new minimum wage is welcome but not enough to meet inflation. "We have striven a long time to upgrade these totally low paid people who are unorganized and subject to the whims of their employers," Johnson said. "We thought the increase would be equitable before inflation, but inflation has wiped out the increase."

According to the new law, signed reluctantly by President Nixon last week, the minimum wage will rise from $1.60 an hour to $2 an hour May 1, to $2.10 Jan. 1, 1975 and to $2.30 on Jan. 1, 1976 for most workers. The raise to $2.30 an hour will take longer for some workers, including farm laborers who will reach the maximum on Jan. 1, 1978.

More than 7 million workers will be covered for the first time by the new law, including 5 million federal, state and local employees, one million domestics and additional retail store, service industry and farm workers. Payment of overtime provisions will be extended to 8 million workers, including employees in hotels, restaurants, nursing homes and bowling alleys.

The federal law covers employees of businesses grossing more than $250,000 a year. Employees of businesses grossing less than $250,000 will also get a higher minimum wage thanks to a state law passed last year. The bill has not gone into effect because of a provision that the state minimum could not exceed the federal minimum.

UNDER THE state law, the minimum will go from $1.60 an hour to $1.75 an hour May 1, to $1.90 an hour on Jan. 1, 1975 and to $2.10 an hour on Jan. 1, 1976. State Rep. Thomas Hanahan, D-McHenry, sponsor of the wage bill, said he will draft a new bill that would bring the state minimum wage up to the federal level. He hopes the bill will be passed and effective by next January.

John Coulter, director of manpower development for the Chicago Association of Commerce and Industry, said documentation has shown that regulations like minimum wages are "not usually very intelligent and usually produce shortages."

"Prices will go up and employment will go down. It will have an effect on summer employees and employees in theaters, outdoor restaurants, dry-cleaning and laundries, and other small businesses. Employers will just try to get along with less people," Coulter said.

BUT ROBERT Genetski, economist for the Harris Trust and Savings Bank in Chicago, said he does not think prices will go up. Employers will mechanize instead.

"The businessman will hire only one worker instead of five and pay him the $2 to run the machine," he said, adding that teens will be affected the most by the wage hike. "If you look back in history you find that every time they raise the minimum wage the unemployment rate for teens goes up about 1 per cent."

"More significant is the loss of freedom," Genetski said. "You may have an individual who wants to work for $1.90 an hour and an employer who would hire him for $1.90 an hour but the government steps in and says no."

Most restaurants will be affected by the federal wage levels, Buckmaster said, because they gross more than $250,000 a year. There is no youth differential in the bill, which would provide a lower minimum wage for teenagers. Attempts to include such a differential in the bill had been

BUT A McDonald's official said dubbed the "McDonald's amendments," the increase in the wage will not affect the hamburger chain. "The wage increase will have no effect because our average wage is now in excess of $2 an hour," said Matt Lambert, McDonald's corporate relations director. "In fact, McDonald's has favored increases in minimum wages all along."

Prices at Jack in the Box, another drive-in restaurant chain, are expected to go up.

"I don't see the wage hike as a bad thing, but I think prices will go up," said Bill Maddox, Chicago area coordinator for Jack-In-The-Box. "We have to make a profit." He added that his company now starts people with no experience at $1.65 an hour.

The winners

Exceptional voter turnout marks reelection of Klussmann, Kazlauski to Dist. 25 board

Incumbents Joan Klussmann and Robert Kazlauski have been reelected to the Arlington Heights School Dist. 25 board in one of the lightest voter turnouts in recent years.

Mrs. Klussmann and Kazlauski retained their positions on the board by defeating independent Richard Hammerli at the polls Saturday.

The unofficial count Saturday night revealed that Mrs. Klussmann, the top vote-getter, received 342 votes, followed closely by Kazlauski with 340. Hammerli received a total of 210 votes.

Turnout for the Dist. 25 election of board members was one of the poorest in recent history, probably because of the Easter weekend said school officials. They estimated that approximately 450 residents turned up at the polls.

According to Dist. 25 records, last year's showing was 1,100 persons.

A BREAKDOWN of the votes showed that Kazlauski, who lives at 639 N. Kaspar, carried most of the votes in his precinct, with the polls located at Miner Junior High School.

Joan Klussmann

Robert Kazlauski

The lowest voter turnout was in Mrs. Klussmann's precinct where residents went to Rand Junior High School to vote. Mrs. Klussmann resides at 3 E. Canterbury.

Both Kazlauski and Mrs. Klussmann were endorsed by the Dist. 25 Nominating Committee, known more commonly as the school caucus.

Hammerli, who ran to challenge the caucus, was more than 100 votes behind both his opponents. He said, however, that he was not conceding defeat.

Hammerli of 931 N. Chestnut, said Saturday night during the election returns at the Dist. 25 administration building, that he will protest the election because it was "unfair."

"I'M GOING TO protest the election because it was rigged," he said. "I think it is unrepresentative because so few people turned out to vote."

"In apparently losing, I still won a moral victory by trying to get people out to vote," he said. "If I hadn't tried, we'd be lucky if 100 people voted."

Hammerli added that he will write a letter Monday to school administrators to officially file a complaint.

Mrs. Klussmann and Kazlauski will each serve three-year terms. The winners will serve the district along with other board members including Mrs. Edith Jolly, William Beck, Nicholas Raino, Richard Soby and Richard Schlott.

Mount Prospect woman critical after collision

A Chicago man was killed and a Mount Prospect woman critically injured in a two-car collision early Sunday on Wolf Road near Euclid-Lake Avenue in unincorporated Wheeling Township.

Pronounced dead on arrival at Holy Family Hospital in Des Plaines was Tyrone Williams Jr., 48, of 624 W. Division St., Chicago.

Reported in critical condition in the intensive care unit was Christine Bubiselle, 28, of 1423 Park Dr., Mount Prospect. She was unconscious with head injuries.

Her husband, John, 31, was reported in satisfactory condition with a fractured pelvis.

According to Cook County Sheriff's Police, the Williams vehicle, southbound on Wolf, at 1:27 a.m. apparently crossed into the northbound lane on a curve and struck the Bubiselle car head-on.

Daniel Wolff named to trial position

Daniel H. Wolff, of Arlington Heights, has been named head of the Cook County State's Attorney's General Trial Division of the General Criminal Prosecution Bureau.

Wolff, a graduate of Roosevelt University and John Marshall Law School, was supervisor of trial courts at the Civic Center.

Summer job seekers headed for rough time this year

A Herald Staff report
High school and college students in search of summer jobs are apparently in for another rough year.

Employment prospects this summer are not expected to be good, according to a number of employment directors. Some business experts predict the increase in the minimum wage law authorized this week will make it more difficult for students to obtain temporary summer work. And if an increase occurs in the general unemployment rate as the summer approaches, it will mean an even greater deterioration in the temporary job market, a spokesman for the Illinois State Employment Service says.

"I doubt if it will be very good," the spokesman said. "I'm not very optimistic about what the prospects might be. We still have a good many people looking for permanent jobs and they would be the ones who would probably be hired first."

Some summer openings are expected in most companies and early application is being urged, even though in many cases job inquiries have already far surpassed the number of positions likely to be available.

LOCALLY, FOR example, the summer application deadline at Northwest Community Hospital was March 1. "We have already had several hundred applications," public relations spokesman Ann Finney said.

Although summer positions at the hospital are available each year, she said most are filled by students who have worked for the hospital in the past.

The Schaumburg Park District's summer swimming pool jobs were all filled last month. Students began coming in as early as November for the openings. "Kids are coming in 'til they're coming out of our ears," a park district spokesman said.

The same problem exists in many villages and cities where too many applicants have already applied for summer jobs.

THE SITUATION is not quite so bleak in the manufacturing and retail areas, according to several local company personnel directors. They add, though, that the summer job market this year is not expected to improve greatly over last year.

"Our managers don't make their commitments until the end of May, but the picture is not encouraging, I'm afraid," according to Western Electric employment interviewer Irene MacLean. "It looks pretty grim. I have been accepting some applications from the first of the year, but I definitely tell the students when they come in that I can't promise them anything."

At Spatnails Inc. in Rolling Meadows, only about 10 to 20 openings are expected, according to Mildred Kobus, personnel director.

"We have traditionally hired a number of high school and college students each summer and we anticipate this year will be no different," she said. Applicants are usually encouraged to apply early since those who apply first are those considered first, she said.

THE MAJOR retail employer in the area, the Woodfield Shopping Center in Schaumburg is expected to have sales openings for the summer. Sears, Roebuck and Company, for example, sends a list of job openings to the Elk Grove Township YES service, which aids students in finding jobs. Many

by KAREN BLECHA

Higher prices and teenage unemployment could be results of the new federal wage law that will raise the minimum wage to $2 an hour May 1 and to $2.30 an hour by 1976.

Business officials predict many summer jobs for teens will be eliminated, especially in restaurants that rely on young, cheap labor to make a profit. Labor leaders, however, say the wage hike will not create an increase in unemployment.

"This is going to ruin drive-in restaurants in my opinion," said Larry Buckmaster, director of the Chicago and Illinois Restaurant Assn. "Other restaurants will raise their prices. The increase will have to be passed on to the consumer because so many restaurants are just holding on now because of high food costs. The bad part is that they can raise prices only so high or the public will say it is cheaper to stay home. So we are caught in the squeeze."

U.S. REP. Philip Crane, R-12th, called the new law "a piece of well-intentioned legislation that would have the impact of throwing people out of work."

Kucharski, Wold take Dist. 59

Less than three-quarters of 1 per cent of the estimated 31,000 voters in School Dist. 59 turned out at the polls as two new members of the Elk Grove Township elementary school board were named Saturday.

Paul Kucharski and Avis Wold, as expected, won their seats in an uncontested election.

Only 223 cast their votes at the district's 16 polling places. Kucharski drew 217 votes, while Mrs. Wold had 215.

A handful of write-in candidates, including comedian Bill Cosby received the rest of the votes.

Both candidates said they were anxious to begin their duties on the board.

The light turnout, even lighter when it's considered that 48 of the votes belonged to election judges, was blamed on the fact that two of the races affecting the township, Districts 214 and 59, were uncontested.

The highest voter turnout was in the candidates' own districts. Juliette Low School in Arlington Heights, where two of Kucharski's children attend, saw 22 voters, while Mrs. Wold's neighborhood school, Clearmont, in Elk Grove Village, saw 30 voters cast their ballots. The lightest turnout came at High Ridge Knolls School in Des Plaines, where a mere seven turned out to vote during the seven-hour period.

Police, fire commission hearing asked

Weber to face charges of misconduct

Arlington Heights police Sgt. Jack Weber was charged Saturday with conduct unbecoming a police officer.

Harold Dotts, chairman of the village fire and police commission, made the announcement after a 2½-hour meeting Saturday morning with police chief L. W. Calderwood and the commission.

Weber, of the traffic division, had been under indefinite suspension since late March, pending the Saturday meeting. He was allegedly involved in the taking of merchandise from a Palatine discount store.

A HEARING on the charges has been tentatively scheduled for May 9 or 10, according to Dotts. He said the exact date of the hearing will depend on the availability of village attorney Jack Siegel.

Weber, a 12-year-veteran of the department, has been suspended without pay until the hearing.

If the start of the hearing is delayed past May 13, Weber will be returned to the department with pay. Under state law, a 30-day suspension is the maximum a police commission can hand down. Weber faces dismissal from the department as a result of the charges. He could be returned to duty, if, after the hearing,

3 residents injured in two-car collision

Three Arlington Heights residents were apparently slightly injured in a two-car collision at Camp McDonald and Rand roads Friday evening.

Ruth A. McElroy, 33, of 418 N. Mitchell Ct., Pamela Niedermeyer, 18, of 104 N. Highland, and Robert Koch, 23, of 1209 N. Drury, were taken to Northwest Community Hospital, treated and released.

Mrs. McElroy was charged with failure to reduce speed by Arlington Heights police. Her car apparently ran into the rear of Koch's. Koch was stopped behind a third car which was making a left hand turn off Rand Road.

Dotts said the commission's action was based on a file presented by Calderwood after an investigation that was completed Friday afternoon.

Calderwood said the report was made by the police department at his personal order.

THE CHARGES were the first brought against Weber in connection with the reported incident involving theft from a store. No criminal charges were filed against him by the store.

Dotts said the hearing will be open to the public. Siegel will represent the village in the hearing, Dotts said. He added, "I assume Sgt. Weber will be represented by an attorney at the hearings, but at this time I couldn't say."

The commission has the power to subpoena witnesses and to take testimony under oath. Dotts said no witnesses have been subpoenaed yet. He declined to say whether any, other than Weber, would be called to testify.

Summer job prospects lean again this year

of the jobs will be available only to those 18 years old and older.

Palatine

The village public works department hires approximately 10 students each summer, but because many students return each year for their jobs, only three or four openings are pecked this summer. Palatine residents are given preference in selection and students should apply now at the public works building, 148 W. Illinois Ave.

The Palatine Park District has positions in park maintenance, golf course maintenance, playground program leaders, swimming pool guards and recreation program assistants. Students should apply at the administration office, 282 E. Palatine Rd. Salaries vary with experience and job.

The Community Child Care Center of Palatine Township may hire some teenagers for summer positions in preschool day-care. For information, students should contact Arlene Alvis at 991-1030.

The Palatine Township Highway Department will have one or two openings for summer mowing and clearing. Applicants should have experience with farm and truck equipment. Apply at the office, 530 N. Smith St., or by phoning 358-6336.

The Palatine Jaycees are also exploring the possibility of setting up a program to help teens find summer work.

Rolling Meadows

The Rolling Meadows Park District will hire about 25 teenagers this summer for pool and recreation programs. There is also a junior program in which junior high and high school students under 16 can work several hours for pool privileges and other activities. These students will have preference in later hiring, according to facility coordinator Rudy Nelson.

Some jobs are also available each year with the city public works department. Applications can be placed at the city hall, 3600 Kirchoff Rd.

Arlington Heights

James E. Monroe, director of buildings, grounds and auxiliary services for school Dist. 25 said there is already a list of 35 applicants for eight available summer positions. Chances for jobs here are "not too good," he said.

He added, however, that the district is looking into the possibility of a joint program with the village and park district to hire students for the Ecology Corps. The district would share the salary costs in hiring, with each governing body expected to contribute about $5,000. The program would allow 14 and 15 year olds to work in maintenance and clean-up projects as a type of "learning experience." They would be paid about 90 cents per hour and work several hours per day.

Schaumburg Township

The township YES program, a student job referral service, is currently distributing brochures and cards to employers in the area as well as residential areas to find house and yard work that might be available.

YES will also set up outposts in the high schools soon to sign up students who are interested in summer jobs. The service reports some good news for students in that it currently has more jobs than students to fill them.

Buffalo Grove

Village Clerk Verna Clayton said the village participated last year in the federally funded Neighborhood Youth Corps but is unsure yet if it will participate again this summer.

There is a possibility the village public works department will again be hiring about 10 college students for the summer if the village board approves the hiring. Applications, however, have already exceeded the number of jobs.

The Buffalo Grove Park District plans to hire about 60 students this summer, 30 of whom will be counselors at playgrounds and the rest to maintain swimming pools, work as life guards and operate concession stands. An additional seven or eight students will work on the park maintenance staff.

Des Plaines

The city will hire only about a dozen students, most of whom have had the jobs in past summers. The city park district will hire about 300 students for summer work but many of these positions will also be filled by returning students. Park district officials said students may still apply.

Wheeling

Village Mgr. George Passolt said interested students should be applying now for about seven openings that may be available in the public works department. However, most students hired are returning workers.

The Wheeling Park District will have positions for playground leaders, cashier and pool attendants. Pay varies from $1 to $3 per hour.

The district will also hire a tennis instructor, although all other specialized instructors have been hired.

For students 12 to 15 the district will offer an Ecology Corps. About 10 students will be hired to maintain playgrounds and parks. All applicants should apply now, advises Rich Haddock, recreation director.

Elk Grove Village

All 150 summer positions in the village park district have been filled. Pays will range from $1.25 to $3.50 per hour depending on the job and experience.

The Elk Grove Village Youth Employment Service will be placing students. Elk Grove Village is considering a student employment program to operate throughout the year. Boys are being hired in the streets and water department at $2.50 an hour.

Elk Grove Township also has an employment service. Persons interested in working through the agency can call 437-0300.

Mount Prospect

Rick Pyle of the village park district staff said the district will hire 70 to 80 high school and college students for recreation positions. The jobs are expected to be filled by April 26. Some 10 to 15 openings remain in the recreation position. The jobs are expected to be filled by April 26. Minimum pay is $2 an hour for general recreation, $1.75 an hour for swimming pool. Students work 30 to 35 hours a week.

'CDTP' spells vandalism, means money to victims

JOE SWICKARD

The abbreviation on the police blotter is "CDTP," meaning criminal damage to property.

Merchants, homeowners, apartment managers and the park district know it for what it is: vandalism. They know it first hand and they pay for it.

The Arlington Heights Park District, for example, expects to spend $12,000 this fiscal year to repair wanton destruction of park facilities.

"It's windows, walk lights, door panels, partitions, some trees and a lot of glass," said Angelo Capulli, superintendent of parks for the district.

BUSINESSES in Arlington Heights' central business district have had their windows smeared and broken.

Homeowners have had their lawn torn up by cars, lawn ornaments stolen and destroyed, rocks and bottles thrown through their windows.

Schools have had offices ransacked in connection with petty and sometimes major thefts.

Apartment buildings have lights and windows broken. Fire extinguishers are stolen or just emptied by spraying them around a hall or lobby.

"It's a spur-of-the-moment thing. Yes, you could say, 'It seemed like a good idea at the time!'" said Lt. Paul Buckholz, Arlington Heights police youth division.

"I really don't know why a lot of it is done. We get them in here afterward and they can't really say why they do it. The business district is well lighted and only a few blocks from the police station and they still do it," Buckholz said.

Both Buckholz and Capulli are admittedly puzzled by the often times aimless and pointless wreckage.

"They might be retaliating against some park director, but it's seldom that. They're milling and horsing around and then it's malicious, wanton vandalism. I don't know. It's like they're getting their kicks or something," Capulli said.

"Some of them are angry and striking out at something. A neighbor, for example, who gives them a hard time may get it," Buckholz said. "Or it could be breaking a street light or knocking down a sign or stealing it. They just don't think they'll be seen or get caught. They get it into their head to do it."

VANDALS are no strangers to the parks, schools, businessmen and residents. Officials say the acts often are an expensive whim.

Officials say the acts often are an expensive whim.

"They get to a certain age when it's hard to find programs for them. They just like to hang around the park. Maybe there's some beer or some pot to get their nerve up, to get daring. It's a problem. It's a real problem," Capulli said.

LAST YEAR, a village-park funded counselor program cut into soaring vandalism incidents at the parks. However, the night after the program ended, a rock and bottle throwing melee erupted in one of the parks causing about $2,500 in damages.

"It was down when the counselors were there, and then it shot right back up," Capulli said. "I hope they cut down on it this year."

The program has been funded again for this summer. The counselors will be in the six major parks every night to head off trouble.

Despite the general pessimism, Buckholz and Capulli said the actual rate of vandalism may be leveling off. They said the village is constantly growing, which could mean a higher number of incidents, but a steady, or perhaps lower, ratio of destructive acts.

"When I was interviewing for lieutenant, the commission asked why all the CDTP. I told them I didn't know the answer. We have it for years. We don't know the answer, the schools don't know the answer. If we had the answer, we wouldn't have the problem," Buckholz said.

"I don't know the answer. I wish I did. $12,000 is the salary of one person full time or a couple of part time people. Playground equipment — just so many things we could have done with the money we spent on vandalism. . . . A lot of places don't like to talk about it, advertise the problem. I feel the taxpayers should know where their money is going," Capulli said.

Appeal concerns 15 acres near St. Viator High School

Housing case decision not expected until year's end

It may be the end of the year before a panel of three federal judges hands down its decision in the Viatorian low and moderate-income housing case.

The Metropolitan Housing Development Corp. (MHDC) has filed a notice with the U.S. Court of Appeals seeking court-ordered approval of the low and moderate-income housing plans it has for 15 acres of land next to St. Viator High School.

But it will take the better part of the year to complete the legal paper work and get a hearing in court, according to one of MHDC's attorneys working on the case.

IN FEBRUARY, U.S. District Court Judge Thomas R. McMillen rejected MHDC's contention that the village's failure to rezone the Viatorian property to allow construction of the project was racially discriminatory.

The village board voted 6-1 on Sept. 28, 1971, not to rezone property from single-family to multi-family use.

MHDC's appeal brief is not due until June 10, after which time Arlington Heights Village Atty. Jack M. Siegel will have a month to reply. MHDC then has another two weeks to respond to Siegel's brief.

After these deadlines, oral arguments are presented to a panel of three judges. Normally, it takes three to four months from the time the last written brief is filed to get the case before the judges.

SEVERAL MORE weeks are likely to pass before a decision on the appeal is finally announced. Of course, deadline extensions could delay that decision even longer.

MHDC's executive director Salvatore Ferrera has said that he is prepared to take the Viatorian case to the U.S. Supreme Court, if necessary, to get the housing project approved.

The Village of Arlington Heights so far has argued successfully that rezoning the 15-acre tract would violate the integrity of the village's zoning ordinance. The area around the high school is developed almost exclusively with single-family homes.

Through the lawsuit, MHDC is attempting to extend the equal protection rights of the 14th Amendment to the area of housing, by arguing that low and moderate-income minority workers have a constitutional right to housing near their place of employment.

Village board to resume Harper campus bid talks

Discussion will resume tonight on Harper College's bid for a second campus at the northwest corner of Palatine and Schoenbeck roads in Arlington Heights.

Harper again will ask the Arlington Heights Village Board to officially designate the 146-acre site as reserved for educational purposes in the village's master plan.

The property is owned by the Mayo Foundation of Rochester, Minn., which has said it is anxious to sell the land and does not want that sale tied-up because of a second campus designation.

SINCE HARPER last appeared before the village board in January, when the request was continued until tonight, the college has won approval from two state college boards to go ahead with planning for a second campus.

The college does not, however, have final approval to actually buy the land or begin development of a campus.

If Arlington Heights designates the land for educational use in the master plan, Harper will have one year to acquire the site.

The Mayo property also is recommended as a park and recreation site in a long-range park development plan prepared recently by Arlington Heights Village Planner Joseph Kesler.

"Ideally this property will be jointly developed by Harper College and the Arlington Heights Park District," the report states.

WILLIAM J. MANN, vice president of business affairs for Harper College, in a letter to the village board, said, "We feel that the site is large enough to accommodate and meet the needs of these governmental agencies in addition to ours."

Also on the village board's agenda tonight is the adoption of a $14.1 million budget for 1974-75. The budget includes an estimated average village tax increase of $3.85, due to increases in employee pension funds.

The board also is expected to approve bids for the purchase of five police cars and asphalt and concrete for summer street repaving.

The Board of Local Improvements is recommending that the village award a $12,190 contract to Tremar Inc. to construct a sanitary sewer in the area bounded by Dundee Road, old Arlington Heights Road and the Arlington Industrial Research Center.

Will new wage law cut teen jobs?

Crane opposed the minimum wage increase and voted against the bill.

"The majority of those who will be out of work are young people and most of those are blacks," he said. "The minimum wage laws also have an overall effect of artificially raising the salary scale and putting pressure on to raise prices."

These dire predictions won't come true, according to Stanley Johnson, president of the state AFL-CIO.

"It has not happened in the past. In fact, it has helped local communities because residents have a little more money to spend. That actually helps to create jobs," Johnson said.

HE SAID THE new minimum wage is welcome but not enough to meet inflation. "We have striven a long time to upgrade these totally low paid people who are unorganized and subject to the whims of their employers," Johnson said. "We thought the increase would be equitable before inflation, but inflation has wiped out the increase."

According to the new law, signed reluctantly by President Nixon last week, the minimum wage will rise from $1.60 an hour to $2 an hour May 1, to $2.10 Jan. 1, 1975 and to $2.30 on Jan. 1, 1976 for most workers. The raise to $2.30 an hour will take longer for some workers, including farm laborers who will reach the maximum on Jan. 1, 1978.

More than 7 million workers will be covered for the first time by the new law, including 5 million federal, state and local employees, one million domestics and additional retail store, service industry and farm workers. Payment of overtime provisions will be extended to 8 million workers, including employees in hotels, restaurants, nursing homes and bowling alleys.

The federal law covers employees of businesses grossing more than $250,000 a year. Employees of businesses grossing less than $250,000 will also get a higher minimum wage thanks to a state law passed last year. The bill has not gone into effect because of a provision that the state minimum could not exceed the federal minimum.

UNDER THE state law, the minimum will go from $1.60 an hour to $1.75 an hour May 1, to $1.90 an hour on Jan. 1, 1975 and to $2.10 an hour on Jan. 1, 1976. State Rep. Thomas Hanahan, D-McHenry, sponsor of the wage bill, said he will draft a new bill that would bring the state minimum wage up to the federal level. He hopes the bill will be passed and effective by next January.

John Coulter, director of manpower development for the Chicago Association of Commerce and Industry, said documentation has shown that regulations like minimum wages are "not usually very intelligent and usually produce shortages."

"Prices will go up and employment will go down. It will have an effect on summer employees and employees in theaters, outdoor restaurants, dry-cleaning and laundries, and other small businesses. Employers will just try to get along with less people," Coulter said.

BUT ROBERT Genetski, economist for the Harris Trust and Savings Bank in Chicago, said he does not think prices will go up. Employers will mechanize instead.

"The businessman will hire only one worker instead of five and pay him the $2 to run the machine," he said, adding that teens will be affected the most by the wage hike. "If you look back in history you find that every time they raise the minimum wage the unemployment rate for teens goes up about 1 per cent."

"More significant is the loss of freedom," Genetski said. "You may have an individual who wants to work for $1.90 an hour and an employer who would hire him for $1.90 an hour but the government steps in and says no."

Most restaurants will be affected by the federal wage levels. Buckmaster said, because they gross more than $250,000 a year. There is no youth differential in the bill, which would provide a lower minimum wage for teenagers. Attempts to include such a differential in the bill had been the increase in the wage will not affect the hamburger chain. "The wage increase will have no effect because our average wage is now in excess of $2 an hour," said Matt Lambert, McDonald's corporate relations director. "In fact, McDonald's has favored increases in minimum wages all along."

Prices at Jack in the Box, another drive-in restaurant chain, are expected to go up.

"I don't see the wage hike as a bad thing, but I think prices will go up," said Bill Maddox, Chicago area coordinator for Jack-In-The-Box. "We have to make a profit." He added that his company now starts people with no experience at $1.65 an hour.
